My name is Joyce, a resident of East Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent calendar for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

Puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Joyce C.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Jane and I love in Los Feliz. How could you possibly not support open street events, the true only times LA feels like a community? This past week I was at Ciclavia and saw thousands of people getting to know their neighbors, engaging in healthy exercise, and small businesses getting foot traffic for once. NOT supporting these open street events is truly disgusting behavior.

That's why I'm asking you to pull Agendia item #13 (file 2026-0432) from the consent calendar for full discussion.

We need creative funding solutions for these optn street events. We need to make them permanent. We need to make them multi-neighborhood and 4+ miles. They need to be more frequent.

Jane

Ciclavia is an amazing event that connects people living in Los Angeles, as neighbors and residents, literally at street level. To consider not funding it through 2028 is cynical and short-sighted.

If you want people to engage with the city and it's residents, ENABLE THEM TO DO SO PHYSICALLY.

This benefits citizens, and local businesses, and leaves large businesses out of the loop -- THIS IS A GOOD THING.

Hello,

Please fund open street events like CicLAvia. It is important to me. These bring communities together and make great use of the public space.

Please pull agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda and come up with a solution to fund regular open streets programming. These should not only happen for mega-events.

Thanks,

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Randolph Ruiz, a resident of Santa Monica I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

The meager funding required to maintain open streets events should not be pulled, especially as Metro is voting to continue expensive and harmful freeway expansions.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Randy

Open streets events like Ciclavia are one of the most magical and meaningful events in this city. We suffer under car-dominated infrastructure every day except for these rare days when open streets show us and our children a glimpse of what could be.

Dear Metro Board Members,

As a resident of North Hollywood and long-time lover and rider of Metro, I was AGHAST to learn that Metro is considering pulling funding from the Open and Slow Streets Grant Program until the 2028 Olympics.

I cannot believe this is even being considered. The events that this funding supports are absolutely invaluable to the residents of Los Angeles. Just this week my family and I participated in our favorite open street event - CicLaVia. Every year when the calendar of events comes out, I write the dates out on our calendar to make sure we're able to ride our bikes and enjoy the streets. I have literally rescheduled other events to make sure we can participate in CicLaVia, because we look forward to it so much. Most often these are the only days I feel safe riding on the streets of Los Angeles. We all know that LA has "car culture" and cars rule the roads, almost 365 days a year. I say almost, because a few days a year when a portion of the streets are shut down, and the community is able to come out and enjoy open, free streets without the anxiety of a BMW buzzing by, are truly the best days.

I love open streets, riding my bike, and feeling safe in our beautiful city. Honestly, I would have thought that Metro would be putting more funding into programs like these. The number of people I saw on the Metro on the way to CicLaVia was much more than I see on a regular basis (I'm a near-weekly rider!), and I saw tons of people riding the Metro bikes. This is a program that benefits LA Metro and the community - honestly I can't understand why we're not having them MORE frequently.

So like so many other residents, I am BEGGING you, please, please --

Over the last decade, Metro built a tremendous open streets program in partnership with cities across LA County and organizers such as cicLAvia. These joyous events celebrate public and active transit, allowing millions of County residents to experience what a safer, healthier, more vibrant southern California feels like. Reversing this small but mighty program now would undercut Metro's goals for ridership and multimodal transit, as well as our region's air quality and climate goals.

Please

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running through 2027 and into 2028.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Sophie Nenner, I live in Culver City and work in South LA and I am writing against item #13.

Ciclavia and other large open street events are the only way for many people to enjoy safe riding in this crazy car city. Please find ways to continue to find these amazing open street events that are now part of the LA culture and make our city special. The Olympics should not take up all the budget. Think about the community, the younger and older community that can't just ride everywhere, please.
These events should be funded permanently and be part of the yearly budget at Metro.

I oppose Agenda item 13 (File 2026-0432) and I urge the Board to at least discuss it publicly by pulling the item from the consent calendar and find ways to fund them, forever hopefully.

Thank you for the support to the walking and biking community.

Respectfully,

Hi Metro Board,

My name is Jonah Kanner. I live in Altadena.

I am asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion. Open streets events are wonderful and wildly popular. Events that get 40,000 people to spend time outdoors, meet their neighbors, and have a positive experience with our city should be supported. They are also a huge help to businesses lucky enough to be on the route. Most importantly, Open Streets events help people understand the power of biking and transit to move around Los Angeles.

I think it stinks that the Metro Board is not funding Open Streets events in 2027. These events are awesome, and we should keep funding them every year.

* Please fund Open Streets events in 2026, 2027, and 2028. Let's not wait until after the Olympics.

* Make Open Streets events permanent! We need more of them.

* Please support Open Streets events with more than 4 miles of Open Streets. The events are most fun when they connect multiple neighborhoods and allow for long bike rides.

Thank you for your work on this issue.

Subject: AGAINST Agenda Item #13, File 2026-0432 — Open and Slow Streets Grant Program Update - Please Pull from Consent Agenda

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is [Your Name], a resident of [Your City/Neighborhood]. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Dear Chair and Members of the Metro Board of Directors,

My name is Michael Burbank, small business owner, and active lifestyle enthusiast. I am writing in the position of AGAINST Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432), the Open and Slow Streets Grant Program Update, and I respectfully ask the Board to pull this item from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, and defers any decision on a permanent program until after the 2028 Olympics. That gap does real damage. It puts organizations like CicLAvia at genuine risk, and it destabilizes the small businesses, vendors, and local workforce that the open-streets economy supports across the county.

These events are more than a good day out. In smaller and historically under-invested communities, they are often the only large-scale active-transportation programming residents ever see, and they move hundreds of thousands of Angelenos onto transit, bikes, and their own two feet, precisely the ridership and mode-shift outcomes Metro has spent more than a decade building toward. Walking away now, with the world about to arrive for the 2028 Olympics, undercuts Metro's own goals at the worst possible moment.

I respectfully ask the Board to:

1. Pull Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.
2. Direct staff to find a creative funding solution now, rather than shutting down the conversation for two-plus years until after the Olympics.
3. Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028, do not defer the decision.
4. Protect the 4+ mile, multi-neighborhood format that makes these events effective.
5. Establish open street events as a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line fighting for survival every budget cycle.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully,
Michael Burbank

Dear Board Members,
My name is Andrew Adams, I am a resident of Mar Vista and I am demanding that you pull agenda item number 13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda. Putting this on the consent agenda is a travesty, and belies how unpopular and shortsighted pulling funding from Ciclavia is.

Ciclavia is one of the few events that bring the whole region together, and it makes living here worth the insanely high cost of living. The Ciclavias around the county are chances to explore new parts of the count , and killing that for some short-term budget relief is shortsighted and foolish. It undoes all the good that the Board has done over the last decade, and removes the crown jewel mobility event we have.

I'm asking the Board to:

Dear Metro Board Members:

My name is Mary Daval and I am a resident of Culver City. I am asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-04320) from the consent calendar and agendize it for a full discussioin.

As written, the staff report leaves large scale Open Streets Events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028.

These Open Streets Events matter to not only the region's largest cities but also to smaller municipalities such as my own, Culver City. Ciclavia has taught Culver City residents to dream of possibilities beyond car-centric, high pollution, high anger streetscapes. It also has encouraged Culver Cityites to visit our neighbor in a wide variety of neighborhoods throughout the region thus drawing us closer together. It has taought us to see our similaties not only our differences.

I am asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to fiind a creative funding solution that will keep Open Street Events running rather than shutting down the conversation until the Olypmpics.

- Fund Open Streets Events through 2027 and iinto 2028--don't delay the decision.

- Make Open Streets Events a permanent, dedicated program.

- Protect the multi-neighborhood , 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Good afternoon Friends and Board Members:

My name is Timothy Aitkens and I live at [redacted]

I assume you know the purpose of this message (based on it's title), and will spare you the tediousness of reading a boilerplate email sent to me by various like-minded citizens.

Several years ago I discovered CicLAvia and have come to really enjoy the time spent walking through parts of the city that I otherwise would not visit. I also enjoy taking the suggested train or bus to the various CivLAvia starting places.

Please do whatever's in your power to keep CicLAvia's happening on a regular basis, and even consider expanding the number that happen every year.

Kind Regards,

Dear Metro Board,

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Dear Metro Board,

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Thank you,
Jessica Rodriguez

Dear Metro Board,

This will likely lead to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia, which bring so much joy and connectivity to our city. Dear Metro Board, CicLAvia is one of the best things that happens in Los Angeles. I look forward to all of their events.

Dear Metro Board,

So I guess this is why we can't have nice things?

Staff ignored the directive and as a result open streets events like CicLAvia will be reduced or eliminated. Please direct staff to find an alternative funding source to permanently preserve open streets funding. This is such an easy win.

Dear Metro Board,

Please oppose item 13 and continue funding open streets events including CicLAvia. CicLAvia is an iconic cultural event and one of my personal favorite ways to explore both new and familiar neighborhoods, learn about community organizations and government initiatives from the booths at the hubs, and meet new people. It would be a shame for events like these to be scaled back or, worse yet, eliminated.

Dear Metro Board,

I'm a regular Metro and Metrolink rider who recently attended CicLAvia in Hollywood. I got there by a combination of bike, bus, and subway. It was one of the best things I've experienced as an Angeleno — thousands of people on bikes and on foot, discovering Metro Bike Share, hopping on buses and trains, seeing what this city can feel like without cars dominating every street. It made me want to bring something like this back to the San Fernando Valley.

That's why this staff report concerns me. The Board directed staff to find at least $1 million to support open streets events between now and the 2028 Olympics. Instead, staff is telling local jurisdictions to fund it themselves through TDA Article 3 and Local Return. That's not what the Board asked for. It puts the burden on smaller jurisdictions that may lack the capacity or political will to prioritize this, and it practically guarantees events like CicLAvia get scaled back or disappear right before the world is watching Los Angeles.

Open streets aren't just fun — they're one of Metro's most effective tools for introducing people to the system. The program's own data shows a 10% increase in Metrorail ridership and an 11% jump in TAP card sales on event days. Cutting this funding in the lead-up to the Olympics is a missed opportunity we'll regret.

I understand PC25 is fully committed. But the Board set a direction and staff came back with a workaround instead of a solution. The Board should reject this recommendation, direct staff to find an actual alternative funding source that keeps open streets programming at current levels, make the program permanent, and make clear that Board directives need to be followed — not reinterpreted.

The 2028 Games are a once-in-a-generation chance to show what Los Angeles can be. Open streets are part of that story.

Thank you,
Matt Zebro

Dear Metro Board,

I'm disappointed that open streets events like CicLAvia could be defunded, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of beloved events that have incalculable benefits for our community.

Open streets are great for the county's physical, infrastructural and economic health, and expose Angelenos to things like a rapidly expanding Metro system, Bike Share and more. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent (hopefully expanded and more frequent), and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

I love CicLAvia. It is an outstanding way to encourage Angelinos to learn alternative modes of transportation through a city and to experience the streets of Los Angeles from a new perspective—outside a car. It is a foundational way for Metro to directly interact with and encourage communities to use public transit, bikes, walking which will in turn alter their beliefs and voting habits in support of car-free alternatives which greatly benefit L.A. County as we prepare for LA28.

Please do not reduce funding that is sure to eliminate or massively scale back events like CicLAvia. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and ensure enforcement.

Please — the open streets events feel just about as close to utopia / heaven as I get to experience on this earth. I have legitimately felt this every time I have participated in CicLAvia. To have folks all outside of their cars, interacting with each other in communal ways that are otherwise not possible apart from active transportation, to explore parts of the city that would otherwise maybe not be accessible to me — it's all so wonderful.

My son will soon be able to ride a balance bike, and I feel safe with even him participating — when normally, on some of the busiest streets, I would feel anxious about him riding on the sidewalk lest he veer off into the busy road with cars that could crush him. It's so much safer for all involved to not be around cars. I bike daily as my primary/only form of transportation, and it requires me to have my guard up constantly being around cars; I breathe a huge sigh of relief getting to bike on the road with no cars around.

If anything, I wish that this was available MORE often, and if I were really dreaming big, I would hope for more streets to be closed down to cars and open only to active transportation. It's such a better way to experience the city and be connected with my neighbors. PLEASE keep funding this wonderful event.

Thank you,
Rachel Moeckel

Dear Metro Board,

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

I go to CicLAvia almost every time and it would be really sad to have to cancel it because of budget cuts. Please find funding somewhere else.

Dear Metro Board,

I attended my first CicLAvia event this past weekend, and it was the first time here in LA where I've taken deep pride in the city's investment in quality of life through access to a program like this. I felt a sense of community, care for making the city feel smaller, and more accessible, and I was proud to live here.

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to Item 13 regarding the defunding of open street events. These events are essential for connecting Angelenos to public transit options like Metro Bike Share, buses, and trains, and they provide significant benefits to our county. I urge the Board to reject any funding cuts, direct staff to secure alternative funding sources to maintain current support levels, and ensure that open streets funding is made permanent. Staff must prioritize Board directives to protect these vital community programs.

Dear Metro Board,

I am a Echo Park resident as well as an incredibly passionate supporter of open street events like CicLAvia.
Open streets events expose Angelenos to Metro's bike share, train and bus services in a uniquely joyous way.
I personally have witnessed these events directly change the perspective of my friends regarding alternative methods of traversing our city.
They now are active supporters of public transportation and creating safe infrastructure for cyclists.

The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent.

Dear Metro Board,

I know that there's a lot that needs funding, but CicLAvia and other open-streets events are wonderful opportunities to get kids out on their bikes, parents out with their children, and neighbors to meet each other. As well as giving us a safe space to ride our bikes without worrying about cars.

Dear Metro Board,

My name is Julio Rodriguez and I live in the city of LA at [redacted]

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Thank you,
Julio Rodriguez

Dear Metro Board,

Thank you for your continued leadership in expanding transportation options that help make Los Angeles County more connected, healthy, and equitable.

At BikeLA, we believe mobility justice means ensuring that everyone—regardless of income, age, race, ability, or where they live—has safe, affordable, and joyful ways to move through their community. Open streets programs are one of the most effective ways to bring that vision to life.

Events like CicLAvia do far more than create a day free from cars. They introduce thousands of people to walking, bicycling, Metro Bike Share, and Metro's bus and rail network in a welcoming environment. For many participants, these events provide a first experience with active transportation and public transit, helping build the confidence and connections that lead to lasting shifts in how people travel.

We are concerned that the current funding recommendation does not fully reflect the Board's direction and could significantly reduce opportunities for communities across Los Angeles County to experience these benefits.

We respectfully ask the Board to reaffirm its commitment to open streets by directing staff to identify alternative funding that preserves these programs at current service levels while developing a permanent funding strategy for the future. Doing so will strengthen Metro's investments in ridership, public health, climate action, and equitable access to transportation.

We look forward to continuing to partner with Metro to ensure every Angeleno has the opportunity to experience the freedom and connection that comes from having more ways to get where they need to go.

Thank you for your leadership and consideration.

Sincerely,

Eli

Dear Metro Board,

As a UCLA student, open streets events are how I've seen friends and neighbors take their first ride on Metro Bike Share and their first trip on a Metro train. Nothing else Metro does converts people into riders as effectively. LA is at its best during open streets events, with culture and community on full display.. As I like to say, "Every CicLAvia feels like the best day of my life."

That's why it's troubling that staff disregarded the Board's directive on open streets funding, putting events like CicLAvia at risk of elimination or drastic cuts. Please direct staff to find an alternative funding source that preserves funding at current levels, make it permanent, and require staff to report back so Board direction is actually carried out.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Aly Mawji, a resident of Exposition Park. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Aly Mawji

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Eric Moore, a resident of Faircrest Heights. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Dear Metro Board Members,

I am Vanessa Velasco, a resident of downtown Los Angeles' Art's District. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

The staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

These events are heavily attended by the thousands, illustrating how much the greater Los Angeles region appreciates multi-modal options. These events expose participants to new aspects of neighborhoods that we often drive right through and encourages more transit ridership. It is also an active option that encourages physical activity and time spent outdoors. Delaying funding for these events will negatively impact communities, undercut Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals. Communities have shown they love these events and for these reasons, I ask the agenda item #13 be pulled from consent.

Thank you,

Vanessa Velasco

I'm asking the Board to reconsider to keep this program going. There are so many ways to try to raise money for the program. Merchandise sale and donation is a great way to support the program and NPR where the budget was cut. They are solely relying on private donation. Ciclavia is such a nice program. Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Rob G, a resident of the San Francisco Bay Area. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, and it punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics. That is a gap of more than two years before this is even revisited, and it puts the survival of the program at real risk.

I want to be clear about who this affects. It puts organizations like CicLAvia and programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets and Active Streets in jeopardy. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation. Open street events are for everyone, and cutting funding doesn't just shrink events. It erases opportunities for communities that don't otherwise get this kind of infrastructure.

I'm writing as someone who drives down from the SF Bay Area specifically for these events, especially the Heart of LA route in October, because it connects historic neighborhoods full of culture like Little Tokyo, Chinatown, and Boyle Heights. People come from all over for this. And here is the part that should matter to an agency like Metro: participants use your buses and rail lines to reach the routes. Time and again, a first ride to a CicLAvia turns into someone discovering how easy and enjoyable public transit can be. These events are a gateway to new riders. They help people picture a life less dependent on cars, which is exactly the future Metro says it wants to build.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts your own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics. These events also strengthen the economy, the social fabric, and the civic pride of the entire Los Angeles metropolitan area.

I'm asking the Board to do the following:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics.

- Fund open street events through Fiscal Year 2027 and into 2028. Don't push the decision down the road.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program rather than a grant line that has to fight for survival every cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4-plus-mile format that has made these events so impactful.

One more thing. It's hard to reconcile this funding gap with the fact that Metro is also weighing more than $100 million in freeway widening projects, which research consistently shows worsen emissions by more than Metro's other projects can mitigate. The priorities here are backwards.

Please pull this item from consent and give it the full discussion it deserves.

Thank you for your time and your service.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

Since moving here in 2011, my friends and I enjoy the feeling of safety and the freedom to look around us as we bike and /or walk during Cyclavia on a stretch of road where we are not competing with cars and trucks. We discover small eateries and parks along the route, the our huge metropolitan world is humanized as we start conversations with people we don't know who are also traveling on the Metro to and from Cyclavia.

Cyclivia and other open street events deserve dedicated funding to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

To whom it may concern,

I'm deeply concerned and upset that CicLAVia's open streets is potentially going to lose its funding. This program is so meaningful for LA residents and small businesses. I've attended four of these events, and they allowed me to make new friends, see parts of LA on foot I've never been to before, and feel like a bigger part of the community. Please reconsider the decision to pull funding.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Gerardo Rueda , a resident of Glendora C.A I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,
Gerardo Rueda

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my strong support for CicLAvia and the positive impact it continues to have on our communities throughout Los Angeles.

In a city known for traffic and busy schedules, CicLAvia reminds us what our neighborhoods can become when people—not just cars—are placed at the center of our streets. For a few hours, families ride together, children play safely, neighbors meet one another, and communities reconnect in a way that is becoming increasingly rare.

The value of CicLAvia extends far beyond recreation.

It promotes healthier lifestyles by encouraging people of all ages to walk, ride bicycles, skate, and be physically active. It introduces many children to the joy of riding in a safe environment and inspires adults to rediscover forms of transportation and recreation they may have forgotten.

Just as importantly, CicLAvia provides meaningful economic benefits to local businesses. Thousands of participants pass through neighborhoods they might not otherwise visit, stopping at restaurants, coffee shops, bakeries, retail stores, and family-owned businesses. For many small businesses, these events create valuable exposure and bring new customers who often return long after the streets reopen to traffic.

CicLAvia also showcases the incredible diversity of Los Angeles. Every event highlights different neighborhoods, cultures, local artists, musicians, and entrepreneurs, creating opportunities for communities to share what makes them unique. It strengthens neighborhood pride while helping residents and visitors discover places they may never have explored otherwise.

Perhaps most importantly, CicLAvia builds connections. In a time when many interactions happen through screens, these events encourage genuine conversations between neighbors, families, cyclists, pedestrians, volunteers, business owners, and visitors. Those shared experiences help create stronger, safer, and more connected communities.

Programs like CicLAvia are not simply recreational events—they are investments in public health, local economies, environmental awareness, and community well-being. They demonstrate what is possible when we create spaces where everyone is welcome, regardless of age, background, or ability.

I encourage community leaders, residents, and local businesses to continue supporting CicLAvia and similar open-street initiatives. Their benefits extend well beyond a single day. They leave lasting impressions, strengthen local economies, and remind us that vibrant communities are built through shared experiences.

When we invest in events that bring people together, everyone benefits.

Sincerely,

Javier “JP” Partida

Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028. Do not push this decision down the road. Find a creative funding solution now. Do not shut down the conversation for 2+ years until after the Olympics.
Protect the 4+ mile, multi-neighborhood format that makes these events so impactful for our communities.

Dear Metro Staff,

As a resident of Los Angeles County, I am writing in support of the many OPEN STREET programs you have funded in the past. I have participated in CicLAvia, Golden Streets, and many other such events such as the ArroyoFest. These programs bring together wide swaths of our community in ways that build harmony and understanding in our region. They open our communities for safe exploration without fear, and they highlight local organizations.

I have always been proud of Metro for being a driver of these programs. Please keep the running. Programs like this are successful globally, and LA has been a great example of this.

Dear LA BOS, Mayor and Metro Board Clerk,
Please support funding for CicLAvia and other open street events.

Open street events are for everyone.

Cutting funding doesn't just put organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. It erases opportunities for communities that don't otherwise get this kind of social infrastructure investment.

Dear Metro Board Members,

I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, moving a permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

As a participant in events by open street organizations like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets, I am concerned as this agenda item poses a real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. This effort to scale back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I respectfully ask the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running. We cannot wait and defer consideration until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years puts the program's survival at risk and lessens community engagement.

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Good afternoon,

I am a citizen of Los Angeles, and I am very disappointed by the Metro Planning and Programming Committee's decision to eliminate funding for open street events. Open street events encourage healthy behaviors by creating spaces to bike, run, and walk, and they help build community by increasing citizens' investment in the city. They also help cut carbon emissions by limiting the number of cars on the road, contributing to a healthier planet. Other major cities like Mexico City and Bogotá are able to shut down their streets once a week for these kinds of open street community events, but we can't have it in Los Angeles? It's ridiculous that citizens have to fight for the right to bike safely, access the outdoors, and breathe clean air.

I urge you to reconsider your decision and pay attention to the wants and needs of the community you claim to serve.

Sincerely,

Breah Dean

Dear Metro board,

I ride metro for roughly two commutes per week. If train frequency was higher and delays were less frequent (e.g. due to lack of signal pre-emption), I would hope to ride it more frequently. If metro board members experienced this every week, I would imagine these issues would have a higher chance of being resolved.

Given this, on Item #5 I believe Metro should: (i) require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, (ii) create minimum participation requirements (e.g. taking transit every week to work) for members with consequences for non-compliance, and (iii) adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item #55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Item #56 does not clearly benefit the interests of the majority of riders.

For Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

For item #27 I urge you to vote NO for diverting $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts.

Finally for item #13, the Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Thank you,
Geoff Fudenberg

Dear Metro Board Members,
My name is Naama Levy, a resident of Los Angeles, Village Green. I'm writing to ask the Board to fund open street events like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets — not let them go unfunded through 2027 and 2028.

We've done countless Ciclavias over the years all over the city. My kids have ridden bikes (and once even roller skated) down streets I'd never let them near on a day. It's one of the only times we see our neighborhood, and other neighborhoods, the way it could be, full of people instead of cars. They are a joyous events.
As written, the current staff report leaves these events unfunded through 2027 and into 2028, with any permanent decision pushed past the Olympics. That's the wrong direction. A city hosting the world in 2028 should be expanding events that get people out walking, biking, and using transit, not letting them go dark for two-plus years right before then.
I'm asking the Board to:
Fund open street events now, through 2027 and into 2028, don't delay the decision!
Make this a permanent, dedicated program instead of a grant line competing for survival every cycle.
Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that makes these events work.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Kelly Ocampo and I'm a resident of San Gabriel. Please pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent calendar for full discussion.

Over the last decade, Metro built a tremendous open streets program in partnership with cities across LA County and organizers such as cicLAvia. These joyous events celebrate public and active transit, allowing millions of County residents to experience what a safer, healthier, more vibrant southern California feels like. Reversing this small but mighty program now would undercut Metro's goals for ridership and multimodal transit, as well as our region's air quality and climate goals.

Please

Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running through 2027 and into 2028.
Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Kelly

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Yvett Landeros, a resident of Northridge. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program’s survival at risk

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don’t delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Samantha Chastang. I live in Highland Park, work in Downtown Los Angeles, commute across the city, and regularly use Metro and active transportation. This funding decision directly affects my daily life, and my own and my family's personal connection to our city. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

For me, events like CicLAvia are much more than recreational outings. They allow my family to experience Los Angeles in a way that is safe, welcoming, and connected. They encourage us to ride Metro, explore neighborhoods we might not otherwise visit, and support local businesses along the route. They remind us what a more connected, people-centered Los Angeles can look like.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

As both a resident and a daily commuter, I know firsthand that these events strengthen our transit system, support local businesses, and create lasting connections between communities. I hope you'll ensure they remain part of Los Angeles' future.

My family has discovered neighborhoods we'd never visited before because of CicLAvia, and CicLAvia gave us the confidence to try biking to destinations we now reach by Metro and bike.

Dear Metro Board Members,

I respectfully ask you to preserve funding for Open Streets events.

As a community, we have spent years working toward a cleaner, healthier, and more sustainable future. Open Streets has been one of the most visible and successful examples of those efforts in action. These events encourage people to leave their cars at home, choose active transportation, and experience our city in a way that promotes cleaner air, healthier lifestyles, and stronger neighborhoods.

More importantly, Open Streets has produced measurable results. It has increased participation in walking and cycling, reduced vehicle trips during events, and provided meaningful data that demonstrates progress toward our environmental and sustainability goals. These events aren't just celebrations—they are evidence that thoughtful public investment can change behavior and improve our community.

I recognize that balancing a budget requires difficult choices. Every dollar matters, and I appreciate the responsibility you have to prioritize limited resources. But eliminating funding for Open Streets would not simply be a budget reduction—it would represent a significant step backward. It would undo years of momentum, investment, and public engagement that our communities have worked hard to build.

I also urge you to remember who these programs are meant to serve. While international events like the World Cup and the Olympics are exciting opportunities, our public investments should first and foremost benefit the people who live here every day. Community programs should not be reduced or postponed simply to accommodate visitors or showcase our region to tourists. If we sacrifice successful neighborhood programs in favor of one-time international events, we risk undermining the very communities that make our region worth visiting in the first place.

When we have already demonstrated success, the answer shouldn't be to walk away from that progress. It should be to protect and build upon it. The cost of losing that momentum may ultimately be greater than the savings achieved today.

Please continue investing in Open Streets so we don't lose the progress we've worked so hard to achieve. Let's continue investing in the people who call this community home—not just in the visitors who pass through it.

Thank you for your time and consideration. Please pull this from the agenda.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is George Hewitt, a resident of Echo Park in Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As a side note, I'm furious that Metro is continuing to widen highways and undermine their own transit projects by diverting resources and attention from the solutions that we've seen work all over the world.

I'm asking the Board to:
Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Karina Rico. I am a single mother raising a teenager and have proudly called Alhambra and the San Gabriel Valley home for more than 12 years. I am writing to respectfully ask that you pull Agenda Item #13, File 2026-0432, from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open streets events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, while postponing any decision about a permanent program until after the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games. A funding gap of more than two years puts organizations such as CicLAvia and programs such as ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets and Active Streets at serious risk.

These events are far more than recreational activities. They build community, encourage residents to appreciate their cities and neighborhoods, and give people a much-needed opportunity to pause, step away from the constant demands of work and technology, enjoy the outdoors, and connect with one another.

Every CicLAvia, ArroyoFest, and ActiveSGV event I have attended has been among the best days of the year. There is something incredibly meaningful about seeing families, children, seniors, cyclists, pedestrians, and neighbors of all backgrounds peacefully sharing public space. These events create joy, support physical and mental well-being, and give our communities something positive and inclusive to look forward to.

They are especially important for smaller cities throughout the San Gabriel Valley, where they bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that may otherwise receive limited investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Cities around the world regularly create space for people to experience their communities in this way. We are not asking Metro to begin something new. We are asking the agency to protect and build upon a successful movement it has helped create over the past decade.

Walking this effort back now would undermine Metro's own ridership, mobility, sustainability, and multimodal transportation goals, especially as our region prepares to welcome the world in 2028.

I respectfully ask the Board to:

- Direct staff to identify a creative funding solution that keeps open streets events operating now, rather than postponing the conversation until after the Olympics.
- Fund open streets events throughout 2027 and into 2028 without creating a damaging interruption in programming.
- Establish open streets events as a permanent, dedicated Metro program rather than a grant category that must compete for survival during every funding cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, four-mile-or-longer format that has made these events so successful and impactful throughout the region.

Please pull Agenda Item #13 from the consent agenda and allow this important issue to receive the public discussion it deserves. We must maintain what has already been built so that residents can continue embracing the beauty of our neighborhoods and the camaraderie of our communities.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Karina Rico

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Libertie Kiing, a resident of Hollywood, Los Angeles. I'm asking you today to please pull Agenda Item #13 (which is File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

The staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

Open street organizations like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events create a real sense of community and are part of creating a liveable city in terms of both mental and physical health. Events like CicLAvia allow the city to feel smaller, friendlier, communal. Especially for those of us that must use cars to travel, having the opportunity to run, walk, cycle, board creates vibrancy in our city. It creates safety and joy for families and residents alike.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Taking it back now turns on Metro's own ridership and goals, as we prepare to host the world for the Olympics.

Today, I am asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

(Please Pull from Consent Agenda)

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Tom Beyer. I am a resident of Los Feliz. I urge you to PULL AGENDA ITEM NO. 13 (File #2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion, please!

I've enjoyed half a dozen CicLAvia events in Hollywood, W. Hollywood, Compton, and elsewhere, and I find them to be one of the most wonderful and well-attended community events of the year!

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.
This risks us losing CicLAvia and other programs like it. That would be tragic. The benevolence and warmth and joy of these events are so vital to our society in Los Angeles.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Tom Beyer

To the Metro Board,

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

These events are important to me as cities for centuries were made for people to walk around. Open street events allow us to experience how humans have historically lived in areas that are not always practical to pedestrianize. They foster community in a city and region that can at times feel separated and lonely.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Jamie Alarcon a resident of North Hollywood. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Honorable Metro Board of Directors,

My name is Nik Roybal, and I am a West Hollywood resident writing to urge you to remove Item #13 from the Consent Calendar at tomorrow's Regular Board Meeting and to reject the Planning and Programming Committee's recommendation to eliminate future funding for open street events.

West Hollywood is one of the most walkable, transit-connected small cities in the County, and I've spent much of this year at our own City Council pushing for policy that matches that identity: supporting transit-oriented development near the future K Line Fairfax/Santa Monica station, opposing surveillance infrastructure that chills public space, and advocating for the street life (vendors, pedestrians, cyclists) that makes a city like ours function without a car. Open street events are a direct extension of that same vision, at regional scale. CicLAvia has activated WeHo's own streets before, and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets does the same for the San Gabriel Valley. Both give residents car-free access to public space and a low-barrier, joyful introduction to transit and active mobility that no amount of signage or planning documents can replicate.

Cutting this funding doesn't just end a handful of events. It erases one of the only forms of social infrastructure investment that reaches communities Metro's larger capital projects often bypass, and it runs counter to the exact behavior change (fewer car trips, more comfort with transit and active streets) that Metro's own mobility goals depend on.

A decision this consequential, on which Supervisor Horvath cast the lone dissenting vote at Committee, deserves full public discussion at the Board level, not a quiet approval buried on a consent agenda. I ask that you:

1. Pull Item #13 from the Consent Calendar for individual consideration and public comment, and
2. Vote to preserve, not eliminate, dedicated funding for open street events in future funding cycles.

Thank you for your time and for representing the interests of Los Angeles County residents who rely on and love these programs.

Respectfully,

Nik Roybal

Subject: AGAINST Agenda Item #13, File 2026-0432 — Open and Slow Streets Grant Program Update – Please Pull from Consent Calendar

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Rosa Rodriguez and I'm a resident of El Monte Please pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent calendar for full discussion.

Over the last decade, Metro built a tremendous open streets program in partnership with cities across LA County and organizers such as cicLAvia. These joyous events celebrate public and active transit, allowing millions of County residents to experience what a safer, healthier, more vibrant southern California feels like. Reversing this small but mighty program now would undercut Metro's goals for ridership and multimodal transit, as well as our region's air quality and climate goals.

Please

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running through 2027 and into 2028.

Dear Metro Staff,

Clawing back funding for open streets events such as CicLaVia would be a massive & short-sighted mistake.

Events like these are great for all ages. They build community, encourage physical activity, and support local businesses on the routes.

Cities around the world, like Mexico City & Rio De Janeiro, run these events every weekend. The least LA can do is continue to run them several times a year. Please reconsider gutting such an impactful program.

I am writing to ask Metro to NOT stop funding for open street events such as Ciclavia.

These events bring the LA community together and allow us to visit neighborhoods on the street level that we may not do otherwise. We have participated in almost every Ciclavia event and will be devastated if you defund these events.

Good afternoon,

I am emailing in order to communicate my support for LAC open street events. I have attended Ciclavia in Wilmington with my family and have greatly enjoyed it.
Bicycing on a safe street is a rare opportunity that we should encourage and budget for.
Increasing neighborhood participation and wellness can majorly impact the community's health.
I pray LAC will budget for open street events.

The first riders stepped on and off the trains shortly after noon at Wilshire/La Brea, Wilshire/Fairfax and Wilshire/La Cienega, often to applause from excited crowds of people waiting to board.

Mary, a West Hollywood resident, her dog Sophie and her sister Judy – who was visiting from Florida – were the first passengers to step aboard the trains heading eastbound at Wilshire/Fairfax. The trio beamed with excitement in anticipation of riding the train to Wilshire/Western, then taking it back to Wilshire/Fairfax.

"My sister's the best tour guide," said Judy, whose hair was fittingly dyed purple, the designated color of the D Line.

Hello Metro Board Members,

I am a resident of Exposition Park Neighborhood, and I believe in the power of Open and Slow Streets. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda.

Preparations for the 2028 Olympics once again appear to be overshadowing the needs of Los Angeles area residents, this time with long-term negative results. If you withhold funding now for Open and Slow Streets, it will be that much harder to renew the program once the tourists leave. You know it, and I know it: two years of neglect is likely to kill the program outright.

Open and Slow Streets is such a popular program. Once a month, walkers, bicyclists, scooterers, skaters, and transit riders prove that Los Angeles doesn't have to suffocate in traffic and smog -- we can choose a better way!

Here is what I ask:

- Fund Open and Slow Streets events through the next two years
- Make Open and Slow Streets events a permanent program with consistent funding instead of forcing events to compete for survival each grant cycle
- Retain the popular, successful format connecting multiple neighborhoods over a four-mile stretch

Metro has been building enthusiasm for active and public transportation with Open and Slow Streets for 10 years. Please don't undercut your own progress! Don't hang us full-time Angelenos out to dry for the sake of a month of tourists!

Please pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from consent.

Thank you,

Liz Harris

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Ed McCloskey , a happy contributing resident in Westwood. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

CicLAvia has been wonderful. i've participated in more than half of them; often with friends who don't live in LA proper. We generally have lunch at an unknown restaurant to us and we find many other things to do later from biking by them. For example, at this past Sunday's CicLAVia we introduced two Angelenos to the Barnsdale Art Park who never heard of it. All four of us will be going there in August.

CicLAVia is a terrific way to learn about neighborhoods and to bring people together. It can't be put on hold for two years. Please pull consent from the agenda..

Many thanks,

Ed McCloskey

Dear Metro Board Members,
My name is Erika Baltazar, a resident of Los Angeles/Echo Park. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.
As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.
This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.
Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.
I'm asking the Board to:
Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

I love CicLAvia and have used it to discover neighborhoods all over the region at ground level .When they are close we cycle there. When they are a bit further we take Metro to make it a car free day.

As an avid cyclist in the Los Angeles area I am saddened to hear that you are considering cutting funding for open street events. These events are very important to bring awareness to cyclists and pedestrians. We all know that production and cyclist fatalities are an issue in their city. A few months ago I attended a memorial event for a soon to be mother and her unborn baby who were both killed while the mother was riding a bike in Playa Del Rey neighborhood. On a fun note open street events bring people together and help showcase little gems in each neighborhood around Los Angeles. They are win for participants and businesses.

Hi,

I have two comments.

Have Metro Board composed of people who are not Metro users is not serving the community. Metro Board that only sometimes rides the bus and doesn't use the bus as their main form of transportation is disservice to the bus riders who have no choice but to take the bus. Having one person on the board is a good step but I would like to see a majority of the board members comprised of people who don't own a car.

Please fund open streets events like CicLAvia. I am a director of Bici Libre, one of the bike repair partners of CicLAvia and we see huge numbers of people coming out to open streets events!

Metro should be investing in infrastructure related to public transport, accessibility and infrastructure that is not prioritizing private vehicles.

Thank you, Woodsin

Metro Board --

I'm writing to urgently ask you to pull agenda item 13 (2026-0432) from the consent calendar, for full discussion. The staff report leaves large-scale open streets events unfunded through 2028, putting popular programs like CicLAvia and 626 Golden Streets at serious risk.

These programs are a tremendous success: Metro built a legitimate, vibrant piece of civic life over the last decade, and it goes far beyond the big cities — smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment.

A failure to capitalize on the momentum of these events heading into the Olympics would be a massive strategic miss, not to mention a tragedy for our communities.

I'm calling on the board to:
- Direct staff to explore and develop a funding plan now to keep these events running, instead of delaying until after the Olympics
- Fund open streets events through 2027 and into 2028, without delay
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle
- Commit to the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region

Again, please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your hard work and time,
Noah, 90032

To the LA Metro Board,

CicLAvia and other open streets activities are vital not only to the cultural and civic life of the people of Los Angeles, but also to improving mobility and transport throughout the county. These events help Angelinos connect with resources and services from Metro that they did not know about, generating ridership and revenue while getting cars off streets. They also help all Angelinos see how walking, cycling, and public transport can make our lives less focused on sitting in or working around car congestion.

As we near the Olympics, maintaining these events helps prepare our county to host the millions of people expected to visit from around the world. Failing to do so will repeat the worst travesties of the World Cup, including inaccessible venues and price gouging.

CicLAvia and open streets events deserve continued funding through other sources at their current levels and to be made a permanent part of Metro's budget.

Thank you,
Benjamin Seligman

Dear Board Members:

I write to ask you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda.

This item leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and delays any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

I have attended CicLavia events and they have enriched my knowledge of our collective backyard immensely. This item would leave organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets unfunded, eliminating events that encourage and celebrate exploration through safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

With the above in mind, please do the following:

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028;
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program;
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful and enriching to all of your constituents.

Thank you.

Yours truly,

Justin Massey

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Melanie Weinreich. I'm a mom from Eagle Rock and have proudly called Los Angeles home for the past 12 years. I'm writing to ask that you pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for a full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open streets events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, while delaying any decision on a permanent program until after the 2028 Olympics.

As a mom, CicLAvia has become one of the few times I truly feel empowered by the city's infrastructure to explore neighborhoods I might not otherwise visit safely by bike or on foot. I even participated while seven months pregnant, and I'm looking forward to sharing these events with my family for years to come. Through these events, we've met neighbors, connected with local representatives, and discovered parts of Los Angeles we likely never would have experienced otherwise. They create a sense of community that is increasingly rare.

I understand Metro and the region are facing difficult budget decisions. But CicLAvia and other open streets events are more than recreational outings. They are cultural institutions and investments in public health, active transportation, and community connection. After every event, my family finds ourselves saying the same thing. We wish there were more CicLAvias each year, not fewer.

This proposal also puts organizations like CicLAvia and programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets and Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller communities rely on them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro helped build this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multimodal goals just as Los Angeles prepares to welcome the world for the 2028 Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution that keeps open streets events running now, rather than postponing the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is revisited puts the program's future at risk.
- Fund open streets events through 2027 and into 2028 instead of delaying the decision.
- Make open streets events a permanent, dedicated program instead of a grant line competing for survival each funding cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, four-plus-mile format that has made these events so successful across the region.

Please pull this item from the consent agenda.

Thank you for your consideration,

Melanie Weinreich

Dear LA Metro Board Members,

I'm writing to urge you to preserve funding for open streets programs like CicLAvia, Active SGV, and 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets. These events are more than a fun outing — they're social infrastructure that many communities don't otherwise have access to.

I've attended these events for years, and the atmosphere is unlike anything else: families walking down car-free streets, kids biking without fear, neighbors connecting in ways they never would from behind a windshield. The energy is contagious and genuinely gets people moving and active. For communities that have historically lacked investment in safe, walkable public space, losing this funding means losing one of the few chances to experience their own streets this way.

I understand budget constraints are real, so I'd encourage the Board to look at ways to preserve the program at a lower cost rather than cutting it entirely:

- Shortening event routes to reduce road closure and staffing costs
- Expanding corporate sponsorships and local business partnerships
- Building out a donation/membership program for repeat attendees
- Partnering with community organizations to share logistics and outreach costs
- Reducing event frequency rather than eliminating the program altogether

Thank you for considering these ideas and for the voices of those of us who've seen firsthand what these events mean to our communities. I hope Metro will continue to champion open streets programming in whatever form the budget allows.

Sincerely,
Aaron (From Alhambra, CA)

Hello,

I hope you all realize that the wonderful Open street events are for everyone. Cutting funding doesn't just put organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. It erases opportunities for communities that don't otherwise get to get outside and enjoy LA.

Please:

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028, don't push the decision down the road.
- Find a creative solution now, don't shut down the conversation for 2+ years until after the Olympics.
- Protect the 4+ mile, multi-neighborhood format that makes these events impactful.
- Make the open street events program permanent, not a grant line fighting for survival every moment.

Good afternoon Metro Board Members,

My name is Jonah Henry and I am a resident of Jefferson Park in County Supervisorial District #2. I am writing to request that you remove agenda item #13 from the consent agenda for tomorrow's board meeting and instead hold a full discussion on the item before voting.

CicLAvia's open street events are always among the most fun social events that I go to each year, and as a young person, they offer an inspiring glimpse of what Los Angeles could look like in the coming decades if Metro and its municipal partners continue to invest in better public transit, protected bike lanes, and pedestrian infrastructure.

I urge the Board to scrutinize the recommendations from the staff report and, rather than voting to defund open streets events like CicLAvia, to instead discuss creative options for how to secure a consistent, long-term source of funding for this vital program.

Thank you for considering my perspective.

Sincerely,

Open Street organizations like CicLAvia are a huge part of what makes Los Angeles a city worth living in. Dear Metro Board, Since moving to LA in 2018, open streets events like CicLaVia and OpenStreets626 have been our hands-down favorite moments in this city. They are incredible celebrations of the city and its people - everyone comes out to just have a nice day together. Folks smile, wave, chat to each other, everyone's happy, moving their bodies, enjoying fresh air. They are also a proof of concept for street diets, pedestrianization, and all the benefits of non-car travel. Simply, these events are some of the best community celebrations I've ever been to.

Please don't postpone funding until after the Olympics. These are events for the people who live here to enjoy our city; it would seem really unfair to tell Angelenos their fun has to wait until after this visitors' event. And sorry, I have to say it - it sure would be nice if LA could spend a fraction of the money they've hemorrhaged on failed APM contracts and fraudulent sexual harassment settlements on small, successful, joyful community events like open streets.

Open streets events should be permanently funded, starting now. The idea of passing this with no discussion is offensive. Please pull Agenda Item #13 (file 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Michael Szeto, a resident of Los Angeles County and a regular Metro rider. I write to urge the Board to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.\

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,
Michael Szeto

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Meggan Ellingboe, and I live in Los Feliz. As a long-time participant and enthusiast of CicLAvia and open streets events, I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics. This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. Not only do smaller cities use these events and programs to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure, they build community and opportunities for neighbors to meet each other, allow local businesses and non-profits to engage with their community, and bring City and Regional government visible to the people.

For Metro to not commit funding for these programs would be a shame after seeing these events grow over the past decade. These events allow Angelenos to practice and envision the promise of multi-modal transportation and give space to newcomers to try biking safely. Los Angeles is park-poor compared to its contemporaries. Open Streets programming allows recreational opportunities in areas already underserved or that lack infrastructure for green space and active recreation space. The park-poor status of the City and County is a conversation for another day, but the high participation in Open Streets programming demonstrates that people are hungry for spaces and opportunities to recreate.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. Surely open streets programming can be incorporated into lead-up events to the Olympics and find some funding support. What better way to show how the City can be connected through transit goals set by LA28 marketing than by using open streets programs to demonstrate options.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent. This really ought to be a permanent program and ongoing demonstration of good government or of government doing something positive.

Thank you for your consideration,

Meggan Ellingboe

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Stefany Mena, a resident of Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent calendar for full discussion.

Los Angeles is already behind on their open streets programming. Other cities have weekly and much larger open streets events.

Do not let LA fall even further behind. Open streets events have countless benefits to the community and to businesses alike.

Hi Metro Board,

My name's Joshua Rafofsky. I live near Miracle Mile in LA, and I've liived here for 30 years now. I'm writing to ask you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) off the consent agenda so it actually gets discussed.

As written, the staff report leaves open street events unfunded through 2027 and into early 2028, and pushes any real decision until after the 2028 Olympics. That's a huge gap, and it puts programs like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk.

These events matter way beyond the big cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise don't get much investment in active transportation. Metro spent the last decade building this movement! Walking it back now works against Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, especially right as the region gets ready to host the world for the Olympics.

Here's what I'm asking the Board to do:

Please find a real, creative funding solution to keep open street events running now. Don't just table the conversation until after the Olympics. Waiting two-plus years to even revisit this could kill the program. Fund these events through 2027 and into 2028. Please don't delay the decision.

Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not something that has to compete for grant funding every cycle. Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that's made these events work so well here. These events are beloved and bring our community so much joy and togetherness. Quite literally, they're my favorite part about living in Los Angeles!

Please pull this item from consent. Thanks for considering it.

Dear Metro Board,
Open street programs like CicLaVia are what make LA better than other major metropolitan cities. When my friends and family ask what is great about living in LA I always mention the joy of biking and running during open street events. It is disheartening to hear funding may be cancelled, it is something which makes me proud to live here.

Dear Metro Board,

My name is Robert Lee, and I reside in Glendora. Before I retired a few years ago, I rode the (former) Gold Line every day to and from work. I have also enjoyed many ActiveSGV and Ciclavia activities over the years and have test-ridden the ActiveSGV e-bikes several times. These activities are invariably fun and informative, and I was thrilled to discover and experience the joys of riding through the "Emerald Necklace" area that ActiveSGV highlights.

ActiveSGV is a "drop in the bucket" in terms of the Metro budget but it has an outsized impact on my life and many families in our area. I believe it has had an outsized impact on multi-modal transportation and their programs encourage participants to employ alternative means of transportation (that create little or no pollution), get outdoors more and increase healthy, family-oriented activities.

Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) to eliminate ActiveSGV funding for the foreseeable future is something that should be discussed in depth: the Metro Board should consider the excellent returns on its investment that ActiveSGV provides—especially because all of their activities and "presence" at so many local events throughout the Southern California creates a tidal wave of good will for Metro.

Please find a creative way to continue funding the "Open Street" events until 2028. In fact, Carefully consider making "open street" a permanent, dedicated program, and not a line item struggling for funding every few years. I beg you, Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Robert Lee

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Allen, a resident of North Hollywood. I am also both a frequent LA Metro rider and Ciclavia attendee since 2015. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure. . Having an open streets event for all kinds of non-vehicle transit is one of the few things these days that bring people together. Whether they took the bus, train, bike, walked, or drove to reach the latest Ciclavia route, just about everyone enjoys the freedom of having a wide surface street to walk, pedal, skate, etc for several hours, without having to worry about collisions with cars or trucks.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. Dear Metro people,

I am writing because I love CicLAvia. I have lived in Denmark, a bicycle+friendly country, and it is sometimes hard to go back to LA. I remember good things, like free lemons and good weather for hanging laundry outside. I am excited to go back the the Metro line that opened recently in Pomona. CicLAvia is one of the places I take Metro and I love the feeling of getting out of my eastern LA Co bubble to be with all the people of LA. It warms my heart to be on a bike and to see so many other happy people doing the same. Please, please, consider pulling the item from the consent calendar to be considered separately. Please fund open street events and consider making them permanent. Please save one of the best parts of LA.

Metro Board,

My name is Daniella Chadwick and I am a resident of Alhambra. I'm requesting that item 13 be pulled for discussion.

I've seen first hand how the Open streets program not only brings communities together but highlights and build a platform for people to consider biking, skating, walking, and taking transit to their destinations. Please consider keeping the program and finding creative ways to continue funding the program.

These events are one of the many different avenues, including programs, education, and infrastructural changes, needed to encourage mode shift more broadly. These programs represent a meaningful investment in influencing travel choices by making active transportation and transit more appealing, accessible, and comfortable for families and children.

Metro has done an incredible job keeping transit and active transportation relevant in LA county. These open streets event help normalize active transportation, give residents a new way to enjoy their communities, and provides active transportation, transit, and LA Metro the dignity and visibility it deserves.

Thank you.

Good morning Metro Board Members:

I respectfully ask that this item be removed from the consent agenda and brought forward for full public discussion.

The proposed elimination of future funding for open streets programs is far too significant to be approved without meaningful deliberation. Programs like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets are more than community events, they are investments in public health, clean transportation, local businesses, and neighborhood connection. They create safe, accessible spaces where people of all ages and abilities can walk, bike, and experience their communities without barriers.

For many neighborhoods, especially those that have experienced decades of underinvestment, these events provide rare opportunities for recreation, community building, and access to public space. Eliminating funding doesn't just affect event organizers, it impacts the thousands of Angelenos who rely on these programs as a source of health, joy, mobility, and belonging.

A decision with consequences this far-reaching deserves transparency and public input. I urge the Board to remove this item from the consent agenda, allow for a full discussion, and give communities the opportunity to be heard before making a decision that could jeopardize the future of open streets in Los Angeles County.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Hello!

I am asking you to please find a way to fund all Open Street events up to and beyond 2028. These events are truly a wonderful way to meet our neighbors, use Metro transportation and enjoy a fun and healthy day with friends and family.

Riding bikes is such an integral part of the Los Angels experience, events like these allow our children and grandchildren to safely explore their own and other neighborhoods throughout LA and her neighboring cities.

I would suggest, rather than pull funding as the Olympics approach utilize these events as a way to showcase our city. Maybe get some past and present Olympians to participate and promote these events?

I sincerely hope you can figure out a way to keep these events. Once we lose them it will be next to impossible to bring them back,and I believe they are more important to our community than you can imagine.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear Metro Board Members,

I respectfully ask that you remove Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda, as it deserves a full public discussion.

I recently attended my first CicLAvia event, and it reinforced my belief that programs like this play an important role in helping our communities move away from car dependency and toward public transportation—including buses, trains, and Metro Bike Share.

In fact, I believe Metro should expand the Bike Share program by adding docking stations in West Hollywood and other parts of Hollywood. This would allow riders to exit the new D Line Extension and easily bike to West Hollywood's shopping, dining, and entertainment destinations.

As someone who is near the La Cienega/Wilshire Station, and having lived in and around West Hollywood for decades, I've experienced firsthand how transformative the new Metro D Line Extension has been. I only wish it had existed 20 years ago. It has completely changed the way I experience Los Angeles. I now travel to Downtown Los Angeles regularly for festivals, cultural events, museums, and restaurants—places I rarely visited before because driving and parking were such obstacles. I even made my first trip to the legendary Langer's Delicatessen thanks to the D Line.

Expanding Metro Bike Share would be an affordable way to extend Metro's reach during the years we wait for the K Line Extension. It would also provide a more accessible and affordable alternative to the proprietary and often expensive Lime and Uber options that many riders are currently forced to rely on. It would allow more people to experience the same freedom and convenience that the D Line has given me while making the most of the transit investments taxpayers have already made.

Please remove this item from the consent agenda and give it the full discussion it deserves so we can build a stronger, more connected, and more robust public transportation system in time for the Olympic Games.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Gloria Hwang, and I'm the founder of Thousand, a Los Angeles-based bike helmet and accessories company. I'm writing to ask that you pull Agenda Item #13, File 2026-0432, from the consent agenda for a full discussion.

As a local business, we've seen firsthand how open streets events like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets help people experience their neighborhoods differently, and boost local economies. They give families and everyday riders a safe, welcoming way to walk, bike, use transit, and connect with local businesses and communities.

As written, the staff report would leave large-scale open streets events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, while delaying any decision about a permanent program until after the 2028 Olympics. That is too long to leave these organizations and programs in limbo.

A funding gap of more than two years could put the survival of these events at risk. It would also affect communities beyond Los Angeles' largest cities. Smaller cities often rely on open streets events to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that have received far less investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro has helped build this movement over the past decade. Pulling back now would undermine Metro's own ridership, safety, and multimodal transportation goals at the exact moment Los Angeles is preparing to welcome the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution that keeps open streets events operating now, rather than postponing the conversation until after the Olympics.
- Fund open streets events through 2027 and into 2028.
- Establish open streets as a permanent, dedicated Metro program, rather than a grant line that must compete for survival every funding cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, four-plus-mile format that has made these events so successful across the region.

Open streets events are not simply recreational. They support safer streets, public transit, healthier communities, and local economic activity. They also give Angelenos a tangible vision of what a more connected and accessible region can look like.

Please pull this item from the consent agenda and give it the full public discussion it deserves.

Thank you for your consideration,

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Robert Scherer a resident of Glendale. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

Dear Metro Board Members-

The large-scale open streets events, like CicLAvia and 626 Golden Streets are some of Metro's most important and impactful programs. It's so important that any pause in funding merits a full and substantive discussion--so I'm asking that you pull Agenda item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the Consent Agenda.

It would be a huge mistake to lose the momentum that Metro has built since 2010, just as Los Angeles gears up for the 2028 Olympics. Open streets events should be funded through 2027 and into 2028. I cannot understand why funding this program is considered year-by-year; instead it should be made a permanent program.

Events like CicLAvia are some of the best ways in which Metro can change peoples' perceptions around their need to drive. I always hear people express surprise at how easy and fun it is to get around the city, like 'Who knew you can ride your bike to the beach?'

My name is Holly Harper, I live in Cypress Park and have been car-free for over 20 years. I take Metro buses and trains whenever I'm not commuting or doing errands on my bicycle.

Hello Metro Board Members,

My name is Walter Morton, and I am a resident of Pacific Palisades.

I am kindly asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

The staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and early-mid 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the upcoming Olympics in 2028.

This greatly puts open street events like "Ciclavia" and "626 Golden Streets" at risk. These events matter beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that normally see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last ten years or so. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the Olympics.

I kindly ask that the Board:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, instead of shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is revisited is inappropriate and puts the program's survival at great risk.
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028. Please do not delay this decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 3+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

I ask that you please pull this item from consent.

Thank you,

Walter Morton

In regards to agenda items about changing Board membership (5, 55, 56) they're all horrible. Part of the reason Metro runs such an unreliable service is that the Board is made up 100% of people who do not rely on transit (riding Metro to board meetings doesn't count). Too often the Board throws riders under the bus for the sake of political expediency. There need to be actual riders on the Board, not just 1, and not just riders hand picked by LA county's anti-transit political class.

On item 13, the Planning and Programming Committee recommendations; I would like to express how outrageous it is that Metro is preparing to zero out open street funding essentially at the bidding of corrupt unaccountable international organizations. FIFA, and the IOC/LA28 should not be in a position to unilaterally dictate an end to open street events that Angelenos love (orr attach ridiculous terms, why does CicLAvia have to be on the day of the FIFA final and then nothing for the rest of the year?) Who in the world does this Board see as its main constituency??? This isn't an issue in any other host cities but ours, why is this even being considered? Why is the Metro Board filled with so many people who are so anti everything but cars?

Dear Members of the Metro Board,

My name is Ben Loescher, a resident of downtown Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

Ciclavia and the city's open street events are among the few success stories to emerge from Los Angeles government. As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics. This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure. In an environment when so many Los Angeles government programs are visibily failing. I am frequently ashamed about what our city has become - these programs have been success stories that make Los Angeles residents actually proud of where they live.

These gains took more than a decade of sustained investment to achieve. Turning your back on this program will sabotage Metro's own goals for ridership, multimodal transportation, and the region's preparation for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

My family has been to many of these open streets events over the years. It gets us outside and safely on our bikes, in a city that doesn't always make room for bike riders. Cilclavia truly builds community and exposes us to neighborhoods we may never have visited without these great events.

Our broad, flat city of Los Angeles could be a first class biking city with only limited infrastructure investments and the open streets events allow every Angeleno to get a taste of the freedom of movement bike riding offers throughout L.A.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Emilio, a resident of Silver Lake. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Emilio Uranga III

Metro Board Clerk,
I am a resident of Long Beach and an avid user of Metro facilities (usually the A line train). I'm also a cyclist, both as a last mile usage in conjunction with Metro as well as on its own for recreation and transportation.
CicLAvia and Beach Streets are both amazing programs that provide a great day for cyclists less avid than me to try out biking in our communities and a way for all our citizens to imagine certain areas as they would exist without cars. Businesses and pedestrians also have much to appreciate from these events.
I urge you to reconsider the recent plan to stop any closed street events from now until the Olympics and instead urge you to find ways to find Olympic test events in the meantime that can incorporate CicLAvia and other related closed street projects.

Thank you for your time,

Dear Metro Board,

As a Metro rider, as a community member, and as a Councilmember, I ask you all to support more not less open street events.

Ciclavia and open street events bring folks together from multiple neighborhood to share cultures, language and a chance to build community. At times like these we need more events that build community, not less! I hope you all have had a chance to experience an open street event to see the joy, the smiles, the music, the eating and the shopping. These events help small businesses and bring happiness to our residents. Let's make sure we prioritize that!

I ask that you reconsider your Item #13 and protect open streets.

I ask you to:

- Fund Open Streets events through 2027 and into 2028.
- Find a funding solution now instead of delaying action until after the Olympics.
- Protect the regional, multi-neighborhood format that makes these events successful.
- Make Open Streets a permanent Metro program

Thank you for your past support and continued support for these programs! They help ensure metro has a great name and increase riders as well!

Thanks,

Dear Board Members,

Please keep these amazing open street events funded and out of survival mode for every event. Walking or riding the streets without the danger of cars allows for one to emerse and experience each unique neighborhood and route in LA in an intimate way that simply is not available without the open streets.

I can say from personal experience that some of the best memories I have with my son have come from the Ciclavia events.

This is becoming a quintessential LA experience that needs to be embraced and protected for years to come.

Make the right decision for the neighborhoods and city and continue this amazing experience.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Jaeson Wilkins, and I'm a resident of Valley Village.

I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, delaying any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts organizations like CicLAvia and programs such as ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets and Active Streets at real risk. As someone who regularly bikes, walks, and uses these events to explore communities across Los Angeles County, I know firsthand how valuable they are. Open streets connect people to local businesses, encourage healthier transportation choices, and give residents a chance to experience our neighborhoods in ways that simply aren't possible when streets are filled with cars. Children and teens will also be inspired to pick up the healthy habits they need to live long life.

These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller communities rely on them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit opportunities to neighborhoods that otherwise receive little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro helped build this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own goals of increasing transit use, improving mobility, and creating a more connected region, especially as Los Angeles prepares to welcome the world for the 2028 Olympics.

I respectfully ask the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution that keeps open street events operating now instead of delaying the conversation until after the Olympics. A funding gap of more than two years puts these programs at serious risk.
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028 rather than postponing a decision.
- Establish open street events as a permanent, dedicated Metro program instead of forcing them to compete for limited grant funding each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made these events so successful throughout the region.

Please pull this item from the consent agenda and give it the public discussion it deserves.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Jaeson Wilkins

Dear Metro Board,

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be horrible, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Dear Metro Board,

I am strongly opposed to item 13.
Funding open street events only around mega events is extremely disrespectful of LA residents. While I understand that funds are limited and that mega events require massive investments, open street events are not what is draining Metro's funds. They are a tiny portion of the budget, but have had a tremendous impact. They have changed my and others' perspective on the city, they have introduced many people to your agency, to new businesses, to their neighbors, to new neighborhoods, and to what is possible when we choose to prioritize people.

Staff ignored the directive and the results will be dire, likely leading to the elimination or massive scaling back of events like CicLAvia. Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County. The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

If we want to preserve, and even improve the frequency of, open street events, we can. And I hope you have the political will to do so.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Darcy Laparra, a resident of North Hollywood. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Also, I've had a great time at past CicLAvia events. I've met new people, and I've learned about groups and business I wouldn't have known about otherwise.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics. Public transportation needs to be supported and expanded, not vice versa.

I'm asking the Board to:

Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.

Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.

Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Darcy G. Laparra

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Monica Carlos, a resident of Carthay Circle. I am writing with great concern and asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

I am really disappointed that Metro doesn't see the critical value in open streets events in Los Angeles. My husband attended the first inaugural Ciclavia event in 2010, I stayed home with our first child who was a baby at the time. Once she was a little bigger, we started taking her to Ciclavia events. And then when our second child was born, we did the same thing. They have wheeled and walked through Boyle Heights, Hollywood, Koreatown, Wilshire Corridor, Mid City, Culver City and more! They are ecstatic to participate each time. And now that baby is now 17 and goes with her friends to Ciclavia events and hopes to volunteer at a future event.

Ciclavia and other open streets events are merely activities, but they have become a vibrant, beautiful, diverse and unique part of LA culture. To gut a thriving program after 16 years of success would be a tragic error to our city. Not to mention the great loss of the events that community members count on to build unity, enjoy open space, get exercise, support local businesses and remind Los Angeles that the streets belong to the people.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics. It is unfair to Los Angeles citizens to cut such a vital program in anticipation of the Olympics. Sacrificing this vibrant, catalytic, and impactful program would be detrimental to Los Angeles communities.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent. The destruction of Ciclavia, an organization and iconic LA event that has been thriving since its inception in 2010 deserves better. The people of Los Angeles deserve better.

Thank you for your consideration,

Monica Carlos

Dear Metro Board Members,

I am a resident of Harbor City and I am asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, putting any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. I regularly attend both of these programs and have since almost their beginnings fifteen years ago.

Metro has been very supportive and visible at the events in the past. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics. While I use my car for nearby trips, I routinely use Metro for further LA area outings because of my experience in taking Metro to Ciclavia back in the 2010's. These community events really do promote and engender goodwill toward Metro.

I am asking the Board to:

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028 - please do not delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region. Many people like myself travel throughout the area to attend the longer events, making a day of it.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration - also please know:

Events like CicLAvia have given me some of the best highlights of my last 13 months, after going through a bad breakup - events like this that encourage community to come out, come together, and bond through a fun and spirited way (something as simple as riding and walking) are so few and far between here in LA. Please, consider how these events help every single person that come out and participate in them, consider how much fun and joy and therapy it may be for people…I know it's certainly helped me.

Thank you again

Sincerely,

My name is Jake Coe, a resident of Palms, Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Dear Metro Board Members,
I implore you to pull Item 13 and fully discuss it.

As an older constituent, I am opposed to the defunding of Open Streets events. I've gone from riding bikes in CicLAvia to walking most events. These events offer community, provide physical exercise, and generate business income.

I've seen apartment dwellers watch their toddlers in baby walkers in the middle of Melrose and other kids no more than 7-8 riding in circles along Central and MLK Blvd. Open Street events teach entire generations that they do not need a car in LA--a fact that I believed for too long growing up in a nearby county.

My daughter rode her bike in the first few CicLAvias and has grown up to be a transportation engineer--a graduate path she didn't even know existed before experiencing active streets.

Open Street events have allowed us to see parts of the Southland that we never would have visited and walked on a FREEWAY. We buy coffee from independent shops along the way, stop for snacks at restaurants along the way, and we take public transportation to get to the events. We've become active transit advocates and we want to continue to share the experience with more families.

We've been saddened this year that the events were so limited. We don't want to tell people about the olden days when people could walk in the middle of the streets, cheer for the Dodgers in the World Series, or check out the museums near Expo Park. I want to be the old lady dragging trash cans into my street like they do in Bogota every Sunday to make my community more walkable.

Please let's not go backwards,

Angel Zobel-Rodriguez

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Isa Vargas, a resident of West LA/Helms Bakery Area. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

These events are one of the supremely unique to LA wrinkles of living here. Their benefits to public health, the growth of transit infrastructure and the fabric of this city are immense and it hurts my heart to think about this city without them.

Ciclavia means so much to me as an Angelino. We have the best weather for cycling, plenty of pavement, and such beautiful scenery that is hard to appreciate at motor vehicle speeds, yet our city lacks cycling infrastructure. Ciclavia gives the community safety to enjoy the city on bikes, roller blades, and by foot. It gives me hope that more people will take an interest in cycling in LA, and in building those numbers, we can advocate for expanding cycling infrastructure to make it a safe, convenient, feasible transportation option, easing congestion and reducing carbon emissions.

I'm writing as a citizen of Los Angeles to show my support for CicLAvia. I think it's an incredible program that fosters community and makes neighborhoods accessible, if just for a day. I'd like to see it funded through 2028 and become a permanent fixture in city programming.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Christie DuVall, and I am a resident of Orange County. My son and his family live in North Hollywood, and we have friends in West Hollywood, Tujunga, and Pasadena. We all enjoy coming together outdoors at CicLAvia events. My husband and I take Metrolink up to Grand Central Station, then transfer on the Metro to the nearest station to the event, and meet up with our friends and family. Some of our best memories each year are the days spent exploring new parts of Los Angeles together. At the end of each year, we reflect on the experiences that brought us joy and donate to the organizations that made them possible. CicLAvia is one of those organizations we support annually. Please help us protect these important events that celebrate the best of Los Angeles. I am asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028, and delays any decision on a permanent program until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's largest cities. Smaller cities rely on them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise receive little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro helped build this movement over the last decade. Scaling it back now would undermine Metro's ridership and multimodal goals just as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I am asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

These events are the closest glimpse that Los Angeles gets into its true potential as a world-class city. To cut the funding right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics will leave our nation even more of a laughing stock than it already is. I just returned from Copenhagen and the Ciclavia this past weekend was such a (literal) breath of fresh air compared to the usual daily status quo of this city. We should be seeing this type of community and infrastructure every day, so the fact that you want to pull funding to do it barely a few times a year is unfathomable.

I'm asking the Board to:

-Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
-Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
-Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
-Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Hared Ochoa, an LA city resident in the neighborhood of Silver Lake. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

I am outraged that we are attempting to defund these open street programs. These are investments for Metro, as these programs expose people to car-alternate transit and generally improve the spirit and moral of the city.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program’s survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don’t delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Work with City officials mayor and council district members to EXPAND the extent and frequency of these events.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Dear Metro Board,

Open streets events expose Angelenos to things like Metro Bike Share, and Metro's train and bus services, and greatly benefit L.A. County.

The Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Please do not move forward with this item on the agenda. Open streets have become a mainstay in our culture and it's truly one of the most joyful things we do in this city, and as a city. I enjoy 626 Streets as well, and love the joy it brings families. It's for FAMILIES, and PEOPLE, and JOY, and it's healthy, safe, and fun for local businesses too. I understand funding is limited and asks are great, but this is a crucial event for Angelenos and County residents and should NEVER be taken away.

Dear Metro Board Members,
My name is Sierra Dwyer, a resident Koreatown, Los Angeles. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.
As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.
This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.
Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.
I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk

- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

I am a frequent and avid user of Metro transit. I rely on Metro services for my work commute and everyday needs. I enjoy and greatly look forward to CicLAvia events for community, enjoying the neighborhood, and staying healthy.

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Leon Hollis, a resident of Los Angeles/Mt Washington and I am asking you to please pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

Open street events have meant so much to my family. They have become one of the highlights of our year. My parents, brother and I love riding our bicycles through the open streets of Los Angeles together. These events allow us to experience our city in a way we never could from inside a car. We discover new neighborhoods, local businesses, parks, and cultural landmarks while safely riding alongside thousands of people who share a love of cycling, walking, and being outdoors.

Open streets bring people together. They encourage fitness, strengthen communities, support local businesses, and create a sense of pride in Los Angeles. They also introduce many families to public transit, biking, and other forms of active transportation in a fun, welcoming environment.

Metro has spent more than a decade building this successful regional program. Walking away from it now would undermine one of Metro's best tools for promoting transit, reducing car dependence, and creating healthier, more connected communities, especially as Los Angeles prepares to welcome the world for the 2028 Olympics.

Please do not allow large-scale open street events to go unfunded through 2027 and into 2028. Instead, I respectfully ask that you:

- Pull Agenda Item #13 from the consent agenda for full discussion.
- Find a creative funding solution that keeps open street events operating without interruption.
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028 rather than delaying action.
- Make open street events a permanent Metro program instead of a grant program that must fight for survival each funding cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made these events such a success across Los Angeles County.

These events are an investment in healthier families, stronger communities, and a more connected Los Angeles. Please keep them alive for my family and for the hundreds of thousands of Angelenos who cherish them.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Leon Hollis

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Libertie Kiing, a resident of Hollywood, Los Angeles. I'm asking you today to please pull Agenda Item #13 (which is File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

The staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

Open street organizations like CicLAvia and ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events create a real sense of community and are part of creating a liveable city in terms of both mental and physical health. Events like CicLAvia allow the city to feel smaller, friendlier, communal. Especially for those of us that must use cars to travel, having the opportunity to run, walk, cycle, board creates vibrancy in our city. It creates safety and joy for families and residents alike.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Taking it back now turns on Metro's own ridership and goals, as we prepare to host the world for the Olympics.

Today, I am asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Again, we urge you to immediately pull this item from consent.

Thank you very much for your consideration,

AGAINST Agenda Item #13, File 2026-0432 — Open and Slow Streets Grant Program Update – Please Pull from Consent Agenda

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is A.M. Banks, a resident of Inglewood. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

RE: Item 27 - Keep Transit Funds for Transit

Dear Metro Board of Directors,

The undersigned coalition of transit, rail, active transportation advocates and organizations are interested in preserving and improving existing transit access in LA County, including the Antelope and Santa Clarita Valleys.

Metro's proposed reallocation of funds from transit to roads comes at a time when regional transit service for the Santa Clarita and Antelope Valleys is being cut. As discussed below, this is bad public policy, undermines the mobility of LA County residents and Olympics visitors, and is unlawful.

Background

Agenda Item 27 proposes reallocating $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funds from transit purposes to street and road projects in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale based on the finding that there are "no unmet transit needs that are reasonable to meet."

Under state law, before TDA funds may be redirected to street and road purposes, the Metro Board must make findings regarding unmet transit needs. In 1997, the Metro Board adopted the following definitions, consistent with the California Public Utilities Code:

Unmet Transit Need: Any transportation need identified through the public hearing process that could be met through the implementation or improvement of transit or paratransit services.

Reasonable to Meet Transit Need: Any unmet transit need that can be met, in whole or in part, through the allocation of additional transit revenue and be operated in a cost-efficient and service-effective manner without negatively impacting existing public or private transit services.

Accordingly, the Board must determine one of the following:

1. There are no unmet transit needs;
2. There are no unmet transit needs that are reasonable to meet; or
3. There are unmet transit needs, including unmet transit needs that are reasonable to meet.

For the reasons outlined below, the record supports only the third finding.

Metro Has Actual and Constructive Notice of Unmet Transit Needs

Metro and its staff are well aware of unmet transit needs for Antelope Valley Line service. That notice extends beyond the formal notice and comment process held by Metro for TDA law purposes. Over the spring and summer of 2026 Metro Board and staff have been made aware of operating deficits for Metrolink and proposed and actualized service cuts for Antelope Valley Line service.

Metro has received the following notification of the issue:

- An automated letter tool sponsored by the undersigned organizations has delivered 2,889 letters to the Metro board clerk since April with the subject “Don't Cut Funding to Metrolink.”
- Metro Budget Public Hearing Item 27 - Fiscal Year 2027 Budget. May 21st, 2026, Californians for Electric Rail
- Public Comments Item 6 (oppose); General Public Comment 4/23 Metro Board Meeting April 23rd, 2026, Californians for Electric Rail
- Dozens of live public comments at both the May 21st, 2026 Budget Public Hearing and the May 28th full Board Meeting discussed Metrolink service cuts and the need to fund Metrolink.

There Are Unmet Transit Needs

Metrolink is currently facing a significant budget shortfall driven by lower-than-anticipated funding contributions from LA Metro and the Orange County Transportation Authority, as well as lower-than-projected ridership and inflation-driven operating cost increases. The resulting approximately $30 million deficit has led Metrolink to consider substantial service reductions.

The Antelope Valley Line directly serves Santa Clarita, Palmdale, and Lancaster. In 2025, Santa Clarita received 30 weekday train trips, while Palmdale and Lancaster each received 22. In March 2026, Metrolink instituted 20% service reductions that reduced service to 24 train trips in Santa Clarita and 16 in the High Desert. These reductions were instituted on a temporary basis due to equipment availability issues that have since been resolved. With other solutions to its operating deficit exhausted, Metrolink is currently proceeding with budgeting to make those 20% reductions permanent.[1]

Preventing these service cuts and maintaining 2025 rail service is plainly an unmet transportation need. Additional TDA funding could help preserve current service levels and avoid significant reductions for riders throughout the Antelope Valley corridor.

Furthermore, Attachment F to the staff report documents numerous unmet transportation needs identified during the public outreach process, including:

- Increased funding for Metrolink's Antelope Valley Line, including double tracking, additional sidings, and other capital improvements necessary to support half-hourly service to Santa Clarita and hourly service to Palmdale and Lancaster.
- Multiple requests for increased local bus service.
- Requests for improved active transportation infrastructure, including exclusive bicycle and pedestrian facilities in Santa Clarita.

These are precisely the types of needs contemplated by the Board's adopted definition of unmet transit needs.

In addition, California Public Utilities Code section 99401.5 requires that, before allocating TDA funds to purposes not directly related to public transportation or facilities for the exclusive use of pedestrians and bicycles, the agency must first make the required findings regarding unmet transit needs.

The Cities of Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale have all submitted applications to the State Active Transportation Program. To the extent exclusive bicycle and pedestrian facilities are planned within these jurisdictions, those eligible projects have statutory priority over allocations for general street and road purposes.

Finally there is a misconception by staff as it relates to TDA Law that because Santa Clarita and AVTA are not members of the Metrolink JPA they are thus unable to contribute TDA funds to those Metrolink Antelope Valley Line unmet transit needs. While it is true that these entities are not members of Metrolink that fact does not preclude the agencies from providing funds for transit services to Metrolink for Antelope Valley Line. Doing so simply requires a service or interagency agreement that are routinely procured by local governments. Moreover, there is nothing in TDA Law itself or case law that creates this distinction and the Metro Board is not bound by this constraint.

[1] Metrolink July 24th Board Meeting Agenda, Item 7A: Budget Development Update https://d2kbkoa27fdvtw.cloudfront.net/metrolink/c4426a254fe9e7f1e9ef97d5a3e3b3fa0.pdf

There Are Reasonable-to-Meet Transit Needs

The transit needs identified above, including preserving Metrolink service, funding Metrolink capital improvements, expanding bus service, and constructing exclusive bicycle and pedestrian facilities, can all be addressed in full from the $35.5 million in TDA funds proposed for reallocation.

Because these needs can be funded with the revenues at issue, they are not merely theoretical - they are reasonable to meet within the meaning of the Board's adopted policy.

Moreover, these investments are both cost-efficient and service-effective. Metrolink's Reimagined service has increased service levels with only modest increases in operating costs, demonstrating that strategic transit investments can produce substantial mobility benefits. Likewise, investments in active transportation infrastructure consistently provide high benefit-to-cost ratios while improving safety, expanding mobility, and reducing congestion.

Given the existence of these unmet and reasonable-to-meet transit needs, the Board cannot lawfully conclude that no such needs exist before redirecting these funds to street and road projects.

The Proposed Re-Allocation Is Missing Analysis and Includes Incomplete Analysis Required under the TDA

The materials supporting the re-allocation do not include the required and complete analysis mandated by the TDA Law.

Under the TDA Law, any re-allocation must be accompanied by an adequacy analysis of existing public transit services in meeting the transit demand of transit dependent or transit disadvantaged groups (PUC 99401.5(b)(2)). In addition, an analysis is required of the “potential alternative public transportation and specialized transportation services and service improvements that would meet all or part of the transit demand” for transit dependent or transit disadvantaged groups (PUC sec. 99401.5(b)(3)). Finally, the re-allocation must “[i]dentify the unmet transit needs of the jurisdiction and those needs that are reasonable to meet.” (PUC sec. 99401.5(c)).

In analyzing unmet needs:

> The fact that an identified transit need cannot be fully met based on available resources shall not be the sole reason for finding that a transit need is not reasonable to meet. An agency's determination of needs that are reasonable to meet shall not be made by comparing unmet transit needs with the need for streets and roads.

PUC sec. 99401.5(c).

The analyses have not been included in the materials before you. The analyses have not been made public in prior hearings on this matter. Therefore it is unclear whether the proposed re-allocation 1) complies with the requirement for such analyses under the TDA Law; 2) whether the analyses (if they exist) adequately analyze existing transit services as to transit dependent and transit disadvantaged groups; 3) whether potential transit services or improvements would meet part or all of transit demand for transit dependent and transit disadvantaged groups.

The transparency and adequacy of these analyses is important because, as discussed below, the proposed findings for re-allocation are unlawfully narrowly tailored to local transit needs.

There are indicators that if such analyses exist they have not properly incorporated noticed unmet transit needs for the affected areas. As an example, the Summary Comment Log provided to you improperly codes comments made regarding Antelope Valley unmet transit needs to omit them from mention under the graph. Furthermore, the Californians Electric Rail comment on the proposed TDA unmet needs included discussion of unmet operational needs for Antelope Valley Line but these comments are omitted from the Summary Comment Log.

5	General commnents

Prior to adopting any findings for re-allocation, the analyses must be produced by staff so that the Metro Board and public can determine whether they meet the statutory requirements under the TDA Law. Should these analyses be produced they must 1) acknowledge the current Metrolink Antelope Valley Line service cuts as unmet transit needs actually and constructively noticed by Metro and 2) analyze how these unmet transit needs for restored Antelope Valley Line service cannot be reasonably met by allocating TDA funds to it.

The Proposed Findings Do Not Consider or Distinguish the Noticed Unmet Transit Needs

The proposed findings for reallocation of funds do not mention Metrolink's service cuts despite Metro having actual and constructive notice of these unmet transit needs through its own formal notice and comment TDA process. The proposed findings do not even attempt to address the comments articulated by Californians for Electric Rail and others regarding Metrolink improvements and service needs in the Summary Comment Log. Nor do they address Metrolink service cuts that are well-known to the Metro Board, Metro staff through various public hearings, written and verbal public comments and news articles in the spring and summer of 2026.

The proposed findings are limited to the transit needs of local transit in Palmdale, Santa Clarita and unincorporated Antelope Valley. The TDA law does not distinguish between local and regional transit. Nor is there any published case law that holds that the TDA Law only applies to local transit. Therefore, there is no legal basis for ignoring articulated and received public comments in the Summary Comment Log or received elsewhere by Metro due to the fact that the comments raise the issue of unmet transit needs for regional transit rather than that of local transit. In fact the premier TDA case Folsom v. Butte County Association of Governments (1982) 32 Cal.3d 668 involves plaintiffs prevailing at trial court to obtain an injunction against reallocation of TDA funds to road projects in order to fund unmet transit needs for intracity transit service in Chico and intercity transit service to Oroville.

The proposed findings therefore are 1) not supported by the administrative record including actual and constructive notice of unmet Antelope Valley Line transit needs for transit dependent or transit disadvantaged groups 2) are not supported by sufficient analyses required under TDA Law; 3) attempt to distinguish between local and regional transit needs without a lawful basis for doing so.

Conclusion

The record demonstrates that there are unmet transit needs within Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale, and that many of those needs are reasonable to meet using the TDA funds proposed for reallocation. Accordingly, the Board should make the finding that there are unmet transit needs, including unmet transit needs that are reasonable to meet.

For these reasons, the undersigned organizations respectfully urges the Metro Board to reject the staff recommendation in Agenda Item 27 and instead prioritize TDA funding for transit and active transportation purposes, including preserving Metrolink service, advancing Metrolink capital improvements, expanding bus service, and constructing exclusive bicycle and pedestrian facilities in Santa Clarita, Palmdale, and Lancaster, consistent with the priorities established by state law.

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,

I personally would love to use Metrolink service more to explore other parts of SoCal. I even think there are underserved portions of Metrolink's network. The Riverside, Perris Valley, and OC lines have such poor times to use outside of commuting. If Metro goes forward with these funding cuts, this same service could hit the AV, Ventura and San Bernardino lines, and then lose even more riders. A Metrolink train was in the news the other day for breaking down and leaving riders stranded. Why is the Metro board seeking to not only remove this funding at a dire time for Metrolink, but to also divert that funding to roads? Metro is not the DOT. Metro is not Caltrans. If roads need funding, then local cities or relevant agencies such as Caltrans can do that. Metro is a transit agency for transit.

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,
Mark Li

Dear Metro Board,

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around. Every way to make our lives better supports trains over cars. We hate the traffic, the climate harm, the pollution, the gas prices, the road construction, the hazards and anger and frustrations and illogical actions of other drivers, the dangers of drowsy and drunk drivers, the dangers of weather and external objects on the road, the dangers to the lives of workers/officers/EMTs on the roads, the increase in urban heat from pavement and asphalt and concrete, the distractions of navigation and communication more prevalent and obvious than ever, the noise and disturbance to our communities, the racist history of California highways and interstate location choices, the unreliability of vehicles themselves and potential unforeseen harms from their malfunctions... the cost is very clearly not worth what we are ALREADY spending. If anything more funding should be diverted from roads to transit! Much, much more. The flip side of this with complaints about transit can almost all be resolved by more funding, more stations, more lines, and more trains on those lines at reliable scheduled times and with clean, safe, well-managed trains.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit. But I'll go further to say, the only logical conclusion in the transit research of what is true, good, kind, and beneficial to all concerned leads to increased transit dollars. Our health, future, resources, survival needs, and safety depend on it.

Subject: Public Comment — Item 27 — Vote NO on TDA Reallocation

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro is proposing to redirect $35.5 million in TDA funds from transit to road projects in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale — at the exact moment Metrolink is cutting service on the Antelope Valley Line. That's backwards.

State law requires Metro to find no unmet transit needs before redirecting these funds to roads. That finding isn't supportable. The record shows the opposite: nearly 3,000 letters delivered to the Board clerk opposing Metrolink cuts, public comments at multiple hearings raising Antelope Valley Line needs, and staff's own Attachment F documenting requests for more Metrolink funding, expanded bus service, and better bike and pedestrian infrastructure in these same communities. These are textbook unmet transit needs under the Board's own definitions.

Staff's findings ignore all of it. They draw an artificial local-vs-regional transit distinction with no basis in TDA law or case law — the premier TDA case, Folsom v. Butte County (1982), involved exactly this kind of reallocation and riders won. The required analyses of transit-dependent populations haven't been made public, and the comment log excludes or miscodes Antelope Valley Line comments. The process isn't transparent and the findings aren't supported by the record.

Transit funds should go to transit. Please vote NO and keep this money dedicated to Metrolink, bus service, and active transportation.

Thank you,
Matt Zebro

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,

Hello Metro Board,

Having been a Metro/bus rider in LA for the last five years, and Metrolink for the last two years, I love being able to use the system, but recognize its service isn't nearly abundant and frequent enough.

I only started taking Metro after losing two cars in two separate hit and runs in LA (both while my cars were parked on the street overnight), and have since become passionate about more transit service, learning about its benefits and the abysmal rate of deaths in LA each year from car crashes, 300+ annually. We cannot drive our way out of bad traffic or deaths and injuries from crashes. We can't drive our way out of long commutes, which are due to how much space is dedicated for roadways and parking and how little for housing and dense neighborhoods. We can't drive our way out of the high cost of car ownership and the health effects of their poisonous emissions. We can't drive our way out of the climate impacts of car dependency.

That's why I'm asking you to vote no on Item 27.

Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

As someone who uses Metro every day I urge you to vote NO; service cuts mean it would take me a lot longer to get around, and it would mean I couldn't do things I currently do (because it would take too long). Please use money that's supposed to be for transit for transit rather than road projects than only help people who can afford a car

Thank you,
Nathan Schilling

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,
Jamie Chen

Dear Metro Board,

I urge you to vote NO on Item 27.

Metro should not divert $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts, including on the Antelope Valley Line.

State law requires Metro to determine whether there are unmet transit needs before redirecting transit funding to roads. Those unmet needs clearly exist. Riders need reliable Metrolink service, better local bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure. They don't need fewer transit options.

Transit riders in Santa Clarita, Lancaster, and Palmdale deserve investments that improve mobility, not funding shifts that make it harder to get around.

I respectfully ask you to:

Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit.

Thank you,
Neil Yazma

Dear Metro Board,

To improve the mobility of Angelinos, the Board must vote NO on Item 27.

The consistent barrier to access in Los Angeles county is car dependence. This has not changed, and transit is critical to breaking this barrier. Under state law, Metro cannot redirect transit funding to roads until unmet transit needs have been assessed. These needs are plain: reliable Metrolink service, faster and more frequent bus service, and safer walking and bicycling infrastructure.

I encounter these barriers routinely as a physician. My patients and their loved ones traveling from the High Desert must struggle in traffic to reach me in the Valley and the Westside, even when their finances and chronic health conditions make driving a suboptimal choice. They deserve better options from Metro than an endless series of congestion-inducing roadworks.

I ask you to:
Vote NO on Item 27.
Keep TDA funding dedicated to transit and active transportation.
Prioritize preserving Metrolink service, improving bus service, and investing in safe walking and biking infrastructure.

Transit funds should go to transit. My patients deserve as much.

Thank you,

RE: Unsolicited Proposal — Metro Workforce Housing: The Clark on 54th
Item #36 on Consent Calendar – Metro Board Meeting July 23, 2026 – Case File: 2026-0470

cc: EmployeeHousing@Metro.Net

Purpose

Praxis Development Group, on behalf of itself and the Clark Family, respectfully submits this unsolicited proposal to provide Metro employee workforce housing at The Clark on 54th, located at 3409 W. 54th Street, Los Angeles, CA 90043 — a 48-unit, newly constructed, mixed-income residential community steps from the Metro K Line/Hyde Park Station.

We request a loan of $2,500,000 on the following terms: 3% simple interest, residual receipts loan; subordinated to the construction loan and permanent loan; Metro employee housing preference covenant.

In exchange, Metro employees will have first right of occupancy on 50% of all units in the building (24 of 48 units): 10 income-restricted units at 50% AMI and 14 unrestricted units at market rent. This proposal delivers immediate, transit-adjacent workforce housing at a per-unit subsidy of approximately $250,000 — consistent with Metro's proposed investment in The Nathaniel.

We applaud Metro's willingness to support housing development along the K-Line, and we ask for equal consideration. Our project is under construction with an expected completion date of December 2026.

The Clark on 54th: Project Overview

The Clark on 54th is a newly constructed, 48-unit mixed-income residential community in the heart of the Crenshaw Corridor — one of Los Angeles's most transit-rich and culturally significant neighborhoods. The project is a collaboration between the Clark Family, a legacy African American family and longtime community landowners, and Praxis Development Group, a woman-owned, and locally rooted development firm. Together, this team represents the kind of community-centered, mission-aligned partnership that Metro's workforce housing initiative was designed to support.

Why The Clark on 54th Serves Metro's Goals

1. Lower Cost/Lower Risk to Metro

At $2,500,000 total, Praxis's proposal is 1/10th the hit to Metro's General Fund as compared to The Nathaniel, while delivering a comparable per-unit subsidy (~$250,000/unit on the affordable units) and meaningful employee access to 24 units.

2. Immediate Delivery — Before the 2028 Olympics

The Clark on 54th is already built. Units will be available for Metro employee occupancy in January 2027 — more than 18 months before the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games, and approximately two to three years before The Nathaniel is projected to deliver. Metro employees can benefit from workforce housing immediately. Metro has no risk on non-delivery. The building is there, with $25M of investment and pending completion.

3. Affordability

Twenty-one percent (21%) of the units are income-restricted at 50% AMI. This means Metro's lower-wage frontline workers — bus operators, rail operators, mechanics, and maintenance staff — are more likely to qualify. The 14 additional employee preferenced units at market rate provide access for those Metro employees who do not qualify for income-restricted units.

4. Prime Transit Adjacency

The project is located within one-quarter mile of the Metro K Line/Hyde Park Station, with direct access to Metro Bus Lines 210 and 40, and connectivity to the Expo/Crenshaw Station for regional rail access. Metro employees working at nearby divisions — including Division 16 (K Line), Divisions 14 & 21 (E Line), and Bus Division 5 — can commute car-free, reducing both commute stress and household transportation costs.

5. No Regulatory Barriers

There are therefore no regulatory barriers to establishing a Metro employee occupancy preference. A recorded regulatory agreement can be executed on the same terms as proposed for The Nathaniel.

Developer Qualifications: Praxis Development Group

Praxis Development Group is a woman-owned, WBE-certified real estate development firm headquartered in Los Angeles. Founded and led by Kacy Keys, Praxis specializes in ground-up multifamily construction, value-add acquisitions, and affordable housing across the Western United States with particular depth in Los Angeles. The firm combines deep knowledge of California entitlement law with institutional underwriting discipline and hands-on project management.

Building this project in partnership with a local, African American family, the project is rooted in community. It is everything Metro says it wants: local ownership, transit adjacent, family-sized housing, fully funded with pending delivery.

Praxis is led by two partners involved in every deal with no institutional bureaucracy between decision-makers and the project. The team brings 40+ years of Los Angeles development market experience, with deep expertise in entitlements, density bonus law, adaptive reuse, and community-centered execution. Praxis has an existing relationship with Los Angeles Metro, having previously worked with the agency on transit-adjacent development.

Above all, Praxis is known for operating with integrity. We deliver on time and on budget. We are straightforward to work with, we play by the rules, and we do what we say we will do. Our partners — lenders, equity investors, city agencies, and community stakeholders — know that when Praxis makes a commitment, it is kept. We bring that same standard of accountability and transparency to this proposal.

Request for Equal Consideration

Our core request is simple. We are asking that this unsolicited proposal be accepted, considered, and processed in a timely manner on the same terms and with the same consideration afforded to Treehouse Leimert. Support both The Nathaniel and The Clark on 54th. We are asking Metro to give a Black-owned, woman-owned, community-rooted team — with a lower-cost to the General Fund, lower risk, and an immediately deliverable project — a fair opportunity.[1]

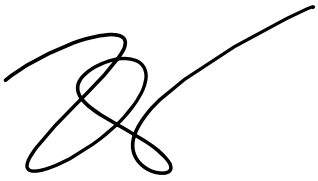
Our Request

Praxis Development Group respectfully requests that Metro:



- Accept and formally consider this unsolicited proposal under the same terms and process afforded to Treehouse Leimert;
- Authorize staff to enter into negotiations with the Clark on 54th for a workforce housing loan agreement for on the following terms: $2,500,000 loan; 3% simple interest; subordinated to the construction loan and the permanent loan; repaid by residual receipts; Metro employee housing preference covenant on 50% of all units (10 affordable units at 50% AMI + 14 unrestricted units at market rent).
- Authorize the execution of a recorded regulatory agreement establishing a Metro employee first-right-of-occupancy for 24 units (50% of the building) for the 20-year term of the loan, with an option to extend by mutual agreement; and
- If the Board wishes to expand the program, authorize staff to negotiate additional units or an extended covenant term at the same per-unit subsidy rate.

Conclusion

The Clark on 54th offers Metro a rare opportunity: workforce housing that is ready now, transit-adjacent, deeply affordable, community-rooted, and available at a total cost to Metro's general fund that is 1/10th of the request for Treehouse Leimert. The development team — the Clark Family and Praxis Development Group — is Black-owned, woman-owned, and locally based in the very community this project serves.

We responded to Metro's RFI and proposed the same loan structure that is now being approved for the Nathaniel – a 3% simple interest loan; we ask only for the same fair consideration. We welcome the opportunity to present to the Board, meet with staff, or provide any additional information needed to advance this proposal. Thank you for supporting housing along the Crenshaw Corridor.

Respectfully submitted,

Kacy Keys

Agenda items #46 (CNG contract)

SUPPORT

This item was pushed back from the May meeting partly due to concerns about Shell Oil being one of the providers. Frankly I do not care who is the provider of CNG as it's still a clean way to operate buses than gasoline or diesel.
In the grand scheme of things, so long as it's not run by gasoline or diesel, running on Clean Natural Gas (CNG) is much better and we shouldn't be swayed by small group of activists who are against any type of fossil fuels or big name corporations.
Read the atmosphere; people are getting tired of these activists. We still need to run our existing CNG buses and they need CNG to operate. Let's not waste further time in delaying what's needed only to see costs keep going up for inaction.

If anything, I'd even support Metro creating it's own natural gas subsidiary where it works alongside these companies to drill natural gas in California where it can use it's own refined LNG and CNG for itself and sell it to the market to help fund it's own operations.
We need to start looking at things like this, where Metro is it's own natural gas extractor/refiner/gas powered plant as well as Metro is it's own solar electric power plant.
Do you know that one of the largest transit rail companies in Japan, Tokyu Railways, actually owns it's own power plant? Why do you think they do that?

Dear Chair and Directors,

I am proud to represent California's 58th Assembly District, which includes Jurupa Valley, home to ENC's bus manufacturing facility. I also serve as Vice Chair of the Assembly Committee on Economic Development.

Earlier this year, I had the opportunity to tour ENC's facility and witness firsthand the skilled California workers building these buses from end to end. It is precisely the kind of American manufacturing we should be championing.

ENC has been manufacturing transit buses in California since 1975—for more than 50 years—and builds every bus entirely in the United States at its 227,000-square-foot, ISO 9001-certified facility on 17 acres in Jurupa Valley. Under its new ownership by Rivaz since 2024, the company has invested more than $50 million in facility upgrades, workforce development, and planned expansion. Employment has grown from roughly 230 workers at the time of my visit to more than 300 today, and it is still hiring and growing.

Awarding this contract will sustain and grow that significant investment right here in Southern California. It will create and support high-quality jobs while putting safe, reliable, American-made buses on Metro's streets. Every ENC bus is Buy America compliant, Altoona-tested, and FTA-approved, ensuring that transit investments strengthen California manufacturing and California workers.

ENC also operates its own manufacturing training center and partners with UC Riverside, Cal Poly Pomona, and local community colleges to develop skilled local talent, further strengthening our regional economy.

Dear CEO Wiggins and Honorable Members of the Board,

We write to you regarding the proposed award of RFP No. OP118576(2)000 for Metro's purchase of battery-electric buses. As longtime partners in developing and implementing Metro's Manufacturing Careers Policy ("MCP") and related programs, we respectfully ask the Board to postpone consideration of this item for at least one month. The disclosed scoring and recommended award raise serious and unexplained concerns, and the Board should allow sufficient time to gather and review the relevant facts before taking final action.

Jobs to Move America ("JMA") is a nonprofit organization that works with community organizations, labor unions, environmental groups, transit advocates, and workforce-development organizations to ensure that public investment in transportation and infrastructure supports quality U.S. manufacturing jobs and career opportunities for workers who face systemic barriers to employment. JMA has worked with Metro for many years and helped develop the MCP, which applies to Metro rolling-stock procurements valued at $50 million or more.

This procurement presents an extraordinary opportunity to transform Metro's fleet while creating high-quality manufacturing careers and expanding economic opportunity across the country. It is precisely the type of investment the MCP was adopted to leverage by using Metro's purchasing power to support domestic manufacturing, develop a skilled workforce, and create career pathways for people historically excluded from quality employment.

For federally funded procurements like this one, Metro implements the MCP through the U.S. Employment Plan ("USEP"). Metro incorporated the USEP into RFP No. OP118576(2)000 accordingly, yet, based on the limited information currently available, the aggregate USEP scores disclosed with the proposed award do not appear to be accurate reflections of each bidder's job quality and community impact..

El Dorado National California ("ENC") received 25.37 of the 50 available USEP points, significantly more than New Flyer's 5.5 points and RIDE's 17.75 points. That result is particularly difficult to understand, considering New Flyer and RIDE each have legally enforceable community benefits agreements, established training programs, targeted hiring commitments, and unionized workforces with collectively bargained wages and benefits. ENC, by contrast, has no comparable formalized agreements or programs and only a limited track record in these areas, having resumed production last year following its purchase out of bankruptcy.

These agreements provide concrete evidence of job quality, disadvantaged-worker, training, and accountability considerations the MCP was designed to reward. The fact that ENC received more points than both companies combined, while New Flyer's entire score was barely greater than the points available for a single USEP category, demands a detailed explanation of how Metro evaluated each proposal. Particularly in light of the fact that had New Flyer received a higher USEP score and ENC a lower one, New Flyer could have been the highest-scoring proposer overall. The unexplained USEP scores therefore raise questions not only about Metro's application of the MCP, but also about the basis for the recommended award.

JMA's concern is heightened by Metro's recent history of failing to correctly implement the USEP. Most recently, disputes over whether bidders were evaluated fairly and objectively resulted in litigation and a settlement requiring Metro to retain an expert and revise its MCP scoring criteria and process. Those reforms have not yet been fully implemented.

JMA therefore respectfully asks the Board to postpone consideration of this item for at least one month and direct Metro staff to publicly provide a complete breakdown of each proposer's USEP score.

The MCP'S Purpose and Evaluation Methodology

Metro first piloted the USEP in 2011. JMA later worked with Metro, academic experts, and federal authorities to strengthen the policy and secure approval for its use in federally funded rolling-stock procurements. JMA later helped develop the MCP adopted by this Board in 2022 and has continued providing technical assistance on its implementation.

The MCP seeks to maximize quality job creation and career development for low-income residents and people facing barriers to employment, promote equitable outcomes in disadvantaged communities, and support domestic manufacturing and assembly. It therefore requires Metro to consider commitments concerning jobs, wages, benefits, disadvantaged workers, workforce training, career pathways, recruitment partnerships, retention supports, reporting, and enforcement.

The USEP evaluation is not based solely on the dollar value of a proposer's employment commitments. While 25 of the 50 available points are awarded proportionally based on the proposer's total commitments to wages and benefits, facility investment, and workforce training, the remaining 25 points are divided equally among five separate factors– the proposer's disadvantaged-worker commitment, workforce-training programs, total number of new and retained full-time-equivalent workers, minimum fringe-benefit amounts, and minimum hourly wage rates. Metro must therefore evaluate not only how much each proposer commits to spend, but also the strength of the employment outcomes it proposes, including who will have access to the jobs, how many jobs will be created or retained, what training workers will receive, and the wages and benefits those jobs will provide.

New Flyer Has Demonstrated the Workforce Outcomes the MCP Was Designed to Encourage

New Flyer is a party to a legally enforceable, multistate Community Benefits Agreement with JMA and the Alabama Coalition for Community Benefits, a coalition of labor, civil-rights, faith, environmental-justice, and community organizations. Under that agreement, New Flyer committed to recruiting at least 45 percent of its new hires and awarding at least 20 percent of its promotions to workers from historically disadvantaged populations. Since then, nearly two-thirds of New Flyer's new hires and more than half of its promotions have gone to workers from communities that have historically faced barriers to employment.

New Flyer has also developed a three-phase workforce-training pathway that prepares participants for entry-level manufacturing jobs and electrical-technician careers. The program combines mathematical literacy, blueprint reading, workforce-readiness instruction, OSHA-10 certification, tool training, and on-the-job experience at New Flyer. It also addresses barriers to participation and retention through stipends, assistance with training costs and supplies, transportation support, and connections to childcare, housing, food, utilities, internet, and other essential services.

New Flyer also registered an electrical apprenticeship in 2024 and has worked with its unionized workforce to create additional pathways for skill development and advancement. Separately, New Flyer and JMA have provided OSHA-10 training to 259 local residents interested in manufacturing careers, approximately 25 of whom were subsequently hired by the company.

These programs directly advance the outcomes the MCP and USEP are designed to reward, including targeted recruitment, access for disadvantaged workers, technical training, industry-recognized credentials, barrier-removal supports, job placement, and career advancement. If New Flyer's proposal incorporated these established commitments, it should at minimum have received full credit in both the disadvantaged-worker and workforce-training categories.

New Flyer nevertheless received only 5.5 USEP points, barely more than the five points available for either category alone. Although its past performance does not determine its overall score, it demonstrates the experience, infrastructure, and formal partnerships necessary to carry out substantial workforce commitments. Metro should therefore explain how it evaluated those commitments and how New Flyer's entire USEP submission resulted in a score of only 5.5 points.

RIDE Has Also Made Significant, Enforceable Workforce Commitments

RIDE, formerly known as BYD, is also party to a legally enforceable Community Benefits Agreement with JMA, SMART Local 105, and community partners in Los Angeles County. The agreement established a goal of recruiting and hiring at least 40 percent of its workforce from populations facing significant barriers to employment, while also committing RIDE and its partners to develop pre-apprenticeship, apprenticeship, and supportive-service programs that create pathways into skilled union manufacturing jobs.

Although a higher USEP score would not have altered RIDE's overall standing in this procurement, we mention RIDE because the stark disparity between its score and New Flyer's suggests broader inconsistencies in Metro's application of the USEP rather than a concern limited to a single proposer. RIDE and New Flyer are similarly situated as both have formal workforce commitments, established training programs, and unionized workforces with bargained wages and benefits. If their proposals incorporated those existing commitments, one would expect them to receive at least broadly comparable credit under the disadvantaged-worker, workforce-training, job-quality, and career-development factors.

Instead, RIDE received nearly three times as many USEP points as New Flyer, while ENC, which lacks comparable formalized commitments and partnerships, received more points than both companies combined. The resulting scores are therefore facially difficult to reconcile with the record and, at minimum, require a careful inquiry into the scoring methodology and a criterion-by-criterion explanation.

Metro's Prior Implementation Problems Reinforce the Need for Independent Review

Transparency is particularly important given Metro's prior difficulties implementing the USEP and MCP. On multiple occasions, litigation related to Metro's application or enforcement of these policies resulted in revisions to its procurement language or practices.

Most recently, the HR5000 solicitation omitted numerous MCP requirements, including provisions concerning new and retained workers, classification-specific wages and benefits, Labor Value Forms, measurement of disadvantaged-worker commitments, certified payroll reporting, and a jobs coordinator. Metro staff nevertheless represented to the Board that the procurement complied with the MCP.

Metro subsequently acknowledged the omissions, modified the contract, and stated that it would take steps to ensure future procurements included language consistent with the MCP. Metro also agreed to substantially revise its evaluation procedures in response to broader concerns about procurement scoring, including the scoring of proposers' USEPs. To date, however, Metro has not engaged JMA regarding how those concerns are being addressed.

The current scoring only deepens those concerns. The substantial and unexplained disparities among the USEP scores are difficult to reconcile with the MCP's stated criteria and objectives. Standing alone, those results warrant careful scrutiny. Viewed against Metro's history of disputes over USEP application and implementation, they reinforce longstanding concerns among JMA, labor and community partners, and industry participants about whether the evaluation process was applied objectively, consistently, and in accordance with the MCP.

In light of Metro's prior problems implementing the MCP and evaluating the USEP, the unexplained scores in this procurement raise serious questions about whether the proposals were assessed through an objective, well-informed process that faithfully reflected the policy's goals and criteria. Those questions can only be fully evaluated once the underlying proposals, scoring materials, and related documents are disclosed and reviewed.

The Board should not again be placed in the position of approving a major contract without sufficient information to independently determine whether its policy was properly implemented. Providing the underlying scoring now would help avoid unnecessary bid protests or further litigation and give all parties confidence that this important procurement was conducted fairly, transparently, and in a manner that advances Metro's policy goals.

The Board Should Require the Underlying Scoring To Be Made Public Before Authorizing Award

The procurement materials provided to the Board disclose only each proposer's total USEP score. They do not show the points awarded under the individual criteria, the evaluators' reasoning, or the methodology used to compare the proposals.

Without that information, the Board cannot determine whether the RFP incorporated and consistently applied all MCP requirements, whether each proposer received appropriate credit for its workforce commitments, whether evaluators properly assessed the quality, credibility, and anticipated outcomes of those commitments, or whether there is a rational basis for the significant disparity among the scores.

JMA therefore respectfully asks the Board to direct Metro staff to provide to the public:

1. A criterion-by-criterion breakdown of each proposer's USEP score, including the points awarded for each factor and subfactor;
2. The formulas, benchmarks, normalization methods, and other methodologies used to calculate and compare all scores;
3. An explanation of how Metro assessed the quality, credibility, feasibility, and anticipated outcomes of each proposer's workforce commitments, together with confirmation that all applicable MCP requirements and disclosed criteria were applied consistently and an explanation of any deviation.

Alternatively, if Metro does not provide this information directly, JMA asks the Board to direct staff to respond promptly to any relevant Public Records Act requests from JMA and other interested parties, with sufficient time for the disclosed materials to be reviewed and any recommendations concerning the scoring process to be submitted before the Board takes final action.

We are asking the Board to obtain and publicly disclose the information necessary to determine whether the policy the Board adopted was applied rationally, consistently, and as intended.

If the scoring was properly conducted, the requested information should demonstrate that. If it was not, the Board should have an opportunity to address the problem before approving a procurement of this magnitude and establishing a precedent for future MCP-covered contracts.

We therefore urge the Board to defer consideration of the OP118576(2)000 award for at least one month and require disclosure of the requested information so that the Board and the public can meaningfully review the USEP scoring before final action.

Thank you for your consideration and for your continued commitment to ensuring that Metro's investments deliver lasting benefits to workers, communities, and the public.

Sincerely,

Agenda items #5, 55, 56, 57 (Metro Board composititon reform)

SUPPORT

Reform of the Metro Board is long overdue and highly support a board member must be a rider. However, I am a bit wary that "regular transit rider" is too broad as I don't want fare evaders and people who blast loud music be represented on the board just because they fit the "rider" description either. I would like the "rider" to be a representative who has a background in finance, law, construction, engineering, procurement, security, mass transit management, real estate development experience, etc. much as how mass transit riders of such backgrounds are the ones who are on the board in places like New York, London, Paris, Tokyo, Seoul, Taipei, Hong Kong and Singapore.

Agenda items #47 (Award BEB contract to El Dorado National)

SUPPORT

I understand Supervisor Hahn held some reservations in the Operations, Safety, and Customer Service Meeting last week as it's not union made. But I would like to remind that El Dorado National is a California based company which is based in Riverside, and that our precious taxpayer dollars should be used to help California based businesses and retain our taxpayer dollars right here in SoCal as well as going for who is able to provide the best price and top points as top priority rather than whether it's unionized or not. And, we should be supportive of this Riverside based company to help build their experience and technical know-how so that we can move away from the New Flyer and Gillig duopoly system. What better way to do that by investing our taxpayer dollars into a company based right here in CA and in Riverside? And if something needs fixing, it's much more quicker to call up a company and bring in technicians from Riverside than where ultimately the money goes to a company based in Winnipeg, Canada.

Support awarding the BEB contract to El Dorado National.

Agenda items #13 (Open Streets Program)

NEEDS MORE CONSIDERATION

I am formally OPPOSED to Metro forever funding the open streets and CicLAvia events as if it is welfare benefit for City of LA and shady non-profit organizations who are more interested in keeping Metro forever funding these types of events rather than the original intent of these events which was to permanently designate certain areas of City of LA to be car-free zones and be permanently open streets for pedestrians and cyclists. Rather it seems they would prefer to help keep the existence of these 501(c)(3) organizations funded and not have City of LA do it's job of creating car free zones in past places where CicLAvia has taken place, such as along Hollywood Blvd, Sunset Blvd, Melrose Ave, Koreatown, Silverlake/Echo Park, Highland Park, etc. all of which are within City of LA boundaries.

Item #13 seems to reduce the funding to this program which I would support, but long term this program should not be made permanent and MOVE to defund this program so that precious funding should be retained for Metro services (more faregates, TAP to Exit, better maintenance of stations and buses, etc.) and redirect the responsibility to the City of LA and LADOT to move past these events from pilot festivity stage to a permanent car-free section for their own city.

To whom it may concern,

My name is Benjamin Verheiden. As a disabled urban planning (bachelor's) and sustainability (master's) graduate that has researched transit bus manufacturers for 15 years, I highly recommend that The Board approve this 40 feet battery electric bus order of 220 units to ENC.

Buying from ENC will do a direct economic injection into the state and national economy being an entirely US owned and operated manufacturer based in Riverside, California. This will create much needed competition in the US public transit bus market that is currently a duopoly between Gillig and New Flyer (New Flyer also bid on this contract) as the result of the full shift towards combustion at the federal level. ENC has a satisfactory performance record in the Metro bus fleet with its CNG powered buses according to the Attachment B - Procurement Summary document Metro provided for this meeting. This same Attachment B - Procurement Summary also has ENC as the lowest priced and highest weighted average score bid of the three bus manufacturer bids (ENC, New Flyer, and BYD's US subsidiary RIDE) by a decent margin.

In response to public comment on this item at the 7/16/2026 Operations, Safety, and Customer Experience Committee meeting where public testimony was concerned about 1) ENC's lack of a community benefits agreement, and, 2) Labor unions compared to New Flyer and BYD/RIDE, LA Metro responded in their own documents for this 7/23/2026 meeting with their U.S. Employment Program (USEP) Evaluation Framework in the revised Attachment B - Procurement Summary for this meeting.

In that framework: "ENC received an overall score of 37.29/50 (21.40 pts for qualitative evaluation and 15.89 pts for quantitative evaluation)." ENC was stated as "provided a contract-specific USEP Total Dollar Commitment of $107,387,488 and the most comprehensive contract-specific workforce plan. ENC provided measurable commitments for hiring, workforce hours, wages, benefits, Disadvantaged Worker participation, and workforce investment. ENC also demonstrated how it would achieve those commitments through structured employee training, mentorship, career development, and workforce retention. Additionally, the proposal included partnerships with community colleges, workforce agencies, veterans' organizations, and re-entry programs to strengthen recruitment and develop a skilled manufacturing workforce."

BYD/RIDE "received an overall score of 36.50/50 (11.50 pts for qualitative evaluation and 25 pts for quantitative evaluation)." mainly due to having a much higher USEP Total Dollar Commitment than ENC. However, BYD/RIDE according to Metro “provided minimal detail regarding workforce training, employee development, Disadvantaged Worker implementation, and supporting workforce initiatives.” This lack of detail on this critical part of the proposal resulted in BYD/RIDE scoring lower than ENC overall despite the much higher USEP Total Dollar Commitment.

New Flyer was none of the above, receiving “an overall score of 5.50/50 (5.50 pts for qualitative evaluation and 0 pts for quantitative evaluation).” LA Metro noted that “New Flyer’s facility-based proposal required deviations from labor contract requirements by relying on its existing labor agreements. Additionally, New Flyer expressly stated that it was not making commitments for New Hires or Retained Workers and did not submit contract-specific Labor Value Forms.” Metro also noted that: “New Flyer did not include any USEP commitments for the Disadvantaged Worker Commitment, Workforce Training, Full Time Equivalent (FTE) Commitments, or USEP Total Dollar Commitment criteria.”

I also have serious concerns about New Flyer’s and especially RIDE’s buses as of late too. New Flyer is currently in the midst of a major battery recall of 680 battery electric and hydrogen buses, and a far more major anti-lock brake and stability control indicator light failure recall of 6,673 buses.

BYD’s RIDE subsidiary on the other hand has had an unsatisfactory performance record with LA Metro, including its newest 95 bus order. The February 19, 2026 Zero Emission Bus (ZEB) Program Quarterly Update mentioned in its findings that the BYD/RIDE buses (on page 2 of the report): “Recently identified an issue with BYD bus drive motors which required grounding the fleet to prevent further damage. The issue is under investigation and service will return to zero emission as soon as possible.” Furthermore on page 5: “Challenges persist in ensuring quality control on the production line and providing warranty support.”

Finally, ENC would have shutdown in totality if it weren’t for Rivaz Inc buying ENC from REV Group at the point of shutdown on October 18, 2024 according to the revised LA Metro board report for this agenda item. Instead of shutting ENC down in totality, Rivaz invested more than $50 million into restarting the company and production. This action should be applauded, and provides urgently needed competition in an increasingly consolidated US public transit bus market.

Between New Flyer’s recent major recalls and BYD/RIDE’s poor recent performance record from LA Metro’s own documents along with their higher priced and lower weighted average score bids, much poorer qualitative evaluations compared to ENC, and the need to increase competition in the marketplace, I strongly recommend that The Board approve this 40 feet battery-electric bus order of 220 units to ENC.

Sincerely,
Benjamin Verheiden

Re: Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority Motion to add new Board Seat for Labor

Dear Metro Board of Directors,

The LA/OC Building & Construction Trades Council along with The Los Angeles County Federation of Labor are writing to express our strong support for the motion to create three additional voting seats on the Metro Board of Directors, including one specifically for a labor representative. As you know, at tomorrow's Metro Board Meeting, the Metro Board of Directors will be voting on a proposal which would add 3 members to the staff recommendation for the Board: a rider appointed by the county supervisors residing in an unincorporated area, the County Executive, and a labor representative. This proposal gives the working people of this community a meaningful seat at the table of one of our most important public agencies.

The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority consists of several Board Members, who set policy, coordinate, plan, fund, build, and operate transit services and transportation programs throughout Los Angeles County. Labor has always been at the heart of these programs and has been the staunchest of partners with Metro from program inception to system operations. Metro's Project Labor Agreement and Construction Careers Policy make union labor an essential part of Metro's construction program, and we have already played an important part in many of the biggest wins for Metro over the last decade and more. With 28 major infrastructure projects slated for delivery by 2028 and the 2028 Olympics driving major transit investments, labor is the engine behind Metro's slate of projects. The rationale is clear: Labor is the foundation that has already built Metro projects. Labor should have a vote on what gets built.

The timing of this proposal also makes sense. Former Metro Board Chair Dutra formed an Ad Hoc Board Composition Committee to review the board's structure, meaning this push for a full voting labor seat is landing at a moment when board composition is already actively under review. As a member of the ad-hoc committee, Executive Secretary Ernesto Medrano has worked with his colleagues to make this idea a reality. The Metro Board seat proposals for small cities and transit rider advocates are also being voted on in this same meeting, a clear sign that the Board is already actively considering adding voices beyond the current elected-official structure. But even within the elected official structure, the County Executive will be elected by all of Los Angeles County and be responsible for representing the entire region. Without the County Executive being seated on the Board, there will be significant portions of unincorporated LA County without representation. Item 57 ensures that the entirety of our county is receiving the representation it deserves.

The LA/OC Building & Construction Trades Council sees firsthand how the hard work of our members continues to build the essential infrastructure that keeps California safe, connected, and moving forward. We strongly support making a member of our labor family a full voting member on the LA Metro Board, and we respectfully urge your support for this proposal.

Respectfully,

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Dear Metro Board,

As a car-free Angeleno (well, Santa Monican) and therefore regular user of the Metro, I wanted to make my position clear on tomorrow's Items:

- Item #5: At the very least, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition:
  - Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (c'mon this feels basic)
  - Create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance (do the job)
  - Adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.
- Item #55: doesn't guarantee a seat for the County CEO when it should.

Dear Metro Board,

Unfortunately, I have to work and cannot attend or call into Thursday's meeting. However, as a Los Angeles resident and occasional metro rider, I have to weigh in on some important issues that are up for discussion. One of my deepest desires as an Aneleno is to have public transit be a more viable, reliable option for me and my neighbors.

Regarding Item #5, the staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (as is standard in most major cities internationally), create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

For Item #55, if it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; that should be amended.

On Item #56, I do not support adding another small city seat.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Personally I would also really like to see a minimum ridership requirement for anyone serving on the metro board. If the board makes decisions regarding this public service, then they should use it!

Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Nathaniel Grossman

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing in my personal capacity regarding Items 5, 55, 56, and 57.

Item 5 — DO NOT SUPPORT, MAJOR AMENDMENTS NEEDED
I appreciate staff's work, but I believe the recommendation reflects the minimum amount of reform rather than the level of reform Metro deserves. At a minimum, the future County Executive should have a dedicated voting seat on the Board. Additionally, Metro should require professional qualifications for appointed Board members, establish minimum participation requirements with meaningful consequences for chronic non-participation, and revise its recusal rules so that motions require a majority of the non-recused members to pass.

Item 55 — DO NOT SUPPORT
I cannot support this motion because it does not guarantee the future County Executive a dedicated voting seat on the Metro Board. As Los Angeles County's governance evolves under Measure G, Metro's governance should evolve alongside it. The County Executive will provide continuity, administrative expertise, and a countywide perspective that no other position can offer.

Item 56 — DO NOT SUPPORT
Adding another small-city seat moves Metro in the wrong direction. The Board should be structured to encourage regional thinking, not further incentivize parochial decision-making. Metro exists to operate an integrated transportation network that serves the entire county, and its governance should reflect that mission.

Item 57 — SUPPORT ONLY IF AMENDED
I support adding the County Executive as a dedicated voting member of the Metro Board. However, I do not support raising the population threshold for the City of Los Angeles, which would effectively reduce the City's representation. The County Executive seat should be added without eliminating an existing Los Angeles seat.

Metro has grown into one of the largest and most consequential transit agencies in the United States. Its governance should reflect that reality by prioritizing expertise, accountability, participation, and regional decision-making over jurisdictional politics.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Metro Board,

I'm a regular Metro and Metrolink rider and serve on the Northridge South Neighborhood Council, where first/last mile transit access is one of my main issues. I've read the staff report and the motions. Here's where I stand.

Item 5 — Alternative A: Not Enough

Alternative A lets appointing authorities seat riders or subject matter experts, but doesn't require it. Metro's own outreach — 1,300+ engagement touchpoints, 900 survey responses — found that rider representation was the single most consistent ask from the public. Responding to that with a "you can if you want to" isn't reform.

Beyond the rider seat, I want the Board to go further on three things:

Professional qualifications. There are zero qualification requirements to govern a $9 billion agency. That should change. Transportation planning, engineering, public health, finance — something.

Participation requirements with real consequences. Members routinely walk in and out of meetings because Metro is a secondary responsibility. Cap absences, require regular system ridership, and actually enforce it.

Fix the recusal rules. Right now a recusal is effectively a no vote — motions still need a majority of the full 13-member board. If two members recuse, you still need 7 out of 11. The threshold should adjust to non-recused members only. Recusal should remove someone from the vote, not let them quietly block it.

Item 55 — Bass, Najarian, Barger, Dupont-Walker: Support with one caveat

This is the right motion. It guarantees a dedicated voting rider seat, gives the County CEO a clear path to the board under Measure G, and requires one of the Mayor's public appointees to be a transit advocate. The MBTA and WMATA have both made this commitment in statute — Metro should too.

My one caveat: the CEO seat should be guaranteed, not left to the Board of Supervisors' discretion. Giving the same body that controls the County delegation the option to include the CEO isn't the same as guaranteeing it.

Item 56 — Hahn, Richardson, Sandoval: Cannot support

I get the concern — smaller cities do face real disadvantages in the City Selection Committee's population-weighted process. But adding a dedicated small city seat makes the parochialism problem worse, not better. The board already struggles with members prioritizing their own districts over the regional system. One more seat built around a single jurisdiction's interests isn't the fix. If smaller cities need more voice, that conversation belongs in the City Selection Committee and League of Cities processes, not in board composition.

Item 57 — Fasana Proposal: Partial support

I support a dedicated County CEO seat. The CEO will be the only elected official with a countywide mandate, and their responsibilities will overlap directly with Metro's work. Leaving that seat optional for the Board of Supervisors doesn't cut it.

I don't support changing the City of LA threshold from 35% to 43.75%. Per the 2020 Census, LA City's share of the combined city population is about 43.4% — just below the proposed cutoff — so this change would immediately strip a seat from the City's contingency. And the staff report notes this share has straddled the 43.75% midpoint at every census since 1960, so the seat would likely keep flipping back and forth. Meanwhile, 74% of Metro ridership originates in the City, 64.8% of bus revenue-miles run through it, and it holds 56% of the County's zero-vehicle households. Cutting City representation based on a population technicality when the City generates most of the system's actual usage doesn't make sense.

Thanks for the opportunity to comment.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing to oppose items 5, 55, 56, 57.

For Item 5, the recommendation by staff is the least amount of reform possible. The Board needs to make sure the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition, Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members. They also need to create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item 55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO. Anything that does not require a seat for the County CEO should be a non-starter.

On Item 56, the Board does not need another small city seat. We need regional planning, not more small city parochialism.

On Item 57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Hello Metro Board,

Having gone from exclusively driving in LA to get around to being car free and taking metro and the bus for the last five years, I feel I should have some say and have some stake in getting Metro leadership that are actual subject matter experts (and Metro users) on the system.

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. If Metro wants to be the "world class" transit system it always claims it wants to be, and properly serve their everyday riders, then it should be led by those who are actually experts in transit. The reason our system has so many ongoing issues is because of the fact that our board is compromised simply of politicians who do not use the system themselves and only want to serve in the best interests of their own constituents, which does not represent ALL Metro riders in the slightest.

Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

I use the metro everyday to get to work and these changes will help make my life much better

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Dear Metro Board,

- On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. Again? Why?
At a minimum, the Board should ensure the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

- On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Let's accelerate progress and transit with the proper thoughtful and ambitious changes much needed already.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Chasen Daniels

Dear Metro Board Members,

I have been going to CicLAvia events for years now and they are one of my favorite things about living in LA. There is no better way to get to know the city and enjoy life here.

My name is Kathryn Fogarty, a resident of Pasadena. I'm asking you to pull Agenda Item #13 (File 2026-0432) from the consent agenda for full discussion.

As written, the staff report leaves large-scale open street events unfunded through 2027 and the first half of 2028 and punts any permanent program decision until after the 2028 Olympics.

This puts open street organizations like CicLAvia and open streets programs like ActiveSGV's 626 Golden Streets/Active Streets at real risk. These events matter far beyond the region's biggest cities. Smaller cities use them to bring safe walking, biking, and transit access to neighborhoods that otherwise see little investment in active transportation infrastructure.

Metro built this movement over the last decade. Walking it back now undercuts Metro's own ridership and multi-modal goals, right as the region prepares to host the world for the Olympics.

I'm asking the Board to:

- Direct staff to find a creative funding solution to keep open street events running now, rather than shutting down the conversation until after the Olympics. A gap of more than two years before this is even revisited is unacceptable and puts the program's survival at risk
- Fund open street events through 2027 and into 2028—don't delay the decision.
- Make open street events a permanent, dedicated program, not a grant line competing for survival each cycle.
- Protect the multi-neighborhood, 4+ mile format that has made open street events successful in the region.

Please pull this item from consent.

Thank you for your consideration,
Kathryn Fogarty

Dear Metro board,

I ride metro for roughly two commutes per week. If train frequency was higher and delays were less frequent (e.g. due to lack of signal pre-emption), I would hope to ride it more frequently. If metro board members experienced this every week, I would imagine these issues would have a higher chance of being resolved.

Given this, on Item #5 I believe Metro should: (i) require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, (ii) create minimum participation requirements (e.g. taking transit every week to work) for members with consequences for non-compliance, and (iii) adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item #55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Item #56 does not clearly benefit the interests of the majority of riders.

For Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

For item #27 I urge you to vote NO for diverting $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts.

Finally for item #13, the Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Thank you,
Geoff Fudenberg

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

I am personally not a fan of how politician heavy our Metro board of directors is set up to be, especially as some members are city council members or mayors that represent my district but that I don't actually have a voice as they are not from my city and thus are not truly accountable to me or voters in my city. I think ensuring that the future County CEO is a full member of the board is a step in the right direction. Some politicians should be on the board, and the CEO will be accountable to everyone. Additionally, I strongly support requiring any appointees to have relevant experience. This is how many transit agencies across the country pick their appointees.

Hi Metro Board,

I am writing in support of Items 5, 55, and 56.

Metro should benefit from perspectives beyond elected officials alone. I support expanding eligibility to include transit riders, advocates, and subject matter experts who can bring valuable firsthand and professional experience to the Board.

At the same time, simply allowing a rider to be appointed is not enough. Riders should have a guaranteed voting seat, which is why I strongly support Item 56.

There is an important difference between someone who uses Metro occasionally and someone who depends on it as their primary transportation. When a bus does not arrive or a train is significantly delayed, some riders may be able to call an Uber or drive instead. Others may be late to work, lose wages, miss school, miss appointments, or be left without another option. Those experiences should be directly represented in the decisions that shape the system.

I also believe one rider seat should be understood as a starting point, not the full extent of rider representation. Metro serves an extremely large and diverse county, and one person cannot fully represent workers, students, seniors, disabled riders, parents, immigrants, and communities with very different levels of service.

As Metro develops the selection process, it should prioritize people who regularly depend on Metro and who understand the consequences when the system fails. That lived experience is a form of expertise and should be treated as such.

I ride Metro every day, and I am committed to helping make it better because people like my parents and me deserved better when we had to rely on it. Current and future riders deserve better as well.

I respectfully urge the Board to vote FOR Items 5, 55, and 56.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

In solidarity,

Adriana Bravo

Hi,
This month the board has the opportunity to address critical deficiencies in its board makeup by de-politicizing and professionalizing the Metro Board.

While I am pleased to see the attachment to item 5 recommend that all appointing bodies appoint subject matter experts with rider experience, and asks them to pledge to take metro multiple times a month, these should all be explicit requirements. I have no faith that any flexibility will be used in practice without making it a specific requirement. A simple language alteration, requiring subject matter expertise and requiring regular ridership, would turn this from an empty motion into a spectacular one, and would eliminate the need for advocacy groups to fight this on the state level, which is coming absent this change.

Second, I am in staunch opposition to the small cities seat in item 56 and the adjustment of LA population threshold in 57. Each would even further dilute YIMBY majorities with NIMBY representation, and would be disastrous for the board.

A labor representative is also not ideal, as labor is likely to prioritize building highways, when our environmental goals should lead to a cessation of further highway construction/widening.

Ultimately, subject matter expertise should be the guiding light on who belongs on the board, and regular ridership should be required of all members. There is risk of a dedicated rider representative removing the perceived obligation of other board members to keep rider experience and concern in mind, and this is mitigated by enforcing regular ridership for all members.

Finally, while board reform is being contemplated, a bureaucratic flaw in board rules must be altered - when a board member recuses from a vote for any reason, the threshold to clear a majority should thusly be lowered - else, all recusals effectively become 'no' votes, eliminating the point of half of all recusals in the first place. This is completely nonsensical and opens the door to corruption.

In regards to agenda items about changing Board membership (5, 55, 56) they're all horrible. Part of the reason Metro runs such an unreliable service is that the Board is made up 100% of people who do not rely on transit (riding Metro to board meetings doesn't count). Too often the Board throws riders under the bus for the sake of political expediency. There need to be actual riders on the Board, not just 1, and not just riders hand picked by LA county's anti-transit political class.

On item 13, the Planning and Programming Committee recommendations; I would like to express how outrageous it is that Metro is preparing to zero out open street funding essentially at the bidding of corrupt unaccountable international organizations. FIFA, and the IOC/LA28 should not be in a position to unilaterally dictate an end to open street events that Angelenos love (orr attach ridiculous terms, why does CicLAvia have to be on the day of the FIFA final and then nothing for the rest of the year?) Who in the world does this Board see as its main constituency??? This isn't an issue in any other host cities but ours, why is this even being considered? Why is the Metro Board filled with so many people who are so anti everything but cars?

Dear Metro Board Members,

My name is Dr. Ivy Kwok, and I am an environmental engineer / professor at UCLA and Glendale Community College. As a proud and frequent rider on LA Metro, I strongly support ITEM 55 AND 56 to include a regular transit rider/advocate as a voting member of the Metro Board of Directors.

I urge the LA Metro Board to vote to approve this motion and for the Chief Executive Officer to authorize the coordination with Metro's community advisory councils, community-based organizations, and other stakeholder groups to develop a transparent, inclusive, and accessible process for selecting the regular transit rider representative.

Thank you to Directors Barger, Bass, Dupont-Walker, Hahn, Horvath, Najarian, Richardson, and Sandoval for your leadership in advancing this motion.

Warmest regards,
Ivy

Dear Metro Board et al.

I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate VOTING seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

ADDITIONALLY I am in support of some of the recommendations and dissents brought forward by Streets for All:

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. In addition to a ridership seat, at a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for AT LEAST ONE appointed board members,

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

To the LA Metro Board of Directors:

My name is Fred Neal, Jr. I am a co-founder of Ride New Orleans, a transit advocacy organization; a board member of the TransitCenter Foundation; and a former Board Commissioner and Chair of the New Orleans Regional Transit Authority (RTA). I strongly support including a regular transit rider/advocate as a voting member of the Metro Board of Directors.

During my eight years of service on the RTA Board in New Orleans, I brought the lived experiences and perspectives of everyday transit riders into the decisions that shaped our transit system. Having a seat at the table provided riders with direct access to agency leadership and helped advance service improvements and major capital investments that expanded and enhanced transit options, particularly for many of our most vulnerable riders.

Public institutions that steward taxpayer dollars and provide essential public services are strongest when the people they serve have a meaningful voice in their governance. Community representation helps ensure that decisions are informed by lived experience, strengthens public trust, and reinforces the democratic principle that those most affected by public investments should have a role in shaping them. That is why I am encouraged that the Metro Board is considering adding a transit rider as a voting member.

I have followed the success of voter-supported investments through Measures R and M, as well as Metro's efforts to expand and improve the transit system in preparation for global events such as the FIFA World Cup and the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Ensuring that transit riders have a direct voice in governance will help create a more accountable, responsive, and effective transit system, one that is prepared to support these major international events while continuing to meet the daily transportation needs of Los Angeles residents.

Finally, I want to thank Move LA, ACT-LA, and the many grassroots transit advocacy organizations that have worked tirelessly to create this opportunity for meaningful change in Los Angeles. Their leadership and commitment to elevating the voices of transit riders have helped advance a stronger vision for public transportation.

Sincerely,

Fred Neal, Jr.

The Long Beach Gray Panthers support having a transit rider advocate as a voting member to the LA Metro Board. Many of our 100 members regularly ride Metro busses daily.

Too often people making the decisions on Board issues do not ride or use public transit. Better decisions are made when riders are included in the decision-making process.

Hello,

I'm writing to voice my support for the proposals to establish one or more rider advocate positions on the Metro Board, joining groups such as LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA in this effort. I want to thank Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass for putting forward motions that work toward genuine rider representation.

As this moves forward, it's essential that any such seat come with full voting rights and adequate resources. Hahn's motion calls for technical and staffing support for the rider seat, and this piece is essential so that whoever holds the position is properly equipped to participate in a meaningful way.

Riders themselves need to have a voice in the Board's decision-making, since they understand best what challenges and needs exist across our transit systems. Occasional ridership by some Board members isn't a substitute for representation by people who use the system regularly — particularly those who depend on it as their primary mode of transportation. These rider seat proposals address a real gap in how our transit system is governed.

Thank you for your consideration!

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

All of my students at Exceptional Minds are on the spectrum and many of them are unable to drive. The bus routes have failed them time and time again. The few times I've needed to take the bus to work the bus was always 30 minutes late. We need representation on the board of people who actually rely on public transportation.

Thank you so much!

Sincerely,
Stevie Larsen

I ride Metro everyday from my home in DTLA to my job as a professor at UCLA and to see friends, go to the gym, run errands, and explore the city. We need someone on the board who actually has regular experience across transit modalities.

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA.

I also support the Metro Board to:

• Institute a requirement of professional qualifications, experience, and/or academic expertise in transportation or urban planning for a number of board members (at least 1).
• Devote at least one seat for a democratically elected board member that is directly accountable to transit voters and has voting power in the board.

I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Riders belong on the Metro Board. South Bay Forward joins LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA in supporting the motions that would create one or more rider advocate seats, and I'm grateful to Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass for opening that path.

One request as this moves forward: whatever seat emerges needs full voting power and real resources behind it. Hahn's motion gets this right by specifying technical and staffing support. Without that backing, a rider representative arrives at the table unprepared to participate meaningfully. A seat without capacity is not a voice.

No one understands the daily realities of our system better than the people who depend on it. Some Board members ride occasionally; that's not the same as riding every day, and it's certainly not the same as having no alternative. Regular riders, especially transit-dependent ones, hold knowledge this Board currently has no direct channel to. These motions close that gap.

Thank you for your consideration.

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Hello,

I am writing in support of the metro board creating one or more rider advocate seats, with all of the staffing, accountability, and powers that come with such a seat.

As a transit rider and taxpayer, I was very dissapointed in the boards choice to throw out metro staff and the overwhelming majority of la county's opinion on the k line south route to select the Hawthorne blvd alignment; a route that is not funded or has any real path to funding or completion based on its ridership estimates and permitting issues. The metro board is not working in the interests of the people who put money and trust into this system that makes traversing Los Angeles possible/tolerable in a time when traffic is only getting worse. The fact that many metro board members from their own admission do not depend on metro to get to work is part of the problem.

The LA metro system can be an amazing resource for those who live and work here, but for too long it's been hampered by small pockets of homeowners who insist on endless debate and placating rather than actual progress. We need to move beyond this paralysis and start putting money into solutions over policies and bickering. Start building trains.

Thank you for your consideration.

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Riders belong on the Metro Board. South Bay Forward joins LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA in supporting the motions that would create one or more rider advocate seats, and I'm grateful to Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass for opening that path.

One request as this moves forward: whatever seat emerges needs full voting power and real resources behind it. Hahn's motion gets this right by specifying technical and staffing support. Without that backing, a rider representative arrives at the table unprepared to participate meaningfully. A seat without capacity is not a voice.

No one understands the daily realities of our system better than the people who depend on it. Some Board members ride occasionally; that's not the same as riding every day, and it's certainly not the same as having no alternative. Regular riders, especially transit-dependent ones, hold knowledge this Board currently has no direct channel to. These motions close that gap.

Thank you for your consideration.

Good morning,

I write in support of the motion to have a rider advocate on Metro's board. It's critical to have a voice on the board who regularly uses transit and understands riders' needs.

Also, please ensure the seat has full voting power and staffing support to ensure meaningful participation.

Thanks very much,

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

RE: Support for Agenda Item 56: Establishing a Dedicated Transit Rider Seat and Small City Seat on the Metro Board

Dear Metro Board Members,

Strong Towns Artesia stands firmly in support of Agenda Item 56. By introducing voting seats for a regular transit rider and a representative from our smaller cities, this motion breathes new life into the governance of LA Metro.

We are driven by the belief that our system functions best when it reflects the lived experiences of the people who rely on it every day. A representative who understands the rhythm of daily transit use is essential to building a world-class system that Angelenos don't just use, but genuinely love.

Furthermore, honoring the diverse, multifaceted perspectives of our smaller cities ensures that our regional planning remains grounded, equitable, and responsive to every corner of the county.

We are curious about the transformative potential of this shift and are confident that a more inclusive, diverse Board will yield smarter, more resilient outcomes for all. This is the kind of bold, people-centered leadership that builds trust and strengthens our communities.

We respectfully and enthusiastically urge you to vote YES on Agenda Item 56. Thank you for your commitment to a more accessible, effective Metro.

RE: Support for Motion to Expand Representation on the Metro Board of Directors

Dear Chair Bass and Members of the Metro Board,

On behalf of the City of Paramount, we express our support for Supervisor Janice Hahn's motion to expand representation on the Metro Board of Directors by establishing a voting seat for a regular transit rider and a dedicated voting seat representing smaller cities throughout Los Angeles County.

Metro plays a critical role in connecting communities across the region. As the agency continues to make decisions that impact mobility, transportation investments, and the daily lives of millions of residents, it is important that the Board includes a broad range of perspectives from the communities and riders it serves.

A dedicated voting seat for a regular transit rider will provide valuable firsthand insight from those who rely on Metro's services every day. Likewise, a dedicated seat for smaller cities will ensure that municipalities with unique transportation needs and limited resources have a meaningful voice in regional transportation decisions.

We appreciate the motion's direction to develop a transparent and inclusive process for selecting these representatives, including recommendations regarding eligibility, appointment procedures, terms, and the resources necessary for successful participation on the Board.

The City of Paramount supports efforts to strengthen Metro's governance structure and ensure that all communities across Los Angeles County have an opportunity to be represented. We respectfully urge the Metro Board to support Supervisor Hahn's motion and direct staff to move forward with the requested recommendations.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to improving transportation throughout Los Angeles County.

Dear Chair Bass and Members of the Metro Board,

On behalf of the City of Cerritos, I express support for Los Angeles County Supervisor Janice Hahn's motion to expand representation on the Metro Board of Directors by establishing a dedicated voting seat for a regular transit rider and a dedicated voting seat representing smaller cities throughout Los Angeles County.

Metro plays a critical role in connecting communities across the region, including the City of Cerritos. As the agency continues to make decisions that impact mobility, transportation investments, and the daily lives of millions of residents, it is important that the Board includes a broad range of perspectives from the communities and riders it serves. A dedicated voting seat for a regular transit rider will provide valuable firsthand insight from those who rely on Metro's services every day. The City of Cerritos appreciates the motion's direction to develop a transparent and inclusive process for selecting these representatives, including recommendations regarding eligibility, appointment procedures, terms, and the resources necessary for successful participation on the Board.

As a smaller city within the region, the City of Cerritos supports efforts to strengthen Metro's governance structure and ensure that all communities across Los Angeles County have an opportunity to be represented. We respectfully urge the Metro Board to support Supervisor Hahn's motion and direct staff to move forward with the requested recommendations.

Thank you in advance for your consideration and commitment to improving transportation throughout Los Angeles County. RE: Support for Agenda Item 56: Establishing a Dedicated Transit Rider Seat and Small City Seat on the Metro Board

Dear Metro Board Members,

We at Strong Towns Los Angeles want to lend our support for Agenda Item 56, authored by Directors Hahn, Richardson and Sandoval, which establishes one additional voting seat for a regular transit rider and one additional voting seat representing Los Angeles County's small cities.

We believe this motion is a stepping stone towards a more effective governance structure for Los Angeles County. Having someone who understands how the system functions on a day-to-day basis is crucial to building a world class system that Angelenos not only use, but love.

Additionally, having a representative that can speak and vote on behalf of the smaller cities of Los Angeles County is a great way to ensure our system is meeting the transportation needs of the county as a whole. Adding this representative to the board composition will help create the type of governance that is more familiar with the context and challenges of all our cities, no matter their size.

Not only will adding these board positions increase the efficacy of LA Metro, but it will show the people residing in the county that the Board listens to their input.
We respectfully urge the Metro Board to vote YES on Agenda Item 56.

Thank you for your consideration.

Agenda items #5, 55, 56, 57 (Metro Board composititon reform)

SUPPORT

Reform of the Metro Board is long overdue and highly support a board member must be a rider. However, I am a bit wary that "regular transit rider" is too broad as I don't want fare evaders and people who blast loud music be represented on the board just because they fit the "rider" description either. I would like the "rider" to be a representative who has a background in finance, law, construction, engineering, procurement, security, mass transit management, real estate development experience, etc. much as how mass transit riders of such backgrounds are the ones who are on the board in places like New York, London, Paris, Tokyo, Seoul, Taipei, Hong Kong and Singapore.

Agenda items #47 (Award BEB contract to El Dorado National)

SUPPORT

I understand Supervisor Hahn held some reservations in the Operations, Safety, and Customer Service Meeting last week as it's not union made. But I would like to remind that El Dorado National is a California based company which is based in Riverside, and that our precious taxpayer dollars should be used to help California based businesses and retain our taxpayer dollars right here in SoCal as well as going for who is able to provide the best price and top points as top priority rather than whether it's unionized or not. And, we should be supportive of this Riverside based company to help build their experience and technical know-how so that we can move away from the New Flyer and Gillig duopoly system. What better way to do that by investing our taxpayer dollars into a company based right here in CA and in Riverside? And if something needs fixing, it's much more quicker to call up a company and bring in technicians from Riverside than where ultimately the money goes to a company based in Winnipeg, Canada.

Support awarding the BEB contract to El Dorado National.

Agenda items #13 (Open Streets Program)

NEEDS MORE CONSIDERATION

I am formally OPPOSED to Metro forever funding the open streets and CicLAvia events as if it is welfare benefit for City of LA and shady non-profit organizations who are more interested in keeping Metro forever funding these types of events rather than the original intent of these events which was to permanently designate certain areas of City of LA to be car-free zones and be permanently open streets for pedestrians and cyclists. Rather it seems they would prefer to help keep the existence of these 501(c)(3) organizations funded and not have City of LA do it's job of creating car free zones in past places where CicLAvia has taken place, such as along Hollywood Blvd, Sunset Blvd, Melrose Ave, Koreatown, Silverlake/Echo Park, Highland Park, etc. all of which are within City of LA boundaries.

Item #13 seems to reduce the funding to this program which I would support, but long term this program should not be made permanent and MOVE to defund this program so that precious funding should be retained for Metro services (more faregates, TAP to Exit, better maintenance of stations and buses, etc.) and redirect the responsibility to the City of LA and LADOT to move past these events from pilot festivity stage to a permanent car-free section for their own city.

Ken Wakita

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Dear Metro Board,

As a car-free Angeleno (well, Santa Monican) and therefore regular user of the Metro, I wanted to make my position clear on tomorrow's Items:

- Item #5: At the very least, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition:
  - Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (c'mon this feels basic)
  - Create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance (do the job)
  - Adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.
- Item #55: doesn't guarantee a seat for the County CEO when it should.
- Item #56: adding another small city seat risks division; we need a regional approach.
- Item #57: It's fine to add the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do NOT support changing the City of LA threshold.

Dear Metro Board,

Unfortunately, I have to work and cannot attend or call into Thursday's meeting. However, as a Los Angeles resident and occasional metro rider, I have to weigh in on some important issues that are up for discussion. One of my deepest desires as an Aneleno is to have public transit be a more viable, reliable option for me and my neighbors.

Regarding Item #5, the staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (as is standard in most major cities internationally), create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

For Item #55, if it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; that should be amended.

On Item #56, I do not support adding another small city seat.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Personally I would also really like to see a minimum ridership requirement for anyone serving on the metro board. If the board makes decisions regarding this public service, then they should use it!

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
John Trang

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing in my personal capacity regarding Items 5, 55, 56, and 57.

Item 5 — DO NOT SUPPORT, MAJOR AMENDMENTS NEEDED
I appreciate staff's work, but I believe the recommendation reflects the minimum amount of reform rather than the level of reform Metro deserves. At a minimum, the future County Executive should have a dedicated voting seat on the Board. Additionally, Metro should require professional qualifications for appointed Board members, establish minimum participation requirements with meaningful consequences for chronic non-participation, and revise its recusal rules so that motions require a majority of the non-recused members to pass.

Item 55 — DO NOT SUPPORT
I cannot support this motion because it does not guarantee the future County Executive a dedicated voting seat on the Metro Board. As Los Angeles County's governance evolves under Measure G, Metro's governance should evolve alongside it. The County Executive will provide continuity, administrative expertise, and a countywide perspective that no other position can offer.

Item 56 — DO NOT SUPPORT
Adding another small-city seat moves Metro in the wrong direction. The Board should be structured to encourage regional thinking, not further incentivize parochial decision-making. Metro exists to operate an integrated transportation network that serves the entire county, and its governance should reflect that mission.

Item 57 — SUPPORT ONLY IF AMENDED
I support adding the County Executive as a dedicated voting member of the Metro Board. However, I do not support raising the population threshold for the City of Los Angeles, which would effectively reduce the City's representation. The County Executive seat should be added without eliminating an existing Los Angeles seat.

Metro has grown into one of the largest and most consequential transit agencies in the United States. Its governance should reflect that reality by prioritizing expertise, accountability, participation, and regional decision-making over jurisdictional politics.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Metro Board,

I'm a regular Metro and Metrolink rider and serve on the Northridge South Neighborhood Council, where first/last mile transit access is one of my main issues. I've read the staff report and the motions. Here's where I stand.

Item 5 — Alternative A: Not Enough

Alternative A lets appointing authorities seat riders or subject matter experts, but doesn't require it. Metro's own outreach — 1,300+ engagement touchpoints, 900 survey responses — found that rider representation was the single most consistent ask from the public. Responding to that with a "you can if you want to" isn't reform.

Beyond the rider seat, I want the Board to go further on three things:

Professional qualifications. There are zero qualification requirements to govern a $9 billion agency. That should change. Transportation planning, engineering, public health, finance — something.

Participation requirements with real consequences. Members routinely walk in and out of meetings because Metro is a secondary responsibility. Cap absences, require regular system ridership, and actually enforce it.

Fix the recusal rules. Right now a recusal is effectively a no vote — motions still need a majority of the full 13-member board. If two members recuse, you still need 7 out of 11. The threshold should adjust to non-recused members only. Recusal should remove someone from the vote, not let them quietly block it.

Item 55 — Bass, Najarian, Barger, Dupont-Walker: Support with one caveat

This is the right motion. It guarantees a dedicated voting rider seat, gives the County CEO a clear path to the board under Measure G, and requires one of the Mayor's public appointees to be a transit advocate. The MBTA and WMATA have both made this commitment in statute — Metro should too.

My one caveat: the CEO seat should be guaranteed, not left to the Board of Supervisors' discretion. Giving the same body that controls the County delegation the option to include the CEO isn't the same as guaranteeing it.

Item 56 — Hahn, Richardson, Sandoval: Cannot support

I get the concern — smaller cities do face real disadvantages in the City Selection Committee's population-weighted process. But adding a dedicated small city seat makes the parochialism problem worse, not better. The board already struggles with members prioritizing their own districts over the regional system. One more seat built around a single jurisdiction's interests isn't the fix. If smaller cities need more voice, that conversation belongs in the City Selection Committee and League of Cities processes, not in board composition.

Item 57 — Fasana Proposal: Partial support

I support a dedicated County CEO seat. The CEO will be the only elected official with a countywide mandate, and their responsibilities will overlap directly with Metro's work. Leaving that seat optional for the Board of Supervisors doesn't cut it.

I don't support changing the City of LA threshold from 35% to 43.75%. Per the 2020 Census, LA City's share of the combined city population is about 43.4% — just below the proposed cutoff — so this change would immediately strip a seat from the City's contingency. And the staff report notes this share has straddled the 43.75% midpoint at every census since 1960, so the seat would likely keep flipping back and forth. Meanwhile, 74% of Metro ridership originates in the City, 64.8% of bus revenue-miles run through it, and it holds 56% of the County's zero-vehicle households. Cutting City representation based on a population technicality when the City generates most of the system's actual usage doesn't make sense.

Thanks for the opportunity to comment.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Celia Andrino

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing to oppose items 5, 55, 56, 57.

For Item 5, the recommendation by staff is the least amount of reform possible. The Board needs to make sure the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition, Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members. They also need to create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item 55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO. Anything that does not require a seat for the County CEO should be a non-starter.

On Item 56, the Board does not need another small city seat. We need regional planning, not more small city parochialism.

On Item 57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Hello Metro Board,

Having gone from exclusively driving in LA to get around to being car free and taking metro and the bus for the last five years, I feel I should have some say and have some stake in getting Metro leadership that are actual subject matter experts (and Metro users) on the system.

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. If Metro wants to be the "world class" transit system it always claims it wants to be, and properly serve their everyday riders, then it should be led by those who are actually experts in transit. The reason our system has so many ongoing issues is because of the fact that our board is compromised simply of politicians who do not use the system themselves and only want to serve in the best interests of their own constituents, which does not represent ALL Metro riders in the slightest.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Cesar Vasquez

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Steven Stanton

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Dear Metro Board,

As a regular Metro rider, and someone who would love to have cleaner air and less traffic on our streets, it's important to me that the Metro Board is actively making good transportation decisions for LA County.

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Dear Metro board,

I ride metro for roughly two commutes per week. If train frequency was higher and delays were less frequent (e.g. due to lack of signal pre-emption), I would hope to ride it more frequently. If metro board members experienced this every week, I would imagine these issues would have a higher chance of being resolved.

Given this, on Item #5 I believe Metro should: (i) require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, (ii) create minimum participation requirements (e.g. taking transit every week to work) for members with consequences for non-compliance, and (iii) adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item #55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Item #56 does not clearly benefit the interests of the majority of riders.

For Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

For item #27 I urge you to vote NO for diverting $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts.

Finally for item #13, the Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like South Bay Forward, LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

I am personally not a fan of how politician heavy our Metro board of directors is set up to be, especially as some members are city council members or mayors that represent my district but that I don't actually have a voice as they are not from my city and thus are not truly accountable to me or voters in my city. I think ensuring that the future County CEO is a full member of the board is a step in the right direction. Some politicians should be on the board, and the CEO will be accountable to everyone. Additionally, I strongly support requiring any appointees to have relevant experience. This is how many transit agencies across the country pick their appointees.

Thank you,

Hi Metro Board,

I am writing in support of Items 5, 55, and 56.

Metro should benefit from perspectives beyond elected officials alone. I support expanding eligibility to include transit riders, advocates, and subject matter experts who can bring valuable firsthand and professional experience to the Board.

At the same time, simply allowing a rider to be appointed is not enough. Riders should have a guaranteed voting seat, which is why I strongly support Item 56.

There is an important difference between someone who uses Metro occasionally and someone who depends on it as their primary transportation. When a bus does not arrive or a train is significantly delayed, some riders may be able to call an Uber or drive instead. Others may be late to work, lose wages, miss school, miss appointments, or be left without another option. Those experiences should be directly represented in the decisions that shape the system.

I also believe one rider seat should be understood as a starting point, not the full extent of rider representation. Metro serves an extremely large and diverse county, and one person cannot fully represent workers, students, seniors, disabled riders, parents, immigrants, and communities with very different levels of service.

As Metro develops the selection process, it should prioritize people who regularly depend on Metro and who understand the consequences when the system fails. That lived experience is a form of expertise and should be treated as such.

I ride Metro every day, and I am committed to helping make it better because people like my parents and me deserved better when we had to rely on it. Current and future riders deserve better as well.

I respectfully urge the Board to vote FOR Items 5, 55, and 56.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

In solidarity,

Adriana Bravo

Hi,
This month the board has the opportunity to address critical deficiencies in its board makeup by de-politicizing and professionalizing the Metro Board.

While I am pleased to see the attachment to item 5 recommend that all appointing bodies appoint subject matter experts with rider experience, and asks them to pledge to take metro multiple times a month, these should all be explicit requirements. I have no faith that any flexibility will be used in practice without making it a specific requirement. A simple language alteration, requiring subject matter expertise and requiring regular ridership, would turn this from an empty motion into a spectacular one, and would eliminate the need for advocacy groups to fight this on the state level, which is coming absent this change.

Second, I am in staunch opposition to the small cities seat in item 56 and the adjustment of LA population threshold in 57. Each would even further dilute YIMBY majorities with NIMBY representation, and would be disastrous for the board.

A labor representative is also not ideal, as labor is likely to prioritize building highways, when our environmental goals should lead to a cessation of further highway construction/widening.

Ultimately, subject matter expertise should be the guiding light on who belongs on the board, and regular ridership should be required of all members. There is risk of a dedicated rider representative removing the perceived obligation of other board members to keep rider experience and concern in mind, and this is mitigated by enforcing regular ridership for all members.

Finally, while board reform is being contemplated, a bureaucratic flaw in board rules must be altered - when a board member recuses from a vote for any reason, the threshold to clear a majority should thusly be lowered - else, all recusals effectively become 'no' votes, eliminating the point of half of all recusals in the first place. This is completely nonsensical and opens the door to corruption.

Thank you,

In regards to agenda items about changing Board membership (5, 55, 56) they're all horrible. Part of the reason Metro runs such an unreliable service is that the Board is made up 100% of people who do not rely on transit (riding Metro to board meetings doesn't count). Too often the Board throws riders under the bus for the sake of political expediency. There need to be actual riders on the Board, not just 1, and not just riders hand picked by LA county's anti-transit political class.

On item 13, the Planning and Programming Committee recommendations; I would like to express how outrageous it is that Metro is preparing to zero out open street funding essentially at the bidding of corrupt unaccountable international organizations. FIFA, and the IOC/LA28 should not be in a position to unilaterally dictate an end to open street events that Angelenos love (orr attach ridiculous terms, why does CicLAvia have to be on the day of the FIFA final and then nothing for the rest of the year?) Who in the world does this Board see as its main constituency??? This isn't an issue in any other host cities but ours, why is this even being considered? Why is the Metro Board filled with so many people who are so anti everything but cars?

Dear Metro Board et al.

I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate VOTING seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

To the LA Metro Board of Directors:

My name is Fred Neal, Jr. I am a co-founder of Ride New Orleans, a transit advocacy organization; a board member of the TransitCenter Foundation; and a former Board Commissioner and Chair of the New Orleans Regional Transit Authority (RTA). I strongly support including a regular transit rider/advocate as a voting member of the Metro Board of Directors.

During my eight years of service on the RTA Board in New Orleans, I brought the lived experiences and perspectives of everyday transit riders into the decisions that shaped our transit system. Having a seat at the table provided riders with direct access to agency leadership and helped advance service improvements and major capital investments that expanded and enhanced transit options, particularly for many of our most vulnerable riders.

Public institutions that steward taxpayer dollars and provide essential public services are strongest when the people they serve have a meaningful voice in their governance. Community representation helps ensure that decisions are informed by lived experience, strengthens public trust, and reinforces the democratic principle that those most affected by public investments should have a role in shaping them. That is why I am encouraged that the Metro Board is considering adding a transit rider as a voting member.

I have followed the success of voter-supported investments through Measures R and M, as well as Metro's efforts to expand and improve the transit system in preparation for global events such as the FIFA World Cup and the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Ensuring that transit riders have a direct voice in governance will help create a more accountable, responsive, and effective transit system, one that is prepared to support these major international events while continuing to meet the daily transportation needs of Los Angeles residents.

Finally, I want to thank Move LA, ACT-LA, and the many grassroots transit advocacy organizations that have worked tirelessly to create this opportunity for meaningful change in Los Angeles. Their leadership and commitment to elevating the voices of transit riders have helped advance a stronger vision for public transportation.

Sincerely,

Fred Neal, Jr.

I urge the LA Metro Board to vote to approve this motion and for the Chief Executive Officer to authorize the coordination with Metro's community advisory councils, community-based organizations, and other stakeholder groups to develop a transparent, inclusive, and accessible process for selecting the regular transit rider representative.

Thank you to Directors Barger, Bass, Dupont-Walker, Hahn, Horvath, Najarian, Richardson, and Sandoval for your leadership in advancing this motion.

Dear Metro Board Members,

I am writing to urge you to support Items 55 and 56 and ensure that regular Metro riders such as myself, have voting representation on the Metro Board.

Riders should not only be asked for feedback after decisions are made, we deserve a meaningful voice in the decisions that affect our daily lives.

While i know for a fact that one rider seat is not enough to represent Metro's millions of riders, i understand that it is an important first step towards progress. With much respect, ask you to vote in support of Items 55 and 56 and continue expanding rider representation in the future.

Thank you for your time and consideration, have a beautiful day.

Sincerely,

The Long Beach Gray Panthers support having a transit rider advocate as a voting member to the LA Metro Board. Many of our 100 members regularly ride Metro busses daily.

Too often people making the decisions on Board issues do not ride or use public transit. Better decisions are made when riders are included in the decision-making process.

Greetings,

This email is concerning the upcoming Metro board meeting. I am a daily commuter on the metro. It is my primary mode of transportation and I depend on it to get around the city.

I am writing to support what I believe is item 55 on the agenda, the motion to include daily transit riders and transit experts on a seat on the board. I believe this is essential for ensuring that decisions concerning the Metro are made with people in mind.

Thank you,

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Supervisors, Clerks, and Council members.

My name is Patrick Cooley and I am a consistent rider of the LA metro. I live next to the red line train and it has improved my life profoundly to have such easy accessibility to a great train line. The placement, timing, and consistency of the trains is due to the experience and expertise of engineers and metro riders. To not have someone with that experience on the board making the decisions for the line is outright foolish. The last decision without experience and turning a deaf ear to the research of experts cost the city almost an extra 1 billion dollars. All for what? That could have been money used to vastly improve the quality of life of LA and its citizens. We can't AFFORD to not have a rider on the board. Cities like Boston, DC, Portland, and Salem already have a rider in their board. I don't know about you. I don't want to be worse at our jobs than BOSTON.

Thank you

Patrick.

Hello,

I'm writing to voice my support for the proposals to establish one or more rider advocate positions on the Metro Board, joining groups such as LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA in this effort. I want to thank Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass for putting forward motions that work toward genuine rider representation.

As this moves forward, it's essential that any such seat come with full voting rights and adequate resources. Hahn's motion calls for technical and staffing support for the rider seat, and this piece is essential so that whoever holds the position is properly equipped to participate in a meaningful way.

Riders themselves need to have a voice in the Board's decision-making, since they understand best what challenges and needs exist across our transit systems. Occasional ridership by some Board members isn't a substitute for representation by people who use the system regularly — particularly those who depend on it as their primary mode of transportation. These rider seat proposals address a real gap in how our transit system is governed.

Thank you for your consideration!

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Hi, I'm writing in strong support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations such as South Bay Forward, LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the leadership shown by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in advancing a path toward meaningful rider representation.

As this motion moves forward, I urge you to ensure that any rider advocate seat includes full voting power and dedicated resources. Board Member Hahn's motion appropriately specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat — a critical element to ensure the representative is fully prepared, informed, and able to participate effectively in Board deliberations.

Metro's decisions must be shaped by the people who rely on the system every day. While some Board Members ride occasionally, regular riders — especially those who are transit-dependent — bring lived experience that is currently missing from Metro governance. Establishing rider seats would fill a crucial gap and strengthen the Board's ability to make decisions grounded in real-world needs.

Sincerely,
Paiwei Wei,

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or MORE rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

We need bus rider representation, as well as active transportation users: cyclists and pedestrians.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

All of my students at Exceptional Minds are on the spectrum and many of them are unable to drive. The bus routes have failed them time and time again. The few times I've needed to take the bus to work the bus was always 30 minutes late. We need representation on the board of people who actually rely on public transportation.

Thank you so much!

Sincerely,
Stevie Larsen

I ride Metro everyday from my home in DTLA to my job as a professor at UCLA and to see friends, go to the gym, run errands, and explore the city. We need someone on the board who actually has regular experience across transit modalities.

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA.

I also support the Metro Board to:

• Institute a requirement of professional qualifications, experience, and/or academic expertise in transportation or urban planning for a number of board members (at least 1).
• Devote at least one seat for a democratically elected board member that is directly accountable to transit voters and has voting power in the board.

I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Riders belong on the Metro Board. South Bay Forward joins LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA in supporting the motions that would create one or more rider advocate seats, and I'm grateful to Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass for opening that path.

One request as this moves forward: whatever seat emerges needs full voting power and real resources behind it. Hahn's motion gets this right by specifying technical and staffing support. Without that backing, a rider representative arrives at the table unprepared to participate meaningfully. A seat without capacity is not a voice.

No one understands the daily realities of our system better than the people who depend on it. Some Board members ride occasionally; that's not the same as riding every day, and it's certainly not the same as having no alternative. Regular riders, especially transit-dependent ones, hold knowledge this Board currently has no direct channel to. These motions close that gap.

Thank you for your consideration.

LA Metro Board Clerk,

Hello,

I am writing in support of the metro board creating one or more rider advocate seats, with all of the staffing, accountability, and powers that come with such a seat.

As a transit rider and taxpayer, I was very dissapointed in the boards choice to throw out metro staff and the overwhelming majority of la county's opinion on the k line south route to select the Hawthorne blvd alignment; a route that is not funded or has any real path to funding or completion based on its ridership estimates and permitting issues. The metro board is not working in the interests of the people who put money and trust into this system that makes traversing Los Angeles possible/tolerable in a time when traffic is only getting worse. The fact that many metro board members from their own admission do not depend on metro to get to work is part of the problem.

The LA metro system can be an amazing resource for those who live and work here, but for too long it's been hampered by small pockets of homeowners who insist on endless debate and placating rather than actual progress. We need to move beyond this paralysis and start putting money into solutions over policies and bickering. Start building trains.

Thank you for your consideration.

Good morning,

I write in support of the motion to have a rider advocate on Metro's board. It's critical to have a voice on the board who regularly uses transit and understands riders' needs.

Also, please ensure the seat has full voting power and staffing support to ensure meaningful participation.

Metro Board of Directors

Re: Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority Motion to add new Board Seat for Labor

Dear Metro Board of Directors,

The LA/OC Building & Construction Trades Council along with The Los Angeles County Federation of Labor are writing to express our strong support for the motion to create three additional voting seats on the Metro Board of Directors, including one specifically for a labor representative. As you know, at tomorrow's Metro Board Meeting, the Metro Board of Directors will be voting on a proposal which would add 3 members to the staff recommendation for the Board: a rider appointed by the county supervisors residing in an unincorporated area, the County Executive, and a labor representative. This proposal gives the working people of this community a meaningful seat at the table of one of our most important public agencies.

The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority consists of several Board Members, who set policy, coordinate, plan, fund, build, and operate transit services and transportation programs throughout Los Angeles County. Labor has always been at the heart of these programs and has been the staunchest of partners with Metro from program inception to system operations. Metro's Project Labor Agreement and Construction Careers Policy make union labor an essential part of Metro's construction program, and we have already played an important part in many of the biggest wins for Metro over the last decade and more. With 28 major infrastructure projects slated for delivery by 2028 and the 2028 Olympics driving major transit investments, labor is the engine behind Metro's slate of projects. The rationale is clear: Labor is the foundation that has already built Metro projects. Labor should have a vote on what gets built.

The timing of this proposal also makes sense. Former Metro Board Chair Dutra formed an Ad Hoc Board Composition Committee to review the board's structure, meaning this push for a full voting labor seat is landing at a moment when board composition is already actively under review. As a member of the ad-hoc committee, Executive Secretary Ernesto Medrano has worked with his colleagues to make this idea a reality. The Metro Board seat proposals for small cities and transit rider advocates are also being voted on in this same meeting, a clear sign that the Board is already actively considering adding voices beyond the current elected-official structure. But even within the elected official structure, the County Executive will be elected by all of Los Angeles County and be responsible for representing the entire region. Without the County Executive being seated on the Board, there will be significant portions of unincorporated LA County without representation. Item 57 ensures that the entirety of our county is receiving the representation it deserves.

The LA/OC Building & Construction Trades Council sees firsthand how the hard work of our members continues to build the essential infrastructure that keeps California safe, connected, and moving forward. We strongly support making a member of our labor family a full voting member on the LA Metro Board, and we respectfully urge your support for this proposal.

Respectfully,

Ernesto Medrano

Agenda items #5, 55, 56, 57 (Metro Board composititon reform)

SUPPORT

Reform of the Metro Board is long overdue and highly support a board member must be a rider. However, I am a bit wary that "regular transit rider" is too broad as I don't want fare evaders and people who blast loud music be represented on the board just because they fit the "rider" description either. I would like the "rider" to be a representative who has a background in finance, law, construction, engineering, procurement, security, mass transit management, real estate development experience, etc. much as how mass transit riders of such backgrounds are the ones who are on the board in places like New York, London, Paris, Tokyo, Seoul, Taipei, Hong Kong and Singapore.

Agenda items #47 (Award BEB contract to El Dorado National)

SUPPORT

I understand Supervisor Hahn held some reservations in the Operations, Safety, and Customer Service Meeting last week as it's not union made. But I would like to remind that El Dorado National is a California based company which is based in Riverside, and that our precious taxpayer dollars should be used to help California based businesses and retain our taxpayer dollars right here in SoCal as well as going for who is able to provide the best price and top points as top priority rather than whether it's unionized or not. And, we should be supportive of this Riverside based company to help build their experience and technical know-how so that we can move away from the New Flyer and Gillig duopoly system. What better way to do that by investing our taxpayer dollars into a company based right here in CA and in Riverside? And if something needs fixing, it's much more quicker to call up a company and bring in technicians from Riverside than where ultimately the money goes to a company based in Winnipeg, Canada.

Support awarding the BEB contract to El Dorado National.

Agenda items #13 (Open Streets Program)

NEEDS MORE CONSIDERATION

I am formally OPPOSED to Metro forever funding the open streets and CicLAvia events as if it is welfare benefit for City of LA and shady non-profit organizations who are more interested in keeping Metro forever funding these types of events rather than the original intent of these events which was to permanently designate certain areas of City of LA to be car-free zones and be permanently open streets for pedestrians and cyclists. Rather it seems they would prefer to help keep the existence of these 501(c)(3) organizations funded and not have City of LA do it's job of creating car free zones in past places where CicLAvia has taken place, such as along Hollywood Blvd, Sunset Blvd, Melrose Ave, Koreatown, Silverlake/Echo Park, Highland Park, etc. all of which are within City of LA boundaries.

Item #13 seems to reduce the funding to this program which I would support, but long term this program should not be made permanent and MOVE to defund this program so that precious funding should be retained for Metro services (more faregates, TAP to Exit, better maintenance of stations and buses, etc.) and redirect the responsibility to the City of LA and LADOT to move past these events from pilot festivity stage to a permanent car-free section for their own city.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

As a car-free Angeleno (well, Santa Monican) and therefore regular user of the Metro, I wanted to make my position clear on tomorrow's Items:

- Item #5: At the very least, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition:
  - Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (c'mon this feels basic)
  - Create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance (do the job)
  - Adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.
- Item #55: doesn't guarantee a seat for the County CEO when it should.
- Item #56: adding another small city seat risks division; we need a regional approach.
- Item #57: It's fine to add the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do NOT support changing the City of LA threshold.

Thank you,

Dear Metro Board,

Unfortunately, I have to work and cannot attend or call into Thursday's meeting. However, as a Los Angeles resident and occasional metro rider, I have to weigh in on some important issues that are up for discussion. One of my deepest desires as an Aneleno is to have public transit be a more viable, reliable option for me and my neighbors.

Regarding Item #5, the staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members (as is standard in most major cities internationally), create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

For Item #55, if it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; that should be amended.

On Item #56, I do not support adding another small city seat.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Personally I would also really like to see a minimum ridership requirement for anyone serving on the metro board. If the board makes decisions regarding this public service, then they should use it!

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing in my personal capacity regarding Items 5, 55, 56, and 57.

Item 5 — DO NOT SUPPORT, MAJOR AMENDMENTS NEEDED
I appreciate staff's work, but I believe the recommendation reflects the minimum amount of reform rather than the level of reform Metro deserves. At a minimum, the future County Executive should have a dedicated voting seat on the Board. Additionally, Metro should require professional qualifications for appointed Board members, establish minimum participation requirements with meaningful consequences for chronic non-participation, and revise its recusal rules so that motions require a majority of the non-recused members to pass.

Item 55 — DO NOT SUPPORT
I cannot support this motion because it does not guarantee the future County Executive a dedicated voting seat on the Metro Board. As Los Angeles County's governance evolves under Measure G, Metro's governance should evolve alongside it. The County Executive will provide continuity, administrative expertise, and a countywide perspective that no other position can offer.

Item 56 — DO NOT SUPPORT
Adding another small-city seat moves Metro in the wrong direction. The Board should be structured to encourage regional thinking, not further incentivize parochial decision-making. Metro exists to operate an integrated transportation network that serves the entire county, and its governance should reflect that mission.

Item 57 — SUPPORT ONLY IF AMENDED
I support adding the County Executive as a dedicated voting member of the Metro Board. However, I do not support raising the population threshold for the City of Los Angeles, which would effectively reduce the City's representation. The County Executive seat should be added without eliminating an existing Los Angeles seat.

Metro has grown into one of the largest and most consequential transit agencies in the United States. Its governance should reflect that reality by prioritizing expertise, accountability, participation, and regional decision-making over jurisdictional politics.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Metro Board,

I'm a regular Metro and Metrolink rider and serve on the Northridge South Neighborhood Council, where first/last mile transit access is one of my main issues. I've read the staff report and the motions. Here's where I stand.

Item 5 — Alternative A: Not Enough

Alternative A lets appointing authorities seat riders or subject matter experts, but doesn't require it. Metro's own outreach — 1,300+ engagement touchpoints, 900 survey responses — found that rider representation was the single most consistent ask from the public. Responding to that with a "you can if you want to" isn't reform.

Beyond the rider seat, I want the Board to go further on three things:

Professional qualifications. There are zero qualification requirements to govern a $9 billion agency. That should change. Transportation planning, engineering, public health, finance — something.

Participation requirements with real consequences. Members routinely walk in and out of meetings because Metro is a secondary responsibility. Cap absences, require regular system ridership, and actually enforce it.

Fix the recusal rules. Right now a recusal is effectively a no vote — motions still need a majority of the full 13-member board. If two members recuse, you still need 7 out of 11. The threshold should adjust to non-recused members only. Recusal should remove someone from the vote, not let them quietly block it.

Item 55 — Bass, Najarian, Barger, Dupont-Walker: Support with one caveat

This is the right motion. It guarantees a dedicated voting rider seat, gives the County CEO a clear path to the board under Measure G, and requires one of the Mayor's public appointees to be a transit advocate. The MBTA and WMATA have both made this commitment in statute — Metro should too.

My one caveat: the CEO seat should be guaranteed, not left to the Board of Supervisors' discretion. Giving the same body that controls the County delegation the option to include the CEO isn't the same as guaranteeing it.

Item 56 — Hahn, Richardson, Sandoval: Cannot support

I get the concern — smaller cities do face real disadvantages in the City Selection Committee's population-weighted process. But adding a dedicated small city seat makes the parochialism problem worse, not better. The board already struggles with members prioritizing their own districts over the regional system. One more seat built around a single jurisdiction's interests isn't the fix. If smaller cities need more voice, that conversation belongs in the City Selection Committee and League of Cities processes, not in board composition.

Item 57 — Fasana Proposal: Partial support

I support a dedicated County CEO seat. The CEO will be the only elected official with a countywide mandate, and their responsibilities will overlap directly with Metro's work. Leaving that seat optional for the Board of Supervisors doesn't cut it.

I don't support changing the City of LA threshold from 35% to 43.75%. Per the 2020 Census, LA City's share of the combined city population is about 43.4% — just below the proposed cutoff — so this change would immediately strip a seat from the City's contingency. And the staff report notes this share has straddled the 43.75% midpoint at every census since 1960, so the seat would likely keep flipping back and forth. Meanwhile, 74% of Metro ridership originates in the City, 64.8% of bus revenue-miles run through it, and it holds 56% of the County's zero-vehicle households. Cutting City representation based on a population technicality when the City generates most of the system's actual usage doesn't make sense.

Thanks for the opportunity to comment.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Ana Cobarrubias

Dear Metro Board,

I am writing to oppose items 5, 55, 56, 57.

For Item 5, the recommendation by staff is the least amount of reform possible. The Board needs to make sure the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. In addition, Metro should require professional qualifications for all appointed board members. They also need to create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item 55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO. Anything that does not require a seat for the County CEO should be a non-starter.

On Item 56, the Board does not need another small city seat. We need regional planning, not more small city parochialism.

On Item 57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Robert Nickell

Hello Metro Board,

Having gone from exclusively driving in LA to get around to being car free and taking metro and the bus for the last five years, I feel I should have some say and have some stake in getting Metro leadership that are actual subject matter experts (and Metro users) on the system.

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

If Metro wants to be the "world class" transit system it always claims it wants to be, and properly serve their everyday riders, then it should be led by those who are actually experts in transit. The reason our system has so many ongoing issues is because of the fact that our board is compromised simply of politicians who do not use the system themselves and only want to serve in the best interests of their own constituents, which does not represent ALL Metro riders in the slightest.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Jake Rosen

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency. While the system serves the region and not the individual cities within it, the city of Los Angeles is the core consumer of Metro and as long as there is direct city representation on the Board, it should have an influence more proportional to its stake in Metro's work.

Dear Metro Board,

- On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. Again? Why?
At a minimum, the Board should ensure the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

- On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Let's accelerate progress and transit with the proper thoughtful and ambitious changes much needed already.

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,

Caro Vilain

Dear Metro Board,

On Item #5, staff's recommendation is suggesting the least amount of reform possible. At a minimum, the Board should ensure that the future County Executive has a dedicated voting seat. Furthermore, I want Metro to require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, create minimum participation requirements for members with consequences for non-compliance, and adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

On Item #55, it does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

On Item #56, adding another small city seat risks further parochial decision making; we need more regional thinking, not tribalism.

On Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

Thank you,
Avigail Vargas

Dear Metro board,

I ride metro for roughly two commutes per week. If train frequency was higher and delays were less frequent (e.g. due to lack of signal pre-emption), I would hope to ride it more frequently. If metro board members experienced this every week, I would imagine these issues would have a higher chance of being resolved.

Given this, on Item #5 I believe Metro should: (i) require professional qualifications for all appointed board members, (ii) create minimum participation requirements (e.g. taking transit every week to work) for members with consequences for non-compliance, and (iii) adjust recusal rules to allow for a majority of the non-recused to pass a vote.

Item #55 does not guarantee a seat for the County CEO; it should.

Item #56 does not clearly benefit the interests of the majority of riders.

For Item #57, I support adding the County CEO as a dedicated seat, but I do not support changing the City of LA threshold, effectively removing a board seat from the City of LA contingency.

For item #27 I urge you to vote NO for diverting $35.5 million in Transportation Development Act (TDA) funding from transit to road projects while Metrolink is facing major service cuts.

Finally for item #13, the Board should direct staff to find an alternative funding source to preserve open streets funding at current levels, and make it permanent, and make sure staff follow Board directions and not the other way around.

I am personally not a fan of how politician heavy our Metro board of directors is set up to be, especially as some members are city council members or mayors that represent my district but that I don't actually have a voice as they are not from my city and thus are not truly accountable to me or voters in my city. I think ensuring that the future County CEO is a full member of the board is a step in the right direction. Some politicians should be on the board, and the CEO will be accountable to everyone. Additionally, I strongly support requiring any appointees to have relevant experience. This is how many transit agencies across the country pick their appointees.

Hi Metro Board,

I am writing in support of Items 5, 55, and 56.

Metro should benefit from perspectives beyond elected officials alone. I support expanding eligibility to include transit riders, advocates, and subject matter experts who can bring valuable firsthand and professional experience to the Board.

At the same time, simply allowing a rider to be appointed is not enough. Riders should have a guaranteed voting seat, which is why I strongly support Item 56.

There is an important difference between someone who uses Metro occasionally and someone who depends on it as their primary transportation. When a bus does not arrive or a train is significantly delayed, some riders may be able to call an Uber or drive instead. Others may be late to work, lose wages, miss school, miss appointments, or be left without another option. Those experiences should be directly represented in the decisions that shape the system.

I also believe one rider seat should be understood as a starting point, not the full extent of rider representation. Metro serves an extremely large and diverse county, and one person cannot fully represent workers, students, seniors, disabled riders, parents, immigrants, and communities with very different levels of service.

As Metro develops the selection process, it should prioritize people who regularly depend on Metro and who understand the consequences when the system fails. That lived experience is a form of expertise and should be treated as such.

I ride Metro every day, and I am committed to helping make it better because people like my parents and me deserved better when we had to rely on it. Current and future riders deserve better as well.

I respectfully urge the Board to vote FOR Items 5, 55, and 56.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

In solidarity,

Adriana Bravo

Hi,
This month the board has the opportunity to address critical deficiencies in its board makeup by de-politicizing and professionalizing the Metro Board.

While I am pleased to see the attachment to item 5 recommend that all appointing bodies appoint subject matter experts with rider experience, and asks them to pledge to take metro multiple times a month, these should all be explicit requirements. I have no faith that any flexibility will be used in practice without making it a specific requirement. A simple language alteration, requiring subject matter expertise and requiring regular ridership, would turn this from an empty motion into a spectacular one, and would eliminate the need for advocacy groups to fight this on the state level, which is coming absent this change.

Second, I am in staunch opposition to the small cities seat in item 56 and the adjustment of LA population threshold in 57. Each would even further dilute YIMBY majorities with NIMBY representation, and would be disastrous for the board.

A labor representative is also not ideal, as labor is likely to prioritize building highways, when our environmental goals should lead to a cessation of further highway construction/widening.

Ultimately, subject matter expertise should be the guiding light on who belongs on the board, and regular ridership should be required of all members. There is risk of a dedicated rider representative removing the perceived obligation of other board members to keep rider experience and concern in mind, and this is mitigated by enforcing regular ridership for all members.

Finally, while board reform is being contemplated, a bureaucratic flaw in board rules must be altered - when a board member recuses from a vote for any reason, the threshold to clear a majority should thusly be lowered - else, all recusals effectively become 'no' votes, eliminating the point of half of all recusals in the first place. This is completely nonsensical and opens the door to corruption.

Thank you,
Nick Andert

Hello!
My name is Rachel and I'm writing to show support for the Fasana-Horvath motion on metro governance. Metro should reflect the people who ride it (me!) and work on it. This motion makes sure there's a seat for a transit rider, keeps a seat for labor, and includes the future County Executive so communities across Los Angeles continue to have a voice. I am concerned that the other proposals eliminate this representation. After voters showed their support for the Executive through measure G that seems unacceptable.
Please support the Fasana-Horvath motion to make sure Metro's Board reflects the riders, workers, and communities it serves.

Thank you,

Hi, I write in support of the motions to create one or more rider advocate seats on the Metro Board, alongside organizations like LA Forward Institute, ACT-LA, and Move LA. I appreciate the motions by Board Members Hahn, Barger, Horvath, Richardson, Sandoval, Dupont-Walker, Najarian, and Mayor Bass in their efforts to create a path to rider representation.

As you move a motion forward, please make sure the seat must be given full voting power and resources. Hahn's motion specifies technical and staffing support for the rider seat, which is critical to ensure they are fully prepared and can meaningfully participate.

The Metro Board's decisions must be informed by riders themselves, who can speak most directly to the challenges and needs on our systems. While some Board members ride the system occasionally, we seek representation from truly regular riders, especially those who are transit-dependent. The proposals for rider seats fill a gap in our governance.

Thank you so much!

Summary: The Board of the Central Hollywood Neighborhood Council (CHNC) has voted to submit this Community Impact Statement (CIS) in OPPOSITION to Council File 15-0989-S68 (2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games / Enhanced City Resources Master Agreement (ECRMA)), which Los Angeles City Controller Mejia, CD13 Council Member Soto-Martinez, and others on the LA City Council have warned could open Angelenos to unknown tax increases to cover potential losses resulting from LA28. This action unnecessarily exposes residents, particularly our working-class and lower-income neighbors, to even greater affordability pressures. CHNC strongly urges the City to take immediate measures to stand behind the commitment to a zero-cost Olympic Games and to protect individual Angelenos from being held personally responsible for the financial consequences of LA28.

PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: AMENDMENT TO THE CHAVEZ/FICKETT PROJECT JOINT DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENT

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) or their designee to execute an amendment to the Joint Development Agreement (JDA) with Chavez Fickett, L.P. (Developer), an affiliate of Abode Communities, to extend the term for one year, from October 19, 2026 to October 19, 2027, with an option to extend for one additional year for the joint development of a mixed-use, affordable housing project on 1.56 acres of Metro-owned property located at the corner of Cesar E. Chavez Avenue and Fickett Street in Boyle Heights (Project).

ISSUE

Since 2024, staff and the Developer have collaborated under a Board-authorized JDA to advance the Project design through construction drawings for approval by Metro and the City of Los Angeles, assemble a financing package, and execute the Ground Lease. The JDA is set to expire on October 19, 2026. An extension of the JDA term through October 19, 2027, with an option to extend one additional year to October 2028, is required to safeguard the Project's complex funding sources and complete the Project's conditions precedent to close of the Ground Lease escrow. Staff recommends authorizing the extension of the JDA term to advance the Metro Board of Director's goal of producing 10,000 homes on Metro land (10K Commitment) by delivering 109 crucial, transit-adjacent affordable homes for income-eligible Angelenos.

BACKGROUND

In January 2018, following a competitive solicitation, the Board authorized the execution of an Exclusive Negotiation Agreement (ENA) with Abode Communities for the Project <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2017-0741/> . During the ENA period, staff and the Developer advanced the Project's design through schematic design approval, conducted Project-specific community outreach with local residents and business owners, secured land-use entitlements and environmental clearance, and negotiated the key terms and conditions of the JDA and Ground Lease. Upon completion of the ENA milestones, the Board approved the Summary of Key Terms of the JDA and Ground Lease <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2024-0035/> in March 2024. The JDA included a one-time ground rent payment, due at the close of the Ground Lease escrow, of $3.45 million, a 67% discount from the appraised fair market value of $10.35 million.

The Site and the Project
The site is comprised of approximately 68,100 square feet of Metro-owned property bounded by Cesar E. Chavez Avenue to the north, Matthews Street to the west, Fickett Street to the east, and a residential neighborhood to the south (Site). The Metro E Line Soto Station is located approximately one-quarter mile south of the Site. See Attachment A - Site Plan and Renderings.

The Project includes 109 affordable rental apartments, one unrestricted property manager's apartment, approximately 3,000 square feet of commercial space, 44 residential parking spaces, and six commercial parking spaces. The affordable rental apartments are studio, one-, two-, and three-bedroom units, with affordability levels ranging from 30% to 50% of the County Area Median Income (AMI).

Joint Development 10K Commitment
In June 2021, in response to Los Angeles County's housing affordability crisis, the Board approved an updated JD Policy <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2021-0496/> focused on affordable housing, establishing the Metro Board's goal to deliver 10,000 homes (5,000 income-restricted) on agency land by 2031. This action will advance Metro's progress toward meeting the Board's 10k Commitment by catalyzing the completion of 109 affordable homes dedicated to Metro's core ridership base.

Community Engagement
Metro conducted an extensive community engagement process during the Project's predevelopment phase to ensure the development reflected community priorities. This process included public workshops, community meetings, and opportunities for written public comment that informed the Request for Proposals (RFP). Metro also established the Design Review Advisory Committee (DRAC), consisting of Boyle Heights residents and business owners, to provide recommendations on the Project design, Development Guidelines, and RFP.

Following the execution of the ENA, the Developer continued community outreach through six public meetings between 2018 and 2022, presentations to the Boyle Heights Neighborhood Council, and collaboration with the DRAC, which approved the Project design. In 2023, the Developer held workshops with local business owners on the proposed ground-floor commercial space and community meetings on residential programming and site amenities. Since the execution of the JDA in 2024, the Developer has continued coordinating with community stakeholders and funding partners, including the Los Angeles Housing Department, Los Angeles County Affordable Housing Solutions Agency, the California Department of Housing and Community Development, and Council District 14, to advance the Project.

DISCUSSION

The Project is the culmination of a long-standing partnership with Abode Communities, which has consistently advanced the Project since 2018, and the community stakeholders who have helped shape the Project since the initial 2017 Board-approved Development Guidelines. In response to stakeholder feedback, the Project's income limits are set at deep affordability levels, with 100% of the units protected by an income restriction for the full term of the Ground Lease.

Presently, the Developer is seeking to complete the Project's capital budget through tax-exempt bonds issued by the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee (CDLAC) and tax credits allocated by the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee (TCAC). The outcome of the application process will be known by the end of September 2026. TCAC's tax credit award stipulates that the Developer must start construction within 180 days of the award. To meet this goal, staff are working closely with the Developer to complete the conditions precedent to closing the Ground Lease escrow and need to extend the term of the JDA to complete pre-closing due diligence.

Following Board approval and receipt of the anticipated financing awards, the Project will enter its final pre-construction phase, with continued community engagement serving as a key component of Project delivery.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Approval of this item will have no impact on safety. Staff will continue to oversee the development and construction of the Project on the Site to ensure that it does not adversely impact Metro property or the continued safety of staff, contractors, and the public. All safety measures and associated requirements to be met by the Developer and its construction contractor will be identified in the JDA and subsequent Ground Lease.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Adoption of the subject action would result in an upfront capitalized Ground Lease payment of $3,450,000, payable upon close of Ground Lease escrow, which is anticipated in FY27. To date, Metro has received approximately $60,000 in holding rent under the JDA, which will be credited towards the $3,450,000 ground rent due to Metro. The JD Policy calls for JD revenues to be reinvested in Transit Oriented Communities activities, such as land acquisition to support joint development opportunities.

Impact to Budget

Funding for Joint Development activities and staff costs related to this Project is included in the Metro FY27 Budget under Project 401300 (Joint Development 10K Homes), Cost Center 2210. The funding source for this expense is general fund, which is eligible for bus and rail operating and capital projects. A non-refundable JDA Extension Fee of $30,000 will be paid to Metro to cover certain transaction costs, including third-party consultants for financial analysis, negotiations, design review, and other reasonable services related to due diligence for the Project.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The Project is representative of Metro's Joint Development Policy goals to provide as much housing as possible as quickly as possible for those who need it most. The proposed action will allow Metro to work with the Developer to secure financing, conduct additional outreach, and obtain building permits for 109 affordable housing units.

Once completed, the Project will benefit qualified low-income residents in need of housing, as well as qualified households with disabilities who will be awarded one of the ADA-accessible units. The Project is located within an Equity Focus Community and offers housing for individuals earning 30%-50% of LA County AMI, which are appropriate affordability levels in the local Boyle Heights community.

To encourage a community-focused commercial tenant, Metro will forgo its commercial lease collection to the extent that the Developer leases the space to a tenant providing community benefits to Project residents and those in the surrounding neighborhood. In this way, the commercial space will be programmed to meet the needs of both the local community and Chavez Gardens tenants by providing a financial incentive to the Developer to actively lease space, resulting in a broader public benefit. The Developer is proactively engaging with local businesses, residents, and community-based organizations to identify opportunities to provide or preserve small businesses that would meet service or retail needs in the neighborhood.

Since 2018, the Developer and Metro staff have conducted extensive outreach events to incorporate community input from the Boyle Heights Design Review Advisory Committee, Boyle Heights Neighborhood Council, the business community, and local stakeholders. The Developer will continue building on the years of prior community outreach established for the Project in the forthcoming JDA extension period.

The Developer has committed to conducting additional public outreach with local residents and business owners in late 2026 through early 2027 once a tax credit award is received. Engagement efforts will focus on announcing the public art selection process, the construction schedule, and Project updates. This will include collecting community feedback to potentially reimagine the Project's name, away from its current designation as Chavez Gardens. Lastly, the Developer will provide a separate meeting at least 3 months before construction completion to inform local neighbors on how to apply for the income-restricted apartments. As in previous JD outreach efforts, engagement will be conducted in English, Spanish, and other languages deemed appropriate to reach a broad audience of stakeholders.

As the Project progresses to construction, staff will work with the Developer and its general contractor to minimize any traffic impacts, dust, and noise associated with the Project’s construction. These mitigation measures will be identified in the construction work plans and health and safety plans and reviewed by Metro staff before the execution of the Ground Lease documents.

Once completed, the 109 units of affordable housing will be protected by a long-term affordability restriction that is consistent with the term of the 75-year Ground Lease.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro’s significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro’s Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001 and 2019.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through investment and partnership activities that will benefit and further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, and active transportation by utilizing Metro-owned land adjacent to a major transit hub to advance transit-oriented communities. The Project also proposes Transportation Demand Management strategies, including limited parking supply, permitting residential-area parking, promoting and marketing various modes of travel, providing bicycle parking per the Los Angeles Municipal Code, and improving the pedestrian network. These Project attributes reflect best practices in transit-oriented development, design, and management and, collectively, will encourage transit utilization. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

These recommendations support the Metro Vision 2028 Strategic Plan Goal to "enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity," specifically Initiative 3.2, which states "Metro will leverage its transit investments to catalyze transit-oriented communities and help stabilize neighborhoods where these investments are made." The Project will deliver several community benefits, including transit-accessible affordable housing and new commercial/community space.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could choose not to authorize the execution of the recommended actions. Staff does not recommend this option because the proposed Project is the product of competitive solicitation and extensive community engagement and is consistent with the goals of Metro's Joint Development Policy. Electing not to proceed would unnecessarily delay the development of the Site and jeopardize the build-out of 110 in-demand housing units, 109 of which are covenanted to extremely low- and very low-income households.

NEXT STEPS

The Developer will submit final construction drawings for Metro and City of Los Angeles approval, complete the conditions precedent to the close of Ground Lease escrow, execute the Ground Lease, and commence construction in 2027. The construction period is expected to last approximately 24 months.

Developer-led outreach efforts will continue throughout the term of the JDA to keep the community informed of the Project's progress, leading to the execution of the Ground Lease and the eventual start of construction. Targeted outreach to Boyle Heights residents who may qualify to live in the new housing was initiated with the construction of the adjacent La Veranda joint development and will continue through the construction of the Chavez Gardens Project.

PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: MEASURE M MULTI-YEAR SUBREGIONAL PROGRAM ANNUAL UPDATE - NORTH COUNTY SUBREGION

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. APPROVING the programming of an additional $5,183,184 within the capacity of Measure M Multi-Year Subregional Program (MSP) - Active Transportation Program, and reprogramming project funds previously approved to meet the project schedule, as shown in Attachment A; and

B. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer or their designee to negotiate and execute all necessary agreements and/or amendments for approved projects.

ISSUE

Measure M MSPs are included in the Measure M Expenditure Plan, attached to the Measure M Ordinance. All MSP funds are limited to capital projects. This update allows the North County subregion and implementing agencies to approve new eligible projects for funding and revise the project scope of work, project budgets, and schedule for previously funded projects. Funds are programmed through Fiscal Year (FY) 2028-29. The Board's approval is required to update the project list (Attachment A), which serves as the basis for Metro to enter into agreements and/or amendments with the respective implementing agencies.

BACKGROUND

Based on the amount provided in the Measure M Expenditure Plan, a total amount of $200.13 million was forecasted to be available for programming for the subregion for FY 18 to FY 30. In prior actions, the Board approved programming $108.55 million in support of 30 projects. Therefore, $91.58 million is available to the subregion for programming as part of this update. To date, $34.41 million (38% of programmed funds) has been expended. Five projects have been completed and three of these projects are in the close-out audit process. Staff will continue working with the implementing agencies to advance the delivery of all projects.

In line with the Metro Board adopted Measure M Guidelines, agencies requesting funds must provide documentation demonstrating community support, project need, and multimodal transportation benefits that enhance safety, support traffic mobility, economic vitality, and enable a safer and well-maintained transportation system. Cities and Joint Powers Authority (JPA) lead and prioritize all proposed transportation improvements, including procurement, the environmental process, outreach, final design, and construction.

DISCUSSION

The jurisdictional requests for updates presented herein were proposed by the cities and approved/forwarded by the Subregion. Metro staff worked closely with the North County Transportation Coalition (NCTC) JPA and the implementing agencies on project eligibility reviews of the proposed projects for this update, including changes to the scope of work/schedule and/or funding requests, as applicable.

During staff review, Metro required a detailed project scope of work to confirm project eligibility and establish the program nexus, including but not limited to project location and limits, length, elements, phase(s), total estimated expenses, funding requested, and schedules. Final approval of funds for the projects shall be contingent upon the implementing agency demonstrating the eligibility of each project, as required in the Measure M Master Guidelines. Staff collected project details to enable the timely execution of project Funding Agreements for approved projects. All Measure M MSPs must be expended within three years from the fiscal year in which the funds are programmed, according to the Guidelines Timely Use of Funds Lapsing Policy. Staff will continue working with the implementing agencies to encourage timely completion of the projects. Additionally, all projects are subject to a close-out audit after completion, according to the Guidelines.

Active Transportation Program (expenditure line 52)

This update includes funding adjustments to two existing and two new projects as follows:

Lancaster

- Program $4,913,184 in FY 29 for MM4501.23 - Equitable Complete Streets for Challenger Way Corridor project. This new project includes improvements that will add wider protected bikeways and a raised median with native plantings with left-turn access along the entire length of the corridor. Additional street lighting will be installed along the corridor, where required, and the existing pavement along the corridor will be rehabilitated. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's construction phase.

Santa Clarita

- Program $270,000 in FY 28 for MM4501.24 - Bicycle and Pedestrian Trail Safety Detection project. The new project will install AI cameras at strategic locations to enhance trail-user safety and provide additional trail use data. The camera will also communicate with the traffic signal to improve timing when cyclists are detected. This project will likely decrease Vehicle Miles Traveled (VMT). The funds will be used for the project's Plan, Specifications and Estimates (PS&E) and construction phases.

LA County

- Reprogram previously approved $1,000,000 for MM4501.13 - Lake Los Angeles Pedestrian Plan Implementation Phase 1 project. The funds are programmed as follows: $50,000 in FY 20, $300,000 in FY 21, $300,000 in FY 22, $100,000 in FY 23 and $250,000 in FY 28. This existing project includes the design of a Class I bike path on 17th Street East, a new parking lane, curb, gutter, and sidewalk on Avenue Q. Additionally, it includes street crossing improvements such as ADA-compliant curb ramps, pedestrian-activated warning systems, etc. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E phase.

- Reprogram previously approved $600,000 to FY 28 for MM4501.16 - 30th Street West Active Transportation Improvements project. This existing project includes the design of the installation of Class IV buffered bikeways and sidewalks along 30th Street West between Avenue H and Avenue N-8. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E phase.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Programming of Measure M MSP funds to the Subregion projects will not have any adverse safety impacts on Metro's employees or patrons. The recommended projects will result in improved safety for pedestrians, bicyclists and people accessing transit.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

In FY 27, $16.3 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0441 (subsidies budget - Planning) for the Active Transportation Program (Project #474701), $6.7 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0441 (Subsidies to Others) for the Transit Program (Project #474102), and $2.1 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0442 (Highway Subsidies) for the Highway Efficiency Program (Project #475504). Upon approval of this action, staff will reallocate necessary funds to appropriate projects within Cost Centers 0441 and 0442. Since these are multi-year projects, Cost Centers 0441 and 0442 will be responsible for budgeting the cost in future years.

Impact to Budget

The sources of funds for these projects are Measure M Highway Construction 17% and Measure M Transit Construction 35%. These fund sources are not eligible for Metro bus and rail operations expenses.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The North County subregion comprises three cities and the adjacent unincorporated area of Los Angeles County. Seventeen percent of census tracts in the subregion are designated as Equity Focus Communities (EFCs). Cities within the subregion where most census tracts are EFCs include Lancaster (32% designated as EFCs) and Palmdale (29% designated as EFCs).

Metro staff provide technical assistance to jurisdictions, assisting agencies in determining funding eligibility and developing funding agreements, including project scope of work, cost and schedule. Each city and/or agency, independently and in coordination with the subregion, undertakes their jurisdictionally determined community engagement process specific to the type of transportation improvement they seek to develop. These locally determined and prioritized projects represent the needs of cities and the subregion.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through planning activities that will improve and further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, and active transportation. The details of how specific projects may impact Metro's VMT reduction targets are shared in the "Discussion" section of this report. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports the following goals of the Metro Vision 2028 Strategic Plan:

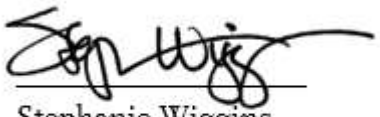
Goal 1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling by alleviating the current operational deficiencies and improving mobility along the projects.

Goal 4: Transform LA County through regional collaboration by partnering with the Council of Governments and the local jurisdictions to identify the needed improvements and take the lead in the development and implementation of their projects.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board can elect not to approve the additional programming of funds or scope of work and schedule changes for the Measure M MSP projects for the North County subregion. This is not recommended as the Subregion developed the proposed projects in accordance with the Measure M Ordinance, Guidelines, and Administrative Procedures which may delay the development and delivery of the projects.

NEXT STEPS



Metro staff will continue to work with the subregion to identify and deliver projects. Funding Agreements will be executed with those who have funds programmed in FY 27. Program/Project updates will be provided to the Board annually.

PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: COUNTYWIDE CALL FOR PROJECTS

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. DEOBLIGATING $2.23 million of previously approved Call for Projects (Call) funding, as shown in Attachment A, and held in reserve;

B. APPROVING changes to the scope of work for the City of Long Beach - 1st Street Pedestrian Gallery (#F9628);

C. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) or their designee to negotiate and execute all necessary agreements/or amendments for previously awarded projects; and

D. RECEIVING AND FILING time extensions for 46 projects shown in Attachment B.

ISSUE

Each year the Board must recertify funding for prior Call projects in order to release the funds to project sponsors. The Board must also approve the deobligation of lapsing project funds after providing project sponsors with the opportunity to appeal staff's preliminary deobligation recommendations to the Metro Technical Advisory Committee (TAC). The Board must also approve major changes to the project scope of work for previously approved Call projects. Staff have evaluated the proposed changes and found that they are consistent with the intent of the original scope of work. The Board must also receive and file the time extensions granted through previously delegated Board authority.

BACKGROUND

The Call, an existing competitive grant program dating back to the early 1990s, programmed $4.7 billion (close to 1,400 projects) in a variety of transportation funds, such as federal Congestion Mitigation Air Quality (CMAQ), Regional Surface Transportation Program (RSTP), and local Proposition C 25% funds, to local jurisdictions for regionally significant projects that are often beyond the financial capabilities of local sponsors at that time. The last Call cycle, including all funding commitments and project scopes of work, was approved by the Board in September 2015. Since the inception of the Call, newer transportation revenues have been made available to the local jurisdictions, including the Measure R and Measure M Subregional Programs that provide greater and more flexible funding. Metro staff continuously collaborate with subregions and local agencies on identifying new capital projects that serve the needs of the communities in the County.

The Call process implements Metro's multi-modal programming priorities and the adopted Long Range Transportation Plan (LRTP). Since the adoption of the last Call funding commitments in 2015, the Board has reinforced annual authorization and timely use of funds policies. Specifically, Board policy calls for the consideration of the deobligation of funding from project sponsors who have not met lapsing deadlines or have formally notified Metro that they no longer wish to proceed with the project (cancellation). All projects are subject to a close-out audit after completion. Once the project sponsor concurs with the audit findings, remaining funding, if any, is proposed for deobligation. All proposed $2.23 million deobligated funds included in Attachment A are due to project savings or cancellation requested by the project sponsors and would not be involuntarily deobligated by this proposed Board action, as further described in the attachment. The deobligated funds will be held in the reserve. Currently, there are $16.2 million in reserve ($14.9 million in Proposition C 25% funds and $1.31 million in State Repayment of Capital Project Loan funds), not including the proposed deobligating amount in this report.

DISCUSSION

This report summarizes the 2026 annual review and recommendations.

Staff have been actively working with the local jurisdictions to prioritize and expedite project implementation to meet the Call funding commitments. Quarterly Progress/Expenditures reporting are required on all active projects.

Annually since August 2020, staff also reported completed assessments of the past and current recipient performance in project delivery (2007 to 2015 Call cycles). Staff updated the table as of June 30, 2026 (see below), which shows that 62 active Call projects totaling $182.9 million are yet to be fully implemented. Since July 2025, project sponsors have completed an additional 39 projects, which include bottleneck intersection improvements, signal, bikeway, and pedestrian improvements, and transit capital projects, with total expenditures/obligations of $47.6 million. Remaining projects across numerous jurisdictions throughout Los Angeles County focus on multimodal improvements and support for the region's mobility needs and support of safe, sustainable, environmentally friendly improvements. All of the remaining 2007 and 2009 Call projects are under construction or in the process of obligating the construction funds. Overall, approximately 26 additional Call projects are expected to be completed within 12 months. Staff will continue working with the project sponsors to advance the delivery of all projects.

Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) Appeals

Projects with significant delays are notified of the potential deobligation and the project sponsors' right to appeal. In May 2026, project sponsors who were required to appear at the Metro Call TAC appeals were notified. On June 3, 2026, the TAC heard sponsor appeals on the proposed deobligation of funding from seven projects (Attachment C). The TAC recognized the progress made to the projects and recommended extensions to 2027 for all seven projects and requested project status updates to TAC at the June 2027 meeting. Staff concurs with these recommendations, as these projects are preparing to start construction within the next 6 to 12 months and cities' commitment to deliver these projects within the revised schedule provided at the TAC appeals.

Project Scope of Work Changes

The City of Long Beach - 1st Street Pedestrian Gallery (#F9628) was programmed through the 2015 Call. As approved, the project covers 0.35 miles of pedestrian improvements - including sidewalks and crosswalks, street and pedestrian lighting, benches, wayfinding and signage, and landscaping on 1st Street in downtown Long Beach between Pacific Ave. and Elm Ave. The city is requesting a revision to the scope of work by removing colored concrete and decorative inlay work (affecting sidewalk replacement and some crosswalks), reducing certain landscaping elements, simplifying streetscape and lighting improvements, and replacing the realignment of 1st Street with a smaller curb bulb-out. The city's recent construction procurement process resulted in a re-evaluation of project costs and subsequent value engineering to preserve the project's key elements. The requested changes would allow the city to deliver the project and improve pedestrian connectivity, enhance safety, and support downtown activation. Staff have evaluated the proposed change in scope and found it consistent with the intent of the original scope of work. Metro will maintain its funding commitment of $2,716,524, and the city will maintain its local match commitment of $905,507 (25%). In addition, the city is committed to covering any future project cost overruns.

Receive and File Time Extensions

During the 2001 Countywide Call Recertification, Deobligation, and Extension, the Board authorized the administrative extension of projects based on the following reasons:

1) Project delay due to an unforeseen and extraordinary circumstance beyond the control of the project sponsor (federal or state delay, legal challenge, Act of God);

2) Project delay due to Metro action that results in a change in project scope, schedule, or sponsorship that is mutually agreed upon; and
3) The project is contractually obligated, however, a time extension is needed to complete construction that is already underway (capital projects only).

Based on the above criteria, extensions for the 46 projects shown in Attachment B are being granted.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The 2026 Call Recertification and Deobligation will not have any adverse safety impacts on Metro's employees or patrons. The Call projects support the development of a transportation system that will balance multimodal mobility options and improvements that enable people to spend less time traveling.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The amount of $37.4 million is included in the FY 202627 Adopted Budget in Cost Centers 0441 (Subsidies to Others), 0442 (subsidies - Complete Streets & Highway), and 0445 (subsidies budget - ITS) for the Countywide Call, in Project #s 410002, 410007, 410008, 410009, 410018, and 410033. Since these are multi-year projects, the cost center managers and Chief Planning Officer will be responsible for budgeting in future years.

Impact to Budget

The sources of funds for these activities are Proposition C 25%, and State Repayment of Capital Project Loan Funds. Proposition C 25% funds are eligible for transportation system/demand management (TSM/TDM) programs such as open streets events and are not eligible for Metro bus and rail operations expenses.

EQUITY PLATFORM

Metro's Call program was a competitive process that distributed discretionary capital transportation funds to regionally significant projects that improve traffic flow, reduce congestion, provide access and mobility, connect bikeway networks, and promote walking, etc. The projects (and scopes) included in this action predate the Equity Platform (adopted in 2018). As such, Equity Platform criteria were not included in the evaluation of these projects. However, the third pillar of the Equity Platform, "Focus and Deliver" applies to these community-driven projects. Given that no equity analysis occurred during the initial grant process, staff are now working to evaluate the equity impacts from the existing grants. The Equity Focus Communities ("EFCs", adopted as part of the 2020 Long Range Transportation Plan, updated in 2022 and 2025) are being applied to all current Call grants to support the first pillar of the Equity Platform, "Define and Measure". Specifically, the EFCs are a mapping tool that has been added to the Call administration database since July 2021. The analysis of the EFC layer to the Call grants (within a 1-mile radius) provides information about the makeup of the communities being served by these projects. See Attachment D for a map of the remaining 62 projects (84%) in EFCs.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While the agency remains committed to reducing VMT through transit and multimodal investments, some projects may induce or increase personal vehicle travel. However, these individual projects aim to ensure the efficient and safe movement of people and goods. This Board item, which looks at a number of smaller investments across modes, will likely increase VMT in LA County, as it includes several projects that encourage driving alone.

Although this item may not directly contribute to the achievement of the Board-adopted VMT Reduction Targets, the VMT Targets were developed to account for the cumulative effect of a suite of programs and projects within the Metro region, which individually may induce or increase VMT. Additionally, Metro has a voter-approved mandate to deliver multimodal projects that enhance mobility while ensuring the efficient and safe movement of people and goods.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports the following goals of the Metro Vision 2028 Strategic Plan:

Goal 1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling by alleviating the current operational deficiencies and improving mobility along the projects.

Goal 4: Transform LA County through regional collaboration with the subregions and local jurisdictions in the implementation of the projects.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could cancel all or some of the FY 2026-27 funding commitments rather than authorizing their continued expenditure. This would be a change to the previous Board-approved Countywide Calls programming commitments and would disrupt ongoing projects, right-of-way acquisition particularly, that received multi-year funding.

With respect to deobligation, the Board could choose to deobligate funds from one or more project sponsors whose projects are beyond the lapse dates and are not moving forward consistently with the adopted Revised Lapsing Policy rather than extending the deadlines. A much stricter interpretation of the Revised Lapsing Policy might encourage project sponsors in general to deliver them in a timelier fashion. However, this would be disruptive to the process of delivering specific projects currently underway, as approximately 26 projects are now very close to being delivered. On balance, the appeals process between the project sponsors, and the Metro TAC is a significant reminder to project sponsors that these funded projects should not be further delayed thus ensuring policy objectives are achieved in expending the funds as intended by the Call program.

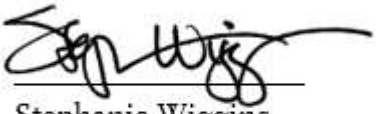
NEXT STEPS



Staff will notify project sponsors of next steps upon Board approval of the 2026 Countywide Call Deobligation and Extension process. Amendments to existing Funding Agreements will be completed for those sponsors receiving time extensions. Metro staff will identify recommended uses for the reserve, including countywide needs, and address subregional cost increases, which are consistent with the prior recommended uses of the Call reserve. Project sponsors whose funds are being deobligated and those receiving date-certain time extension deadlines for executing their agreements will be formally notified of the Board's action.

PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: CAP-AND-INVEST LOW CARBON TRANSIT OPERATIONS PROGRAM (LCTOP)

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER approving the Resolution in Attachment A that:

A. AUTHORIZES the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) or their designee to claim a total of $58,909,350 in California Cap-and-Invest (formerly California Cap-and-Trade) proceeds, accumulated in State Fiscal Year (FY) 2025-26, disbursed through LCTOP for A-Line Operations;

B. CERTIFIES that Metro will comply with LCTOP certification, assurances, and the authorized agent requirements; and

C. AUTHORIZES the CEO or their designee to execute all required documents and any amendments with the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans).

ISSUE

The Low Carbon Transit Operations Program (LCTOP), a California Cap-and-Invest (formerly California Cap-and-Trade) program established in 2014, provides operating and capital assistance funds to public transportation agencies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and improve mobility, prioritizing projects serving State-designated disadvantaged communities, which partially overlap with Metro's Equity Focus Communities (EFC). To secure these funds, Metro must submit a complete package, which includes an adopted Board resolution certifying compliance with all LCTOP conditions. Therefore, Metro Staff seeks approval of the Resolution contained in Attachment A.

BACKGROUND

Created by California Senate Bill 862 (2014), LCTOP provides proceeds from California's Cap-and-Invest Program to support transit agency investment in various projects intended to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Each year, the State makes LCTOP formula grant funds available through a process administered by the California Department of Transportation in coordination with the California Air Resources Board (CARB) and the State Controller's Office (SCO).

Under SB 840 (2025) and AB 1207 (2025), changes to the Cap-And-Invest rules, which took effect on July 01, 2026, require the State to change the timing for releasing Cap-And-Invest proceeds. To ensure proper distribution and timely access to funds, the FY 2025-26 LCTOP allocation is split into two separate cycles - Cycle A, a regular Call for Projects carrying approximately $132M, and Cycle B, a second Call for Projects carrying an estimated $85M. On February 27, 2026, the State notified eligible agencies of their FY 2025-26 Cycle A fund allocation amounts, including $32,138,535 apportioned to Metro. On September 1, 2026, the State released the Cycle B amounts which provides $20,590,955 to Metro. In addition, 17 Los Angeles County municipal operators requested to transfer to Metro $3,766,614 and $2,413,246 from their Cycles A and B FY 2025-26 LCTOP fund allocations in exchange for more flexible local funds. The total State FY25-26 LCTOP funding available to Metro, including funding exchanges with other municipal operators is $58,909,350.

DISCUSSION

To claim the total $58,909,350 grant award, Metro must submit a request describing the proposed transit expenditures to be funded using the LCTOP proceeds. The complete allocation request package must include a Board resolution that: 1) authorizes the CEO or their designee to claim $58.9 million in FY 2025-26 LCTOP funds; 2) identifies the project(s) to be funded with the LCTOP funds; 3) accepts the transfer of FY 2025-26 LCTOP funds to Metro by the 17 municipal operators; and 4) authorizes the CEO or their designee to execute and amend all required LCTOP documents with Caltrans including the certifications and assurances and authorized agent forms. Staff proposes to align the total $58,909,350 to A Line Operations.

LCTOP Program Funding

In FY 2025-26, $217.8 million was allocated to LCTOP statewide for Cycles A and B, with $52.7 million allocated to Metro. Transit agencies receiving funds from the LCTOP must submit proposals listing projects that meet any of the following criteria:

Expenditures that directly enhance or expand transit service by supporting new or expanded bus or rail services, new or expanded waterborne transit, or expanded intermodal transit facilities, and may include equipment acquisition, fueling, and maintenance, and other costs to operate those services or facilities;

Operational expenditures that increase transit mode share; and

Expenditures related to the purchase of zero-emission buses, including electric buses, and the installation of the necessary equipment and infrastructure to operate and support these zero emission buses.

Additional Project Eligibility Criteria

For project leads in a Metropolitan Planning Organization area, projects must also be consistent with the Sustainable Communities Strategy. Additionally, capital projects must have a useful life not less than typically required for capital assets pursuant to State General Obligation Law, with buses or rail rolling stock considered to have a useful life of two or more years. The LCTOP specifically requires documentation that each proposed project will achieve a reduction in greenhouse gas emissions and improve mobility. All projects are required to benefit disadvantaged communities, low-income communities, and/or low-income households.

Metro-Specific Considerations in Selecting LCTOP Projects

Staff considered various factors to identify recommended projects to utilize the FY 2025-26 LCTOP funding, evaluating both new requests and potentially viable grant uses collected during prior years' LCTOP efforts. Projects that were analyzed included several Metro rail line operations, Access Services, electrification of various Metro Divisions, and Open and Slow Streets events. Factors including project readiness, project schedule, locations serving disadvantaged communities, GHG emissions reductions, and overall LCTOP program project eligibility, resulted in not selecting those projects. The analysis included an evaluation of each potential recipient project's alignment with Metro's Strategic Vision, project and program costs, Vehicle Miles Traveled (VMT) impacts, equity, community engagement undertaken, and the extent to which allocating LCTOP funding improves the balance between Metro's financial commitments and funding availability. As a result of this analysis, staff recommends Metro A Line operations. Further proposal details are outlined below:

Metro A Line Operations:

Metro's A-Line, which operates from Long Beach to Pomona, spans 57.7 miles of track and includes 48 stations. Across the Metro rail system, the A-Line leads in both high ridership and operational demand. Recent expansions have significantly enhanced the line's reach and utility. The Regional Connector, which opened to the public on June 16, 2023, enabled Metro to provide new service in Downtown Los Angeles and successfully consolidated three train lines into two (the A and E Lines). The Pomona Extension, which opened to the public on September 19, 2025, created 9.1 miles of new track and four at-level stations. This extension enables a vital new service in the San Gabriel Valley.

Together, these expansions facilitate a seamless, one-seat ride across Pomona, Downtown Los Angeles, and Long Beach, bridging additional connections to regional rail networks. The new/expanded and enhanced rail service has helped increase rail ridership on the A-Line by 16% in the first half of FY26. Both the Regional Connector and Pomona Extension were designed and built with significant community input. With the opening of the new Pomona Extension and the continued operation of 57.7 miles of track and 48 stations on the A-Line, it is considered new or expanded service within five years per LCTOP guidelines and aligns well with LCTOP eligibility requirements. The A-Line with the new Pomona Extension also aligns well with the current practice of programming available funds to eligible operations costs.

Metro-A Line operates in neighborhoods designated as disadvantaged or low-income per SB 535 and AB 1550, particularly the 28 stations located within Metro's EFCs across Long Beach, South Los Angeles, East Los Angeles, and Pomona. Census tracts along the A-Line EFC boundaries average 57% low-income households, 85% Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC), and 22% Zero-Vehicle households.

Multiple public engagement opportunities were initiated for these communities, drawing 229 participants to the Regional Connector and an average of 65 to the Pomona Extension.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The requested actions will not impact the safety of Metro customers or employees.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Claiming the LCTOP funds will positively impact the agency's budget by making $58.9 million available to Metro for new or enhanced transit service.

Impact to Budget

LCTOP funds are eligible for either bus and rail operations or capital expenditures. .

EQUITY PLATFORM

Senate Bill 525 (de Leon, 2012) and Assembly Bill 1550 (Gomez, 2016) established criteria for meeting the LCTOP requirement to prioritize serving disadvantaged and low-income communities.

The California Environmental Protection Agency (CalEPA) provides tools, such as CalEnviroScreen 4.0, for identifying Disadvantaged Communities (DACs) based on geographic, socioeconomic, public health, and environmental hazard criteria. As the lead agency, Metro must select the document information to show that a proposed project meets all DAC and other priority population requirements. Staff considered both projects by utilizing the CalEnviroScreen 4.0 mapping tool, Metro's EFCs Map, and engagement from the Regional Connector Project.

The Metro A Line is located in or adjacent to neighborhoods designated as disadvantaged and/or low-income communities per SB 535 and AB 1550. Forty-Eight (48) stations along the A Line are located within Metro's Equity Focus Communities in (EFCs) in Long Beach, South Los Angeles, East Los Angeles, and Pomona. Stations in census tracts along the A Line's EFC boundaries have an average of 57 percent of low-income households and an average of 22 percent of zero-vehicle households. At least 80 percent of the A Line is located within a DAC as defined by CalEnviroScreen 4.0. The proposed grant funding will help Metro fund the continued operations of the A Line, which will benefit the impacted communities by providing direct, safe, and reliable transit service to major centers in Long Beach, Downtown Los Angeles, Pasadena, Azusa, and Pomona. The opening of the new Pomona Extension increases access to available multi-modal transit service to the greater San Bernardino area. Robust public engagement opportunities were initiated for communities in the extended corridor area, including public scoping meetings that drew 229 participants and an average of 65 participants per meeting for the Pomona Extension.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT. Implementing the GETS will reduce the vehicle miles traveled during the Games time by providing alternatives to driving and parking directly at venues.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT, as it is related to investment activities that will benefit and encourage taking transit, including rail.

This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through operational activities and infrastructure. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

Metro conducted a preliminary analysis to show that the net effect of this multi-modal item is to decrease VMT and meet the State's requirements. Staff calculated VMT associated with the proposal to show that the net effect of this multi-modal item is to decrease VMT. The California Air Resources Board's GHG Benefits Calculator (QM-Tool) is used in the LCTOP Allocation Request to demonstrate GHG and VMT reductions. Based on projected ridership numbers and estimated annual fuel use for A Line operations, the estimated VMT reduction is 92,209,745 miles.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Recommendation supports strategic plan goal #1 to provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling, and goal #3, enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may choose not to approve the resolution in Attachment A. Staff does not recommend this alternative because it would risk the loss of $58.9M in State FY 2025-26 LCTOP funding - $52.7M allocated directly and $6.1M in funds transferred by 17 municipal operators to Metro.

NEXT STEPS

- August/September 2026: Caltrans and CARB approve List of Projects and submit it to SCO for Cycle A
- October 2026: Metro submits LCTOP Cycle B allocation request to Caltrans.
- September/October 2026: SCO releases approved project list for Cycle A
- January/February 2027: Caltrans and CARB approve the List of Projects and submit it to SCO for Cycle B
- February/March 2027: SCO releases approved project list.

SUBJECT: MEASURE M MULTI-YEAR SUBREGIONAL PROGRAM AND MEASURE R TRANSIT INVESTMENTS PROGRAM UPDATE - SOUTH BAY SUBREGION

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. APPROVING:

1. Programming an additional $96,574,573 within the capacity of Measure M Multi-Year Subregional Program (MSP) - Transportation System and Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 50), and reprogramming $29,828,100 project funds previously approved to meet the project schedule, as shown in Attachment A;

2. Programming an additional $8,700,000 within the capacity of Measure M MSP - South Bay Highway Operational Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 63), as shown in Attachment B;

3. Programming an additional $5,400,600 of Measure M MSP - Transportation System and Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 66), including reprogramming $19,733,000 project funds previously approved and inter-program borrowing from the Measure M MSP - Transportation System and Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 50), as shown in Attachment C;

4. Programming an additional $4,000,000 within the capacity of Measure R South Bay Transit Investments Program, including reprogramming $11,420,661 project funds previously approved to meet the project schedule, shown in Attachment D; and

B. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer or their designee to negotiate and execute all necessary agreements and/or amendments for approved projects.

ISSUE

Measure M MSPs and Measure R South Bay Transit Investments Programs, whose funds are limited to capital uses, are included in the Measure M and/or Measure R Expenditure Plans. The annual update allows the South Bay subregion and implementing agencies to approve new eligible projects for funding and revise scopes of work, schedules, and project budgets for previously funded projects. Funds are programmed through Fiscal Year (FY) 2029-30. The Board's approval is required to program additional funds and acknowledge the updated project lists (Attachments A, B, C and D), which will serve as the basis for Metro to enter into funding agreements and/or amendments with the respective implementing agencies.

BACKGROUND

Based on the amount provided in the Measure M Expenditure Plan, a total of $627.68 million in Measure M MSP was forecasted to be available for programming for the South Bay Subregion from FY 2017-18 to FY 2029-30. In prior actions, the Board approved programming of $396.89 million in support of 91 projects. Therefore, $230.79 million of Measure M MSP funds is available to the Subregion for programming as part of this update. Over the last eight years, $67.07 million or 17% of the $396.89 million programmed has been expended. Two projects are closed, and five others have been completed and are initiating or in the close-out audit process.

At its July 2021 meeting, the Board approved the Measure R Ordinance Amendment that authorized the transfer of up to $400 million from the Measure R Highway Capital Subfund to eligible Transit Capital projects. In prior actions, the Board approved programming of $376.84 million in support of 11 projects. Therefore, $23.16 million of Measure R South Bay Transit Investment Program funds is available to the Subregion for programming as part of this update. Over the last five years, $100.94 million or 27% of the $376.84 programmed has been expended. All projects are in the implementation phase.

In line with the Metro Board adopted guidelines and June 2022 Objectives for Multimodal Highway Investments <<https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2022-0302/>>, agencies requesting funds must provide documentation demonstrating community support, project need, and multimodal transportation benefits that enhance safety, support traffic mobility, economic vitality, and enable a safer and well-maintained transportation system. Cities and Councils of Governments (COG) lead and prioritize all proposed transportation improvements, including procurement, the environmental process, outreach, final design, and construction.

DISCUSSION

Findings

Metro staff works closely with the South Bay COG and the implementing agencies on project eligibility reviews preparing for the annual update, including changes to the project scope of work/schedule and/or funding requests, as applicable. The jurisdictional requests are proposed by the cities and approved/forwarded by the subregion.

During staff review, Metro required a detailed project scope of work to confirm project eligibility and establish the program nexus including but not limited to project location and limits, length, elements, phase(s), total estimated expenses, funding requested, and schedules. Final approval of funds for the projects shall be contingent upon the implementing agency demonstrating the eligibility of each project, as required in the Measure M Master Guidelines and/or the Measure R Transit Investments Program Guidelines. Staff expect the collection of the project details in advance of Board action to enable the timely execution of project Funding Agreements for approved projects. All Measure M MSP and Measure R funds must be expended within three years from the fiscal year in which the funds are programmed, according to the Guidelines Timely Use of Funds Lapsing Policy. Staff continue working with the implementing agencies and encouraging timely completion of the projects. Additionally, all projects are subject to a close-out audit after completion, according to the Guidelines.

This report includes inter-program borrowing of funds from the Measure M MSP - Transportation System and Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 50). This type of inter-program borrowing is acceptable under the Board-adopted Guidelines, as long as the projects meet the Measure M MSP funding eligibility, have consent from the affected subregion, and obtain Metro Board approval. In April 2026, the SBCCOG Board approved the inter-program borrowing.

Considerations

Transportation System and Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 50)

This update includes funding adjustments to six existing and eight new projects as follows:

Hawthorne

- Program $1,898,850 in FY 27 for a new project: MM5502.14 - Hawthorne Mobility Hub. The new project includes the design of a new two-story, 400 space parking structure in the southeast corner of the Hawthorne Memorial Center that will serve as a park-and-ride hub near major bus and Metro routes as well as regional transit. This project will likely decrease Vehicle Miles Traveled (VMT). The funds will be used for the project's Project Approval and Environmental Document (PAED) and Plans Specification and Estimates (PS&E) phases.

Inglewood

- Program $5,500,000 for a new project: MM5502.15 - Aviation Boulevard Improvement Project. Funds are to be programmed as follows: $2,000,000 in FY 27 and $3,500,000 in FY 28. The new project will rehabilitate and enhance the corridor between Arbor Vitae Street and Manchester Boulevard, integrating improvements designed to meet current standards and serve both local and regional traffic. These improvements will strengthen pedestrian connectivity, facilitate seamless transit access to the LAX/Metro Transit Center Station and Westchester/Veterans K Line Station, and enhance safety for pedestrians and vehicles along the corridor. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's construction phase.

LA City

- Program an additional $6,859,898 and reprogram $6,038,091 previously awarded funds for MM4601.01- San Pedro Pedestrian Improvements. Funds are programmed as follows:

$1,207,619 in prior years, $3,372,445 in FY 26, $3,295,098 in FY 27, $6,087,531 in FY 28, $142,915 in FY 29 for a revised total grant of $14,105,608. The project limits are approximately one-half square mile area, that serves a low-income and transit-dependent neighborhood in the Los Angeles community of San Pedro. The existing project includes new crosswalks, pedestrian security lighting, curb extensions, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) compliant curb ramps, and bicycle racks which will create a complete street environment that encourages increased walking, bicycling and public transit use. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's PAED, PS&E and construction phases.

- Program an additional $15,200,000 and reprogram $10,207,400 previously awarded funds for MM4601.03 - Avalon Promenade and Gateway. Funds are programmed as follows: $6,643,000 in FY 27, $8,823,000 in FY 28, and $9,941,400 in FY 29 for a revised total grant of $25,407,400. The existing project will construct a dedicated pedestrian/cycling bridge over the active freight railroad tracks and approximately 12-acres of open public space adjacent to the pedestrian bridge. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's construction phase.

- Program $719,000 for a new project: MM4601.24 - Anaheim Street and Sampson Avenue Pedestrian Hybrid Beacon. Funds are programmed as follows: $144,000 in FY 28, $287,500 in FY 29, and $287,500 in FY 30. The new project includes constructing a new Pedestrian Hybrid Beacon at the intersection of Anaheim Street and Sampson Avenue to add a new crossing that will increase the safety of pedestrians who are crossing north/south and directly serve local and regional transit riders. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's PAED, PS&E and construction phases.

- Program $3,500,000 for a new project: MM5502.16 - Lomita Blvd Grade Separation. Funds are programmed as follows: $1,242,860 in FY 27, $1,925,720 in FY 28, and $331,420 in FY 29. This new project includes a grade separated overpass at the eastern terminus of Lomita Boulevard connecting to Alameda Street, diverting commercial truck traffic away from residential streets in East Wilmington. This overpass is expected to reduce idling and collisions, improve traffic flow, and mitigate concentrated emissions in a community disproportionately burdened by industrial pollution. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used for the project's PAED, PS&E, and Right-of-Way (ROW) phases.

LA County

- Program an additional $2,235,000 and reprogram $660,000 previously awarded funds for MM4601.06 - El Camino Village Traffic and Pedestrian Safety Enhancements. Funds are programmed as follows: $378,000 in prior year, $176,000 in FY 25, $484,000 in FY 26, $1,370,000 in FY 27, $865,000 in FY 28 for a revised total grant of $3,273,000. The existing project includes high-visibility crosswalks, curb extensions, curb ramps, refuge islands, signal improvements, and ADA sidewalk upgrades along three major roadways in the community. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used for the project's PAED and PS&E phases.

This new project includes the construction of multijurisdictional traffic signal synchronization and intersection improvements at 13 signalized intersections, including, but not limited to pedestrian safety improvements, traffic signal synchronization and coordinated signal timing including communications, detection hardware and software improvements, safety lighting and signing and striping upgrades for all auto and non-auto users a long a 3-mile corridor. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used for the project's construction phase.

- Program $1,250,000 for a new project: MM5502.18 - Redondo Beach TSSP. Funds are programmed as follows: $230,000 in FY 27, $870,000 in FY 28, and $150,000 in FY 29. This new project includes the construction of multijurisdictional traffic signal synchronization and intersection improvements at 19 signalized intersections, including, but not limited pedestrian safety improvements, traffic signal synchronization and coordinated signal timing including communications, detection hardware and software improvements, safety lighting and signing and striping upgrades for all auto and non-auto users a long a 4-mile corridor. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used for the project's construction phase.

Lomita

- Program $4,789,234 for a new project: MM4601.25 - School Zone Safety Improvements. Funds are programmed as follows: $800,000 in FY 27 and $3,989,234 in FY 28. This new project includes multimodal infrastructure improvements such as pedestrian hybrid beacons, pedestrian refuge islands, ADA-compliant curb ramps, a parking-protected bicycle lane, intersection realignment, and sidewalk expansions, that are intended to enhance safety, comfort, and accessibility for people walking and bicycling. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E and construction phases.

Torrance

- Program an additional $8,111,591 and reprogram $10,372,609 previously awarded funds for MM4601.08 - Torrance School Safety and Accessibility Program (Phase 2). Funds are programmed as follows: $3,169,283 in FY 26, $5,403,842 in FY 27, and $9,911,075 in FY 28 for a revised total grant of $18,484,200. The existing project includes construction of new sidewalks in existing gap areas within the path of travel, eliminating barriers in the sidewalk infrastructure, installing pedestrian signal equipment at existing signalized intersections, installing high visibility crosswalk striping and signage at stopped controlled intersections, installing bicycle signage for new Class III bike routes, and installing new bicycle racks surrounding three Torrance Elementary schools. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E and construction phases.

The existing project includes enhancing traffic signal communications within the City by establishing a fiber optic interconnect infrastructure. The proposed Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) improvements will modernize signalized intersection and corridor operations. Implementation of update Timing and Transit Signal Priority (TSP) will improve travel time reliability and schedule adherence, supporting increased transit ridership and will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E and construction phases.

- Program $1,116,000 for a new project: MM5502.19 -Traffic Signal Safety Improvement Project. Funds are programmed as follows: $96,000 in FY 27 and $1,020,000 in FY 28. This new project includes traffic signal safety improvements at five intersections such as the installation of ADA-compliant pedestrian push buttons, new pedestrian signal heads, ADA curb ramps, and the implementation of protected left-turn phasing. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's for PAED and PS&E phases.

South Bay Highway Operational Improvements (Expenditure Line 63)

This update includes funding adjustments to two new projects as follows:

LA City

- Program $7,000,000 for a new MSP funded project: MM5507.26 - Anaheim Street Widening, an existing project also funded by Measure R (MR312.51). The MSP funds are programmed as follows: $2,000,000 in FY 27 and $5,000,000 in FY 28. This project includes widening Anaheim Street from four to six traffic lanes between Farragut Avenue and Sampson Avenue in the community of Wilmington. The project also includes constructing new sidewalks along the south side of Anaheim Street, featuring a shared-use bike path with buffered bike lanes along both the south and north sidewalks within the project limits. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's construction phase.

LA County

- Program $1,700,000 for a new project: MM5507.27 - Systemwide Coordination Timing Enhancement. Funds are to be programmed as follows: $600,000 in FY 28, $600,000 in FY 29, and $500,000 in FY 30. This new project includes upgrading the area-wide coordination timing on arterial routes in the South Bay area by reviewing traffic counts and radar speed checks; determining cycle lengths, phase splits, and offsets for the peak and off-peak periods; optimizing the network signal timing; preparing time-space diagrams; preparing timing sheets; installing timing in the field controllers; adjusting timing in the field as necessary; and evaluate travel time after implementation. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E phases.

Transportation System & Mobility Improvements Program (Expenditure Line 66)

This update includes funding adjustments to six existing projects as follows:

Hawthorne

- Program an additional $2,500,600 and reprogram $3,120,000 previously awarded funds for MM4602.03 - Hawthorne Moneta Garden Improvements. Funds are programmed as follows: $200,000 in prior years, $66,449 in FY 24, $1,823,623 in FY 26, $2,452,464 in FY 27, and $1,278,064 in FY 28 for a revised total grant of $5,820,600. This existing project includes upgrading concrete infrastructure to meet ADA requirements, traffic signal work, and streetlight work to provide improved lighting conditions at 11 unsignalized intersections. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PS&E, ROW and construction phases.

LA City

- Program an additional $615,000 in FY 27 for MM5508.01 - Signal Operational Improvements for a revised budget of $3,115,000. The existing project includes the installation of a new traffic signal, curb extensions, and ADA-compliant curb ramps to improve pedestrian safety. It will also add left-turn signals at two locations for northbound and southbound traffic. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's construction phase.

- Reprogram previously awarded $17,518,670 for MM5508.14 - Alameda St (South) Widening from Anaheim St to Harry Bridges Blvd, an existing project also funded by Measure R (MR312.48). Funds are reprogrammed as follows: $2,919,779 in FY 28, $9,489,279 in FY 29, and $5,109,612 in FY 30. The existing project includes widening and improvement of Alameda Street to a Modified Major Highway Class II Street from two lanes to three lanes in each direction between Harry Bridges Boulevard and Anaheim Street. The purpose of this project is to improve the freight line movement along Alameda Street due to the Port of Los Angeles Berth 200 Rail Yard expansion project and increased 18-wheeler truck traffic on the Alameda corridor. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's construction phase.

Manhattan Beach

- Program an additional $2,285,000 and reprogram $16,613,000 previously awarded funds for MM5508.04 - Advanced Traffic Signal System Project. The Funds will be reprogrammed as follows: $1,100,000 in FY 20, $413,032 in FY 21, $8,910,000 in FY 26, and $9,574,868 in FY 27 for a revised total grant of $19,998,000. The project includes the design of the City's fiber network, as well as the design and construction of associated ITS improvements, including traffic signal communication upgrades, Changeable/Dynamic Message Signs, cameras, and signal timing improvements. Funds are being reprogrammed to address unforeseen circumstances in construction, the construction phase which required a higher level of engineering review, redesign and construction support than originally anticipated. This project would likely increase VMT. This fund will be used to complete project's PS&E and construction phases.

Palos Verdes Estates

- Reprogram previously awarded $5,517,000 for MM5508.11 - Palos Verdes Drive West Corridor Expansion. Funds are reprogrammed as follows: $304,172 in FY 21, $950,000 in FY 27, $1,300,000 in FY 28, and $2,962,828 in FY 29. The project was originally planning to install either a roundabout or a traffic signal at the Via Corta intersection. However, based on community outreach, stakeholder engagement, and further technical analysis, the city revised the scope of work to a dual phase approach to implement improvements at PVDW/ Via Corta and PVDW/ Palos Verdes Drive North (Triangle) intersections. These improvements will enhance pedestrian and bicycle safety and improve vehicular operations and will better reflect community preferences while advancing safety and operational improvements. This project will likely increase VMT. The funds will be used for project's PAED and PS&E phases.

Rolling Hills Estates

- Reprogram previously approved $4,698,650 for MM4602.10 - Rolling Hills Road Bike Lanes. Funds are reprogrammed as follows: $229,450 in prior years, $778,200 in FY 27, $2,912,800 in FY 28 and $778,200 in FY 29. This existing project includes proposed bike lanes and multimodal shared use trails that would connect the existing bike lanes and multimodal shared use trails on Palos Verdes Drive North to the future bike route on Rolling Hills Road. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PAED, PS&E and construction phases.

Measure R South Bay Transit Investment Program

This update includes funding adjustments to one existing projects as follows:

Carson

- Program an additional $4,000,000 and reprogram $11,420,661 previously awarded funds for MR524.02- Victoria Transit Center (formerly known as Carson Circuit: Fashion Outlet Regional Transit Center). The funds are programmed as follows: $56,339 in FY 23, $318,661 in FY 25, $1,100,000 in FY 26, $11,350,000 in FY27, and $2,652,000 in FY 28 for a revised total grant of $15,477,000. This existing project includes design and construction of the overall mobility hub that addresses the much needed, multi-modal transportation accommodations linking the bus terminal like, bike lanes, ride share station, pedestrian accessibility, walking and jogging paths, wayfinding, short term parking, and shuttle bus stops. This project will likely decrease VMT. The funds will be used to complete the project's PAED, PS&E, ROW and construction phases.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Programming of Measure M MSP and Measure R Transit Investments funds to the South Bay Subregion projects will not have any adverse safety impacts on Metro's employees or patrons. The recommended projects support the development of a transportation system that will balance multimodal mobility options and improvements that enable people to spend less time traveling.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

In FY 27, $13.3 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0441 (subsidies budget - Planning) for South Bay Transit Investment Program (Project #465524); $1.6 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0442 (subsidies - Complete Streets & Highway), and $1.2 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0445 (subsidies budget - ITS) for the Transportation System Mobility Improvement Program (Project #475502); $2.1 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0442 (subsidies - Complete Streets & Highway), and $1.7 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0445 (subsidies budget - ITS) for the South Bay Highway Operational Improvements Program (Project #475507); and $1.6 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0442 (subsidies - Complete Streets & Highway), and $2.5 million is budgeted in Cost Center 0445 (subsidies budget - ITS) for the Transportation System Mobility Improvement Program (Project #475508). Upon approval of this action, staff will reallocate necessary funds to appropriate projects within Cost Centers 0441, 0442 and 0445. Since these are multi-year projects, Cost Centers 0441, 0442 and 0445 will be responsible for budgeting the cost in future years.

Impact to Budget

The sources of funds for these projects are Measure M Highway Construction 17% and Measure R Transit Capital. These fund sources are not eligible for Metro bus and rail operations expenses.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The South Bay subregion comprises 15 cities and the adjacent unincorporated area of Los Angeles County. Thirty-five percent of census tracts in the subregion are defined as Equity Focus Communities (EFCs). Cities within the subregion where most census tracts are EFCs include Gardena (37.5%), Hawthorne (60%), Inglewood (80.8%), City of Los Angeles (48.2%), and the unincorporated County of Los Angeles (57.7%). As part of this report, additional funds are allocated to many of the communities with EFCs, including Hawthorne, Inglewood, City of Los Angeles, and the unincorporated County of Los Angeles.

Metro staff provide technical assistance to jurisdictions, assisting agencies in determining funding eligibility and developing funding agreements, including project scope of work, cost and schedule. Each city and/or agency, independently and in coordination with the subregion, undertakes their jurisdictionally determined community engagement process specific to the type of transportation improvement they seek to develop. These locally determined and prioritized projects represent the needs of cities and the subregion. Many of the projects listed above include accessibility improvements, which ensure compliance with ADA requirements and a more dignified experience for people with disabilities.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit. * Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While the agency remains committed to reducing VMT through transit and multimodal investments, some projects may induce or increase personal vehicle travel. However, these individual projects aim to ensure the efficient and safe movement of people and goods. Each project's VMT outcome is included in the brief project description earlier in this report. This Board item, which looks at a number of smaller investments across modes, will likely increase VMT in LA County, as it includes several projects that encourage driving alone.

Although this item may not directly contribute to achieving the Board-adopted VMT Reduction Targets, these targets were developed to account for the cumulative effect of a suite of programs and projects within the Metro region, which individually may induce or increase VMT. Additionally, Metro operates under a voter-approved mandate to deliver multimodal projects that enhance mobility while ensuring the efficient and safe movement of people and goods.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports the following goals of the Metro Vision 2028 Strategic Plan:

Goal 1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling by alleviating the current operational deficiencies and improving mobility along the projects.

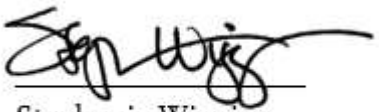
Goal 4: Transform LA County through regional collaboration by partnering with the Council of Governments and the local jurisdictions to identify the needed improvements and take the lead in development and implementation of their projects.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could elect not to approve the additional programming of funds for the Measure M MSP and Measure R Transit Investments Program projects for the South Bay Subregion. This is not recommended as the Subregion developed the proposed projects in accordance with the Measure M Ordinance, Guidelines, and Administrative Procedures, as well as the Measure R Transit Investments Program Guidelines

NEXT STEPS

Metro staff will continue to work with the Subregion to identify and deliver projects. Funding Agreements will be executed with those who have funds programmed in FY 2026-27.



Program/Project updates will be provided to the Board annually.

PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: LONG BEACH-EAST LA CORRIDOR MOBILITY INVESTMENT PLAN HIGHWAY CAPITAL FUNDING

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. PROGRAMMING an amount not-to-exceed $35 million in Measure M I-710 South Corridor Project (now the LB-ELA CMIP) Highway Capital Funds as funding augmentation for the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project, subject to contingencies including partial repayment (Attachment A);

B. AMENDING the FY 2027 Budget to accommodate this programming action; and

C. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer or their designee to negotiate and execute all necessary agreements with the City of Long Beach.

ISSUE

The Board previously approved and programmed $9 million in funding for the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project (Project) to support the city of Long Beach's efforts to complete the design phase in time to maintain a federal funding award and implement the Project in time for the 2028 Los Angeles Olympic and Paralympic Games (2028 Games). The Project currently faces a $35 million shortfall, which jeopardizes the federal funding award of $30 million and the Project's opening date. Staff recommend augmenting the prior funding allocation by an amount not-to-exceed $35 million to cover this shortfall, with contingencies included as outlined in Attachment A.

BACKGROUND

The Project will realign Shoreline Drive to reduce speeds and traffic impacts, and create a larger, more functional, and more connected park space adjacent to the Los Angeles River at the point where Interstate 710 (I-710) connects to Downtown Long Beach via the Shoemaker Bridge. The Project also includes upgraded signal and intelligent transportation system infrastructure and approximately 1.5 miles of protected bicycle and pedestrian facilities that connect the city's Downtown and waterfront, the Los Angeles River trail system, and neighborhoods west of I-710.

Measure R (2008) allocated $590 million in Highway Capital funds for the I-710 South and/or Early Action Projects. These funds were divided into two subfunds: $430 million for the I-710 South Freeway project, and $160 million for Non-Freeway/Early Action Projects (EAPs) to be sponsored and programmed by local jurisdictions adjacent to I-710. The funding available from the former subfund ($243 million) ultimately became absorbed into the Long Beach-East LA Corridor Mobility Investment Plan (LB-ELA CMIP) after the Board, in May 2021 <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2021-0368/>, suspended the I-710 South EIS/EIR and directed staff to develop a multimodal, community-focused investment strategy. The latter subfund was designed to enable local jurisdictions to make recommendations to Metro through the I-710 Technical Advisory Committee to advance their sponsored EAPs, including the Project, which was sponsored by the city of Long Beach. To date, the Project has received $4.7 million in Measure R funding from Metro through the EAP subfund and is awaiting audit for final close-out, as these funds have been spent on earlier Project development phases.

In 2023, the city of Long Beach secured a $30 million award from the United States Department of Transportation's Reconnecting Communities Pilot Program. This federal funding award leveraged local funding from the city and Metro to implement the Project by 2028. Failure to meet the grant requirements will result in the loss of this funding for the Project.

At its April 2024 meeting <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2023-0594/>, the Board approved the Long Beach-East Los Angeles (LB-ELA) Corridor Mobility Investment Plan (CMIP), which programmed approximately $743 million in Measure R and Measure M funds previously dedicated to the I-710 South Corridor freeway project to a multimodal array of priority projects, programs, and community initiatives within the LB-ELA Corridor. Approval of the CMIP resulted in the allocation of approximately $493 million in available CMIP funds for the Initial Investment Projects and Programs (including Community Programs) and reserved the remaining $250 million in Measure M funds, which will not be available for construction until FY 2032, for future programming consideration. This action confirmed that the remaining $243 million of funds from the $430 million Measure R subfund for the I-710 South Freeway project were transferred to and programmed through the CMIP by Metro Board action.

One of the Initial Investment Projects and Programs identified in the CMIP is the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project, which (along with the connected Shoemaker Bridge Project) was recommended to receive $9 million for pre-construction activities such as design, as requested by the city of Long Beach during development of the CMIP. The Project was selected following a rigorous community engagement effort, including direct participation by members of local impacted communities through the Community Leadership Committee, as well as a prioritization process that used multimodal benefit and equity-focused evaluative quantitative and qualitative criteria to identify projects to receive funding through the Initial Investment Projects and Program portion of the CMIP.

In September 2024, the City requested that Metro distribute the full $9 million for the Shoemaker Bridge design phase, a request the Board approved at its April 2025 meeting. In that correspondence, dated September 9, 2024, the city also requested that Metro allocate an additional $24 million for the Project to finalize its design and construction. This request for additional funding was made in addition to the funding identified for the Project in the Board-approved CMIP. Metro began evaluating various funding options to support the City's effort to implement the project at the time.

The City followed up on this request with another letter dated October 13, 2025, informing Metro that their need for additional Project funding remained and that the total was now $30 million, reflecting an increase of $6 million from the prior letter due to inflation and construction management costs. In the letter, the city offered to repay $8 million of this request from its Capital Improvement Program, starting in FY 2028 and concluding in FY 2031, with principal and interest, loan structure, and detailed terms to be determined in a subsequent agreement. The remaining $22 million was requested as an allocation without a repayment agreement.

Metro responded to the City in a letter dated January 12, 2026, stating that it had reviewed the request, available funding options, and prior Board policy and precedent related to local jurisdiction projects that incur cost increases, and had determined that sufficient City local return funds were available across all four Metro sales tax measures (Propositions A and C and Measures R and M) to provide the necessary cashflow needed to cover the $30 million shortfall. This proposal aligned with the precedent Metro had established through its work with the cities of Norwalk, La Puente, Lynwood, Montebello, Downey, and Monterey Park, which used their local return funds in a similar fashion. At the time, Metro and the City could not come to an agreement on using the City's local return funds to cover the entire $30 million request through a loan or other financial mechanism.

In September 2026, the City again reached out to Metro and identified that the Project shortfall was now $35 million based on the latest cost estimates, and that this additional funding would be needed imminently to avoid losing the USDOT funding award and to deliver the Project before the 2028 Games.

DISCUSSION

In response to the City of Long Beach's request for additional funding to secure the Project's funding plan, maintain the USDOT grant award, and deliver the project in time for the 2028 Games, Metro examined multiple funding sources for eligibility and capacity to meet the Project's needs. While Metro and the city could not come to an agreement to use city local return funds for the entire amount requested (initially $24 million but now $35 million), the City did indicate its willingness to repay a significant portion (33.3%) of its original request with local return funds starting in FY 2033.

Considerations

The Project is an identified CMIP priority project that was selected through rigorous community participation, evaluation, and consensus-based discussion with the LB-ELA Corridor Task Force and Community Leadership Committee. The CMIP's intention in allocating the prior $9 million in CMIP funds to the Project and Shoemaker Bridge was to support the City's effort to leverage the USDOT funding award, ensure the Project's delivery by the 2028 Games, and provide long-term transportation and quality of life benefits for equity-focused communities in the Project area. With the project funding and schedule at risk, staff recommend that the Board augment the original $9 million funding allocation for the Project and Shoemaker Bridge by an additional $35 million, for a total of $44 million programmed for the Project through the CMIP, subject to the contingencies listed in Attachment A. The contingencies include a written commitment by the City of Long Beach to repay a portion of the $35 million with Local Return (Attachment B).

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Once implemented, the Project will improve safety for users of Shoreline Drive and surrounding communities accessing parks and trails in the vicinity. The Project features safety- and speed-reduction design, upgraded signals, and ITS to improve safety for all users of the multimodal transportation network in the Project area.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Approval of staff recommendation would allocate $35 million in previously unprogrammed Measure M Highway Funds that are dedicated to the LB-ELA CMIP. These funds would be partially offset by the city of Long Beach's future repayment of $11.5 million starting in FY 2028.

Impact to Budget

The proposed programming action will require an amendment to the FY 2027 budget. The source of funds for this recommendation is Measure M Highway Funds dedicated to the LB-ELA CMIP, which are not eligible for bus and rail operating expenditures.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The Shoreline Drive Realignment Project aligns with the Equity Guiding Principle developed by the LB-ELA CMIP Task Force and approved by the Board at its September 2022 meeting <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2022-0330/>, along with the Sustainability Guiding Principle and the LB-ELA Corridor vision and goals that collectively became part of the framework to develop, evaluate, prioritize, fund, and implement CMIP projects and programs. These values were developed with the support of the Office of Equity and Race's robust leadership and participation in the development of the CMIP process and outcomes, including the use of the Rapid Equity Assessment tool and the Equity Platform Evaluation Tool in pilot format.

The LB-ELA CMIP Equity Guiding Principle is centered around three commitments: (1) strive to rectify past harms; (2) provide fair and just access to opportunities; and (3) eliminate disparities in project processes, outcomes, and community results. The Equity Guiding Principle also included four dimensions of equity: procedural, distributive, structural, and restorative. The development of the CMIP also included intentional, accessible, and representative participation by communities most impacted by I-710 through the Community Leadership Committee.

The Project's focus on expanding local equity-focused community access to expanded parkland, trails, and the LA River through reshaping the highway facility to serve local community needs led to it being awarded funding from the USDOT's Reconnecting Communities Pilot program and prioritized by the LB-ELA Task Force and Community Leadership Committee as a project that met the needs of the communities through an prioritization process that relied on equity-focused evaluative criteria supported and developed by local community members and regional stakeholders.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through investment activities that will improve and further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, and active transportation. Metro's Board -adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports implementing a multimodal system improvement that will provide safer trips, offer alternative mobility options, and increase access to more parkland in the city of Long Beach in advance of the 2028 Games, for which the city will host multiple venues. Board action would be consistent with the following goals of the Metro Vision 2028 Strategic Plan:

Goal 1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling.

Goal 2: Deliver outstanding trip experiences for all users of the transportation system.

Goal 3: Enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.

Goal 4: Transform LA County through regional collaboration and national leadership.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could decide to not program CMIP funding for this purpose. The CMIP and its Vision, Guiding Principles, and Values created a framework whereby funding allocated for the future Modal Programs would be programmed by the Board in a future action based on staff recommendations developed in partnership with local communities, cities, and stakeholders convened through the implementation phase of the CMIP. While this programming action conflicts with that understanding of how future CMIP funds will be allocated, staff believe that the urgency to fully fund the Project now to maintain its existing USDOT funding award and to be opened before the 2028 Games is a mitigating circumstance aligned with the Board's prior intent for investing CMIP funding for the Project, supported by the City's intention of repaying 33.3% of the funding allocated with Local Return funds.

NEXT STEPS

Upon Board approval, the CEO will negotiate and execute a funding agreement with the City of Long Beach for $35 million, inclusive of the contingencies outlined in Attachment A.

Staff will amend the FY 2027 budget to reflect Board action.

Contingencies

This $35 million programming recommendation includes several contingencies to help ensure that this Board action (1) remains consistent with its prior policy decisions regarding the CMIP's values and funding priorities, and (2) that the City of Long Beach repays a portion of the funding recommendation that augments funding approved in prior Board action.

The contingencies attached to this funding recommendation for the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project (Project) are as follows:

1. The City will repay $11.5 million (or 33.3%) of this $35 million funding allocation through its Local Return funds, starting in FY 2033 when the City's Capital Improvement Program is available for programming, with principal and interest, loan structure, and detailed terms to be determined as part of the Project funding agreement to be executed between Metro and the City.
2. Metro's funding participation in this Project will be capped by the net total allocation provided through this Board action. Any future cost overruns or funding shortfalls will be the City's responsibility to resolve.
3. All funds provided through this Board action can only be used for the Project. No funds may be redirected to support the Shoemaker Bridge replacement project or other projects outside the aforementioned Project's scope of work.
4. No CMIP Initial Investment Projects and Programs priorities, including the CMIP Community Programs and START-UP Program, will be displaced, delayed, or deferred because of this programming action. Staff will develop an appropriate cash flow analysis to ensure the Project's funding needs align with the overall CMIP implementation schedule and to provide transparency for CMIP communities and stakeholders.
5. The additional $35 million programmed at the outset for the Project by this action will be sourced from the Measure M Highway Contingency Subfund to fund the inflation adjustments for this Project. Measure M funding for the I-710 South Corridor Project is dedicated to the CMIP for construction beginning in FY 2026, as identified in the Measure M Expenditure Plan (Attachment A, Line 20). The Project is eligible for inflation adjustments, as less than two-thirds of the Measure M funding will be spent prior to FY 2027. This total funding allocation will be partially offset by the $11.5 million in funds repaid by the city.
6. For purposes of the CMIP's geographic balance in funding allocations, the programming action and the net total funding allocated will be considered as a pre-existing City of Long Beach allocation when future Modal Program recommendations are brought to the Board for consideration.

CEO, Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority

RE: Shoreline Drive Realignment: Proposed $35 million Funding Details

Dear Ms. Wiggins,

As outlined in a separate letter, the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project is in need of $35 million to fully fund the construction phase of the project, preserve the significant federal investment, and complete a transformative regional mobility and community-connection project in Downtown Long Beach.

To address the remaining funding needed for the Project, the City respectfully submits the following draft term sheet for Metro's Board of Directors' consideration:

Total Project Cost
- $73 million estimated total project costs based on the recent construction bids received.

Available Project Funding
- $30 million from U.S. Department of Transportation Reconnecting Communities Grant Program.
- $4,700,000 Metro Measure R
- $3,300,000 Traffic mitigation, TDA, local Measure A, & gas tax funds

Total Amount Requested:
- $35 million

Agreement Type:
- Structured as a grant, with local return match requirements.

Disbursement Terms:
- Metro to provide $35 million in funding to the City in Fiscal Year 2027, to allow construction to be fully funded and phase 1 to begin immediately.

City Repayment Terms:
- The City will contribute $11.5 million in future Metro Local Return funding.
- The City will begin repayment in FY 2033. Funding up through FY2032 has already been programmed as part of the City's Capital Improvement Program (CIP). Repayment starting in 2033 will be captured and taken into account during future CIP planning process.

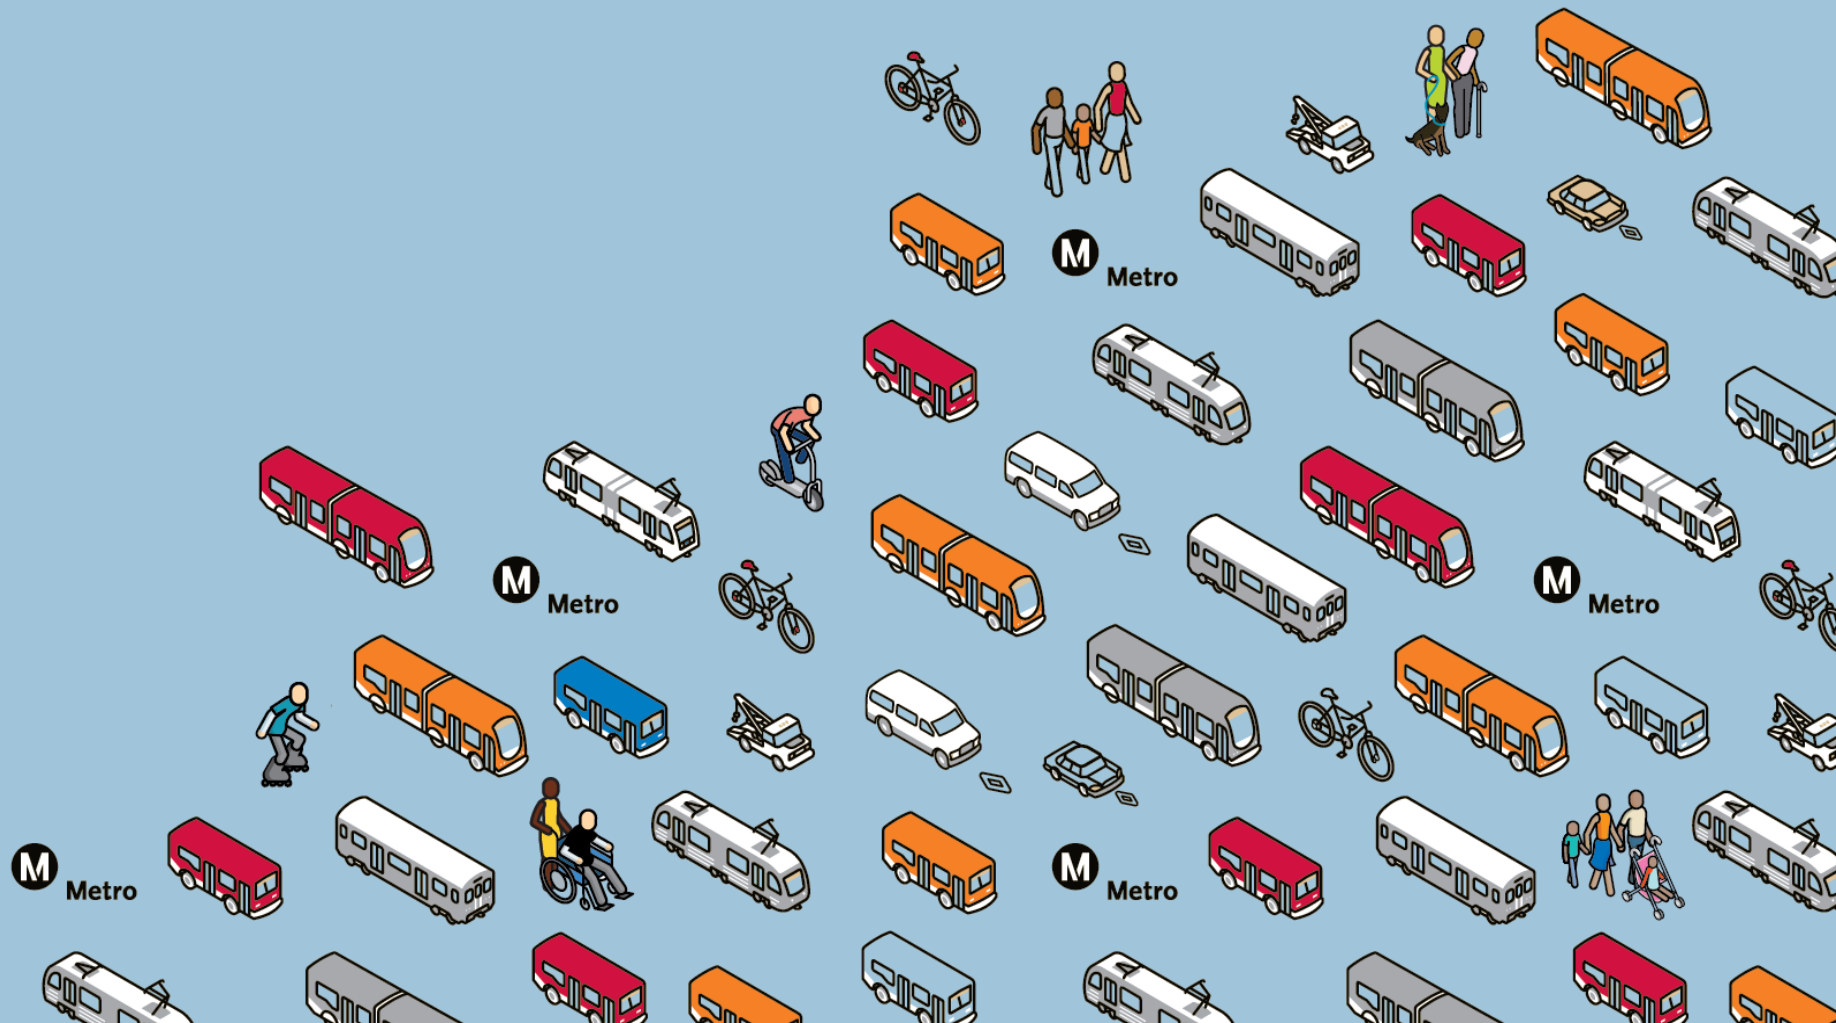
- Beginning in FY 2033, the City will repay $1.15 million annually in local return Metro Measure R and/or Measure M funds to Metro through FY 2042 (10 years total = $11.5 million in payments).
- Payment structure and detailed terms to be determined and outlines in a subsequent agreement.

This funding structure provides Metro with assurance of the City's continued financial commitment while making resources available immediately to advance the Project into construction. The City believes this approach appropriately balances the need for near-term project delivery with Metro's long-term regional funding priorities. The $35 million will solely be utilized for the Shoreline Drive Realignment Project and any available funding leftover will be returned and will not be utilized for any other project, including the Shoemaker Bridge Replacement Project.

The City remains committed to delivering this transformational project for Long Beach residents and visitors. The Shoreline Drive Realignment Project advances our shared mobility, safety, sustainability, and equity goals and represents a timely, high-impact regional investment ahead of the 2028 Summer Games. Metro's support would also help protect the $30 million federal grant from expiring or going unused.

I look forward to continuing our partnership and working collaboratively with Metro staff to finalize a mutually agreeable terms sheet for consideration and approval by the Metro Board of Directors and the Long Beach City Council. If you have any questions, please contact Sarah Patterson, Manager of Strategic Partnerships and Government Affairs, at Sarah.Patterson@LongBeach.gov.

Sincerely,



Rex Richardson

CONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: A & E LINE INTERLOCK PROJECT - CONSTRUCTION MANAGER / GENERAL CONTRACTOR

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to:

A. AWARD a firm fixed price Contract No. PS140835000 to RailWorks Track Services, LLC, for Phase 1 Preconstruction Services of the Construction Manager/General Contractor contract for the A&E Line Interlock Project (Project) in the amount of $1,000,000, subject to the resolution of any properly submitted protest(s), if any;

B. ESTABLISH a Preconstruction Budget for the Project in an amount of $27,290,000; and

C. NEGOTIATE and EXECUTE all project-related agreements and modifications within the authorized Preconstruction Budget.

ISSUE

Staff is seeking the Board's approval for two items in support of the A&E Line Interlock Project (Project): (1) to award a Construction Manager/General Contractor (CM/GC) contract; and (2) to establish a Preconstruction Budget. The Preconstruction Budget is inclusive of this and all previously awarded contracts, expenses incurred to date, and anticipated additional preconstruction activities performed by the CM/GC and existing design and professional services contracts for the Project, all as summarized in the expenditure and funding plan for the Preconstruction Budget as shown in Attachment A.

BACKGROUND

The 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games will require a coordinated regional mobility program capable of moving spectators, athletes, workforce, volunteers, media, and everyday riders safely and efficiently across Los Angeles County. Metro, in coordination with LA28, Caltrans, Metrolink, the Los Angeles Department of Transportation, the City of Los Angeles Mayor's Office, the Southern California Association of Governments, venue cities, Councils of Governments, and other regional partners, has been advancing the 2028 Games Mobility Concept Plan (MCP) to support a transit-first Games and deliver permanent mobility improvements that remain as a regional legacy after 2028. In December 2022, the Board approved the Prioritized MCP Project List. In October 2024, the Board authorized advancement of Metro-led Games Mobility Executives (GME) Surface Transportation Priority (STP) projects, including the environmental phase of light rail transit operational improvements.

As part of MCP, the A&E Line Interlock Project (Project) will improve rail operational flexibility, enhance system reliability, support shorter single-tracking headways during maintenance activities, strengthen incident recovery and turnback operations, accommodate additional train staging during demand surges, and support safe and efficient Games-time mobility operations. The Project scope includes construction of the Anaheim Street Interlock and Avenue 34 Interlock on the A Line and the Expo Bundy Interlock and Degnan Siding and Interlock on the E Line. These improvements will add new interlock, crossover, and siding infrastructure at strategic locations throughout the Metro rail network to support operational needs during routine service, maintenance activities, special events, and the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games. During the planning stage, the total Project cost was estimated at approximately $147.2 million and was included in the January 2026 MCP Prioritization and Funding Strategy.

DISCUSSION

The Project is currently advancing through final design, during which contractor input is critical in terms of constructability, construction phasing, schedule, and cost estimates. Early engagement of the contractor will support procurement of long-lead materials and advancement of early work, helping maintain the Project schedule and readiness for construction, considering the fixed delivery window associated with the 2028 Games.

The proposed Preconstruction Budget is an interim budget to advance the Project through Phase 1 and does not represent the future Life of Project (LOP) budget. The total Project cost estimate will be refined as final design and Phase 1 preconstruction progress.

In order to move into this phase of preconstruction services, the Project will utilize the CM/GC contract that is the subject of this action and will continue to utilize support from Metro labor and previously awarded and existing contracts and agreements, as listed below and further explained in Attachment A.

- Construction Management Support Services (CMSS) provided by Zephyr-UAS, Inc (Contract No. AE128436MC085)
- Final design services provided by HNTB Corporation (Contract No. AE128314E0132)
- Systems engineering and support services provided by SECOTrans (Contract No. AE47810E0128)
- Program Controls Support Services (PCSS) from KKCS/Triunity Joint Venture (Contract No. PS89856000)

Considerations

Staff selected the CM/GC delivery method for A&E Line Interlock Project because the Project includes multiple scopes, multiple jurisdictions, active station and public right-of-way environments, utility and third-party interfaces, grant requirements, long-lead materials, and a fixed delivery window associated with the 2028 Games. Early contractor involvement will allow Metro to make informed decisions during final design, improve construction quality, encourage value engineering, provide greater certainty on final construction costs and delivery schedule, and reduce risks associated with change orders, disputes, third-party delays, and constructability issues during construction.

The CM/GC will deliver the Project in two distinct contract phases. The Preconstruction Budget establishes Phase 1, which allows the contractor to work with the design consultant and Metro to identify risks, provide cost estimates, and refine the project schedule. During Phase 1, Metro will work with the contractor to explore opportunities to accelerate the delivery schedule, execute Early Works Packages (EWPs) to advance eligible field work and early procurement, as well as leverage their expertise to drive the completed design in a direction that remains within approved project budgets. As the design approaches completion, the CM/GC contractor and Metro will negotiate the contract price for Phase 2, the Construction Phase.

If both the CM/GC and Metro reach an agreement on the Construction Phase costs and additional funding for construction of the improvements is secured, staff will return to the Board with a recommendation to approve the LOP budget and authorize the Phase 2 Contract Supplement. With Board approval, Metro will execute a Contract Supplement and issue a Notice to Proceed (NTP) for Phase 2 and then the second contract phase (Construction Phase) will begin.

At any stage during the Preconstruction design period, Metro can exercise an “off-ramp” and seek another contractor by competitively bidding on the Project’s final design, while still benefitting from the previous work performed by the contractor. The CM/GC Phases are described in more detail below:

- The CM/GC contract expressly sets out the work that the contractor will perform, such as design review, cost estimating, schedule, maintenance of traffic plans and execution of EWPs.
- Upon issuance of NTP for Phase 1, the contractor, design consultant, CMSS, and Metro will work side by side to review constructability, undertake value engineering, conduct site investigations, assess market conditions, and provide current contractor price estimates, risk assessments, and construction schedules at each successive prescribed design interval to finalize the design.
- Throughout Phase 1, the contractor will provide Metro with Opinion of Probable Costs (OPCs), which are detailed cost estimates that will enable staff to evaluate the projected Project costs against the Project budget and make necessary adjustments to the scope or schedule.
- If both parties agree to a final OPC, staff will seek Board approval to award Phase 2 construction to the contractor. If not, Metro will have the option to terminate the contract with the contractor and package the design documents into a separate bid package. This off-ramp will be available for Metro throughout Phase 1 as staff evaluates each OPC.
- Throughout Phase 2 negotiations, Metro will maintain the following parameters to mitigate discrepancies and to increase the likelihood of project success:

- The contractor's fee and margin initially proposed will be retained in all OPCs.
- The Phase 1 specification sets out the form and frequency of OPCs to provide for multiple checkpoints for Metro.
- The CM/GC contract sets out the conditions of the price proposal for Phase 2 and the information that the contractor is required to submit.
- The CM/GC contract sets out a clear governance structure for managing Phase 1, including the establishment of working groups that include members from Metro, the contractor team, and any relevant third parties.
- The process for establishing all OPCs will employ transparent open-book methods and the use of independent cost estimates to validate pricing.

By utilizing the CM/GC approach to deliver and construct the Project, the contractor will provide feedback during the design development phase before the start of construction. The design team will work collaboratively with the CM/GC staff and incorporate input on constructability, Project phasing, and value engineering ideas as the design progresses. As the Project consists of multiple interlocks, crossover, and siding improvements located along the Metro A and E Lines within existing Metro right-of-way, the Project will be implemented through multiple design and construction packages. Metro anticipates issuing EWPs from the established Phase 1 Preconstruction Budget to procure long-lead materials and equipment, including special trackwork, switches, signal systems, and related rail infrastructure components, in advance of final design completion to reduce schedule risk and support timely project delivery.

As detailed in Attachment A, the proposed Preconstruction Budget of $27,290,000 is inclusive of the following:

- All expenses incurred to date during the planning, preliminary engineering, and contract development stages.
- Phase 1 preconstruction contractor expenses (constructability reviews, cost estimating, etc.).
- Final design services and design support services during construction of Early Works Packages.
- Construction management support, program management, project controls, agency labor, and other professional services to support work through Phase 1.
- Third party expenses to support final design and Early Works Packages.
- Long-lead procurement required to meet the project schedule.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The recommended Board action will have no detrimental impact on safety.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Adoption of this action would authorize award of Contract No. PS140835000 to RailWorks Track Services, LLC for Phase 1 Preconstruction Services in the amount of $1,000,000 and establish a Preconstruction Budget in the amount of $27,290,000.

The funds in the amount of $3.96 million reside under Cost Center 8510 Project number 222028, under various accounts, including professional and technical services. Annual budgeting within the approved budget for the future fiscal years will be the responsibility of the Project Manager, Cost Center Manager, and the Chief Program Management Officer.

Impact to Budget

The Preconstruction Budget is anticipated to be funded through a combination of federal, state, and local funds, including $19.6 million in Surface Transportation Block Grant (STBG) funds, $4.7 million in Fiscal Year (FY) Congressional appropriations, and 3.0 million in Proposition A 35%.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The Project advances Metro's equity goals by improving the reliability, resiliency, and operational flexibility of the A and E Lines, which serve diverse communities throughout Los Angeles County, including many transit-dependent riders. Through the construction of new interlocks, crossovers, and siding infrastructure, the Project will support more efficient maintenance activities, reduce the impacts of service disruptions, enhance incident recovery, and improve overall rail system performance. These improvements will help provide more reliable access to jobs, education, healthcare, and other essential destinations while delivering long-term benefits to riders during and beyond the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

No Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) goal is provided for Phase 1 of the contract. The U.S. Department of Transportation issued an Interim Final Rule that makes changes to the DBE Program, including suspension of DBE goals, counting of DBE participation, and enforcement, effective October 3, 2025. While the DBE commitment is not a factor in the staff's recommendation, RailWorks Track Services, LLC listed three certified small businesses to participate in Phase 1 of this contract.

The CM/GC RFP evaluation criteria included consideration of the proposed firm's approach to supporting Metro's community benefits and workforce development goals across all phases of the Project. During performance of the work, the CM/GC contractor will be required to collaborate with Metro and other Metro contractors to support community meetings, public notification, outreach materials, construction notices, and coordination with affected riders, businesses, stakeholders, and jurisdictions.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality

by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

* Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

As part of these ongoing efforts, the A&E Line Interlock Project is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT through planning, operational, customer experience activities that will improve and further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, bicycling, and active transportation. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Recommendation supports:

- Strategic Plan Goal 1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling. The Project will improve rail service reliability, operational flexibility, incident recovery, maintenance efficiency, and train headways on the A and E Lines, enabling customers to spend less time traveling.
- Strategic Plan Goal 2: Deliver outstanding trip experiences for all users of the transportation system. The Project includes new interlocks, crossovers, and siding improvements that will enhance service reliability, reduce the duration and impacts of service disruptions, support maintenance activities, and improve the overall customer experience on the A and E Lines.
- Strategic Plan Goal 3: Enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity. The Project will improve the reliability and performance of rail service connecting riders to jobs, education, services, and regional destinations throughout Los Angeles County, providing long-term benefits beyond the 2028 Games.
- Strategic Plan Goal 4: Transform LA County through regional collaboration and national leadership. The Project advances regional coordination for the 2028 Games while delivering permanent rail infrastructure improvements across multiple jurisdictions.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may choose not to move forward with awarding the contract and establishing the Preconstruction Budget. This is not recommended because it would delay preconstruction services, final design coordination, constructability reviews, cost estimating, phasing, risk management, and early work package planning, increasing the risk that key elements cannot be delivered before the 2028 Games.

The Board may direct staff to deliver the Project using a traditional design-bid-build approach. This is not recommended because the A&E Line Interlock Project includes multiple project types, jurisdictions, third-party interfaces, active transit environments, funding constraints, grant requirements, and an accelerated delivery schedule. A traditional delivery approach would limit early contractor input and reduce Metro's ability to manage constructability, cost, schedule, and phasing risks before construction.

NEXT STEPS

Upon Board approval, staff will execute CM/GC Contract No. PS140835000 with RailWorks Track Services, LLC and issue a Notice to Proceed for Phase 1 Preconstruction Services. Metro staff will engage the CM/GC contractor to initiate Phase 1 Preconstruction Services in coordination with the design consultant and CMSS consultant to advance completion of the final design. Staff will continue to pursue and secure the gap funding necessary to support Phase 2 construction and will return to the Board in FY27 to seek approval of the LOP budget and authorization to advance the corresponding Phase 2 Contract Supplement.

A. Procurement Background

This Board Action is to approve Contract No. PS140835000 issued to RailWorks Track Services, LLC to upgrade Lines A&E at four locations by adding interlock mechanisms to make Lines A&E more efficient in preparation for the 2028 Olympics. Board approval of the contract award is subject to resolution of any properly submitted protest, if any.

To generate interest in this specialty type project, a pre-solicitation meeting (in-person/virtual) was held on March 20, 2026. Request for Proposals (RFP) No. PS140835 was issued on April 9, 2026 in accordance with Metro's Acquisition Policy. The contract type is a firm fixed price. The Diversity & Economic Opportunity Department did not recommend a Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) goal for Phase 1 and reserved its right to establish a goal for Phase 2 or Early Works Package.

One amendment was issued during the solicitation phase of this RFP:

- Amendment No. 1, issued on May 4, 2026, provided a revision to the 15% conceptual design and updated the Project Requirements (Exhibit 3).

A total of 98 downloads of the RFP were included in the Planholders' list.

A virtual pre-proposal conference was held on April 23, 2026, with 40 participants representing 14 firms. There were 39 questions received for this RFP and responses were provided prior to the proposal due date.

A total of four proposals were received on June 11, 2026, and are listed below by alphabetical order:

1. Balfour Beatty Infrastructure, Inc. (Balfour)
2. HCC/HTI, A Joint Venture (Herzog)
3. RailWorks Track Services, LLC (RailWorks)
4. Stacy-Modern Transit Constructors (SMTC)

B. Evaluation of Proposals

The Proposal Evaluation Team (PET) consisting of staff from Program Management, Project Controls, and Construction Management was convened and conducted a comprehensive technical evaluation of the proposals received.

The proposals were evaluated based on the following evaluation criteria and weights:

• Capability and Experience	290 Points
• Project Understanding	80 Points
• Project Approach	390 Points
• Community Benefits and Workforce Development	40 Points
• Price	200 Points

Several factors were considered when developing the weighting for the evaluation criteria, giving the greatest importance to Project Approach.

The price evaluation criteria consisted of the following price elements with pre-established parameters to reflect the phases of the project, designed to establish a level playing field and to arrive at one price formula that would be evaluated with the understanding that only the amount listed under Phase 1 Pre-Construction Lump Sum Fee would be used for the awarded Contract Value (subject to clarification and/or negotiations). The price elements stated in the RFP are as follows:

1. Phase 1 Pre-Construction Lump Sum Fee (range between $1,000,000 and $2,500,000).
2. Delay Compensation Rate (daily) for Phase 1 with an assumed estimated quantity of 45 days of Compensable Delay during Phase 1 (for evaluation purposes only) and an amount of no less than $4,000 per day.
3. Phase 2 Management Lump Sum Fee (range between $168,000 and $288,000 per month), assuming a 12-month period of performance for Phase 2 work (for evaluation purposes only).

4. Phase 2 Margin Percentage, assuming a construction cost of $39,000,000 (for evaluation purposes only).

Of the four proposals received, three were determined to be within the competitive range and are listed below in alphabetical order:

1. Herzog
2. RailWorks
3. SMTC

Balfour proposed a cost element outside of the allowed range and proposed a Safety Manager without the required certifications or experience. Consequently, Balfour was deemed non-responsive to the RFP requirements and was excluded from further evaluation.

On July 9, 2026, the PET requested clarifications from firms in the competitive range in lieu of conducting interviews. Based on the responses received on July 10, the PET finalized their scores, and RailWorks was determined to be the highest ranked proposer.

Qualifications Summary of Recommended Firm:

RailWorks is a light and heavy rail contractor with experience in working in active operating environments. RailWorks has experience working on Metro's Blue Line Track and System Refurbishment and will serve as the CM/GC lead for its team. The firm has assembled the following team members:

DEOD SUMMARY

A&E LINE INTERLOCK CM/GC PROJECT / PS140835000

A. Small Business Participation

The Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) goal for Phase 1 of the contract is 0%. The U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) has issued an Interim Final Rule (IFR) that makes changes to the DBE Program, including suspension of DBE goals, counting of DBE participation, and enforcement effective, October 3, 2025. While the DBE commitment is not a factor in the staff's recommendation, RailWorks Track Services LLC (RailWorks) listed three certified small businesses to participate in Phase 1 of this contract.

For the Phase 2 Work, provided that Metro and the contractor agree to proceed with any Phase 2 Work, and subject to Applicable Law, Metro may establish DBE contract goal(s) in accordance with the terms of the Contract.

CONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: DORAN STREET GRADE SEPARATION PROJECT LIFE OF PROJECT BUDGET

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to:

A. ESTABLISH a Life-of-Project (LOP) budget for the Doran Street Grade Separation Project (Project) in the amount of $116,242,594;

B. NEGOTIATE and EXECUTE all contracts, modifications, and agreements up to the authorized LOP budget for the Doran Street Grade Separation Project; and

C. AMEND the FY27 budget for the Doran Street Grade Separation Project by $8,497,108 for a total of $30,348,345.

ISSUE

The Doran Street Grade Separation Project (Project) has completed 100 percent final design plans, and it is in receipt of construction bids for the Segment 1 - City of Glendale portion of the Project. A phased and segmented procurement strategy is being implemented to meet financial, regulatory, right-of-way, and third-party coordination requirements. Staff is requesting Board approval of the LOP, which includes all phases of the Project from environmental, planning, and design to construction, including all third-party and soft costs.

Establishing the LOP budget is critical to meet the AB 180 statutory expenditure and reimbursement deadline of June 30, 2027, for the State Transit and Intercity Rail Capital Program (TIRCP) funds.

BACKGROUND

The Project serves a critical rail corridor utilized by Metrolink, Amtrak, Union Pacific, and future operations of the California High-Speed Rail. The Project will construct a new vehicle bridge extending from West San Fernando Road in the City of Glendale, passing underneath State Route 134, and connecting to the existing Fairmont Avenue Bridge.

At its May 2011 meeting, the Board authorized $6.6 million to improve safety at the intersection of Doran Street and the Metro-owned right-of-way. In 2014, the Broadway/Brazil crossing improvements were completed to provide the first safety enhancements for the project area. Due to the West San Fernando Road and Broadway/Brazil Street signalized intersection changing from stop control to a signalized configuration, the crossing experienced significant traffic congestion and a high volume of complaints from the public and business owners. Due to this congestion and associated safety issues, CPUC has required the closure of this crossing and to provide an alternate access to the affected public and business owners.

In 2015 (SB 348), the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) identified the Doran Street at-grade crossing as one of the most unsafe rail crossings in California. With 18 recorded pedestrian and vehicular incidents since 1976, the CPUC issued an initial ruling that Doran Street should be converted to a one-way westbound movement until the at-grade crossing can be closed permanently when the grade separation is built.

At its January 2017 meeting, the Board advanced the Doran Street and Broadway/Brazil Grade Separation Project that proposed the elimination of two at-grade rail crossings at the Doran Street and Broadway/Brazil Street intersections to alleviate traffic delay and congestion, reduce train horn noise, and improve vehicle and pedestrian safety and mobility. At its January 2021 meeting, the Board approved the advancement of the Doran Street Grade Separation Project and authorized advancement of final design and project development.

Environmental clearance for the Project has been completed. The Project received a California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Notice of Exemption in 2019 and a National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) Categorical Exclusion determination from the FRA in 2025.

DISCUSSION

Findings

The Project addresses one of the most heavily trafficked and high-risk rail crossings in the region, where frequent train movements create conflicts with vehicles, pedestrians, and cyclists. The Project will eliminate the existing at-grade crossing and replace it with a grade-separated vehicle bridge, improving safety, reducing traffic delays, and enhancing rail operations and reliability.

Key components of the Project include construction of a grade-separated crossing, new roadway alignments, pedestrian and bicycle improvements, and coordination with regional rail operators.

The Project is being delivered using a Design-Bid-Build approach and is currently advancing through PS&E and Right-of-Way acquisition. To maintain project momentum and address differences in jurisdictional readiness, construction will be implemented in two segments, both of which are included in the requested LOP:

- Segment 1, within the City of Glendale, is further advanced and will proceed to construction first.
- Segment 2 within the City of Los Angeles is expected to be advertised for construction in Fall 2026.

Considerations

Approval of this action will allow Metro to proceed with construction activities while maintaining the project schedule.

The Project is partially funded through the State of California TIRCP funds. Establishing the LOP budget is critical to meet the AB 180 statutory expenditure and reimbursement deadline of June 30, 2027, for the TIRCP funds. Delays in advancing the Project, including delays in executing the grant agreement, would jeopardize access to committed State funding.

The proposed action will establish the LOP budget based on Metro Independent Cost Estimate for Segment 1, updated cost estimates associated with design development, and estimated construction costs of Segment 2, right-of-way activities, construction planning, and third-party coordination. Establishment of the LOP will support the timely advancement of the Project into construction.

The proposed LOP budget is comprehensive for the Project and encompasses phases from environmental review, planning, and design through construction. It includes all third-party and soft costs.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The Doran Street at-grade railroad crossing has a documented and longstanding history of serious safety incidents that establishes a clear and compelling need for grade separation. Since 1976, the crossing has experienced 18 train vehicle or train pedestrian collisions, resulting in five fatalities and at least one serious injury, prompting formal safety hearings and arbitrations by the CPUC. The crossing carries approximately 90 passenger and freight trains per day, including Metrolink commuter rail, Amtrak intercity service, and heavy freight traffic, a level of rail activity that the CPUC has consistently identified as presenting elevated and unacceptable risk for roadway users and pedestrians. Based on this collision history and operational context, the CPUC has repeatedly classified Doran Street as a high-risk and hazardous crossing where continued at-grade operation poses ongoing safety concerns. CPUC Order Instituting Investigation on the Commission's Own Motion into Closure of the Highway-Rail At-Grade Crossing at West Doran.

The CPUC has further determined that interim safety measures are insufficient to address the long-term risks at the Doran Street crossing and has directed Metro to advance permanent grade separation as the sole effective safety remedy. Through multiple decisions and enforcement actions, including Resolution TED300 and Decision 1901008, the CPUC has conditioned continued interim operations on demonstrated progress toward ultimate closure of the at-grade crossing, most recently granting a time extension in January 2024 only after full construction funding was secured. The project also addresses broader regional and statewide rail safety objectives, as the corridor is expected to support increased passenger rail service and future highspeed rail operations, which are incompatible with at-grade roadway crossings. Accordingly, the Doran Street Grade Separation Project is necessary to comply with CPUC safety directives, eliminate a known collision hazard, and protect roadway users, pedestrians, and rail passengers both now and as rail service expands in the future.

Approval of this item advances the elimination of an at-grade crossing, directly reducing the potential for rail-related incidents and improving response times for emergency services. The Project is being designed in accordance with Metro and SCRRA standards, state and federal requirements, and in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Adoption of the Project LOP would enable award of the construction contract for Segment 1, City of Glendale, thereby, assisting Metro achieve the period of performance requirements of the TIRCP grant ($21,300,000) and be able to expend this grant to the extent possible.

Upon Board approval, the additional funds required for FY27 will be added to the adopted budget.

Since this is a multi-year project, the Chief Program Management Officer and Project Manager will be responsible for budgeting the costs in future years.

Impact to Budget

The Project is fully funded with $116,242,594 in local, state and federal grants as shown in Attachment A - Funding and Expenditure Plan. These sources are not eligible for Metro bus or rail operating purposes.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The Project operates on Metrolink's Antelope Valley Line and is located at the boundary of the City of Glendale and the City of Los Angeles (Atwater Village area) serving areas designated as "moderate need" under the Metro Equity Need Index (MENI). The surrounding communities to the south, southeast, and north of the project area include approximately 68% low-income households, 20% households with no access to a vehicle, and up to 82% Black, Indigenous, and other People of Color (BIPOC) residents.

By eliminating the at-grade crossing, the Project will directly benefit communities in the Cities of Glendale and Los Angeles by improving safety, mobility, and access across a heavily utilized rail corridor.

The Project will more broadly benefit and serve commuters on a critical rail corridor utilized by Metrolink and Amtrak, Metrolink serves as a primary commuter rail system connecting various counties and cities, including Los Angeles. According to Metrolink's 2025 Onboard Survey, the median household income of Antelope Valley Line riders is $40,823. Systemwide, 39% of Metrolink riders report annual household incomes below $50,000. The survey also found that the average Metrolink rider is 51 years old and that Hispanic riders comprise 40% of systemwide ridership, making them the largest ethnic group of Metrolink riders.

This Project will enhance accessibility in alignment with American with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements by acquiring right of way to construct sidewalks and ADA ramps.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

While the agency remains committed to reducing VMT through transit and multimodal investments, some projects may induce or increase personal vehicle travel. However, these individual projects aim to ensure the efficient and safe movement of people and goods.

This Board item will likely increase VMT in LA County, as it includes planning that encourages driving alone or increased vehicle travel by rerouting cars to longer roads and removing some pedestrian and bicycle access which therefore slightly worsens VMT. However, this project does enable some more reliability and possibly more frequent rail service in the future, which could have the effect of reducing VMT, but those improvements to rail service are not included as part of this project. Similarly, future phases of work are planned to build a ped bridge across the soon-to-be-closed west leg of the intersection and the rail crossing. This could mitigate the loss of multimodal access noted above, which could have the effect of reducing VMT, but those improvements to pedestrian access are not included as part of this project.

Although this item may not directly contribute to the achievement of the Board-adopted VMT Reduction Targets, the VMT Targets were developed to account for the cumulative effect of a suite of programs and projects within the Metro region, which individually may induce or increase VMT. Additionally, Metro has a voter-approved mandate to deliver multimodal projects that enhance mobility while ensuring the efficient and safe movement of people and goods.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Recommendation supports the following strategic plan goals:

- Goal 1.2: Improve LA County's overall transit network and assets;
- Goal 3.3: Genuine public and community engagement to achieve better mobility outcomes for the people of LA County; and
- Goal 4.1: Metro will work with partners to build trust and make decisions that support the goals of the Strategic Plan

The Project will improve safety and mobility by eliminating an at-grade rail crossing and enhancing connectivity for all users, including pedestrians, cyclists, and motorists.

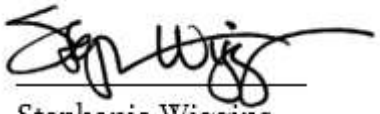
ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may choose not to move forward with approval of the LOP budget. This is not recommended as the LOP is based on actual bids for Phase 1 that provide accurate construction costs. Also, the LOP budget approach is consistent with Metro's capital project delivery approach. Additionally, schedule delays and cost overruns will occur if the LOP budget is not approved

Given the safety concerns at the Doran Street at-grade crossing, not moving forward with this action would not allow Metro to meet CPUC requirements to pursue closure of the at-grade crossing, and would fail to improve safety conditions for vehicles, pedestrians, and rail operations, and would not address ongoing traffic delays or emergency access constraints in the corridor.

Additionally, if this action is deferred, Metro would not be able to meet the grant reimbursement requirements of the State Transit and Intercity Rail Capital Program Cycle 6 award in the amount of $21,300,000. Delays may jeopardize committed State funding and create a potential funding gap.

NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval of the LOP budget, staff will award the construction contract for Segment 1 in the City of Glendale and begin construction of the project. In addition, staff will issue the Invitation for Bid (IFB) documents for Segment 2 in the City of Los Angeles.

CONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 16, 2026

SUBJECT: VERMONT TRANSIT CORRIDOR BUS RAPID TRANSIT PROJECT

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. ESTABLISHING a Life-of-Project budget for the Vermont Transit Corridor Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) Project in the amount of $413,786,609; and

B. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer to negotiate and execute project-related agreements up to the authorized Life-of-Project budget.

ISSUE

At its February 2026 meeting, the Board authorized a Preconstruction Budget for Phase 1 for the Vermont Transit Corridor BRT Project, which included preconstruction services (constructability reviews, construction staging and phasing development, construction scheduling, estimating and price build-up). Since that time, Metro staff have worked with the Construction Manager/General Contractor (CM/GC), Design Consultant, City of Los Angeles and County of Los Angeles to collaboratively advance the design, complete field investigations, undergo constructability reviews and explore scope refinement and value engineering opportunities. The Project is nearing completion of Phase 1 of the CM/GC contract and is now ready to establish the Life-of-Project budget. Establishment of the LOP budget is a required next step to maintain the Project delivery schedule.

BACKGROUND

The Project is a 12.4-mile BRT corridor with 26 stations at 13 major locations along Vermont Avenue. The corridor extends from Sunset Boulevard, connecting to the Vermont/Sunset Metro B Line Station in Hollywood, to 120th Street, south of the Vermont/Athens Metro C Line Station.

The corridor serves densely populated communities including East Hollywood/Los Feliz, Koreatown, University Park/Exposition Park, and South Los Angeles, with approximately 2.5 miles at the southern end extending into the unincorporated West Athens and Westmont communities.

Major destinations along the corridor include the University of Southern California, BMO Stadium, the Exposition Park Museums, Kaiser Permanente Los Angeles, Children's Hospital Los Angeles, and Los Angeles City College.

Metro's existing local and rapid bus services on Vermont Avenue, Lines 204 and 754, currently operate in a very high-ridership corridor with approximately 38,000 weekday boardings, projected to increase to approximately 56,000 by 2045.

Existing service experiences significant performance deficiencies in speeds, schedule reliability, and passenger comfort due to severe congestion and operating conditions. The Project will provide a premium BRT service incorporating dedicated side-running bus lanes, enhanced stations and passenger amenities, transit signal priority, and other improvements intended to increase transit performance and reliability.

The Project is expected to attract approximately 12,000 new daily riders when it opens.

The Project goals are to:

- Improve Transit Performance;
- Enhance Customer Experience; and
- Invest in Community.

The Project also supports Metro Strategic Plan goals to provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling, deliver outstanding trip experiences for users of the transportation system, and enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.

DISCUSSION

To date, the Project has been funded under an authorized initial preconstruction budget of $198.46 million. Staff recommends establishing a $413,786,609 Life-of-Project budget, inclusive of the preconstruction budget of $198.46 million, to provide the comprehensive fiscal framework to complete the Project. The proposed LOP budget encompasses all incurred and forecasted Project cost, including Metro labor and non-labor costs, professional and support services, environmental and planning activities, final design, preconstruction services, utilities, right-of-way, third-party coordination, construction, contingency, and other costs necessary for Project delivery. A detailed breakdown of the proposed LOP budget and funding sources is provided in Attachment A - Funding and Expenditure Plan.

Constructability Reviews and Preconstruction Services

Under the Construction Manager/General Contractor (CM/GC) delivery method, Griffith Company is providing integrated preconstruction services concurrent with advancement of the design. These services include value engineering, constructability reviews, construction phasing, maintenance-of-traffic planning, utility coordination, schedule optimization, and progressive cost estimating.

This collaborative process allows Metro, the designer working under a separate contract, and CM/GC to identify and address constructability, scope, sequencing, and cost considerations as the design advances, reducing the potential for engineering rework and improving construction readiness. Early field investigations and utility coordination are also being advanced to reduce the potential for unforeseen conditions to affect the construction schedule.

Early Works Packages & Field Continuity

The CM/GC delivery framework allows Metro to advance Early Works Packages (EWPs) for time-critical and enabling activities ahead of the primary construction package. Select initial EWPs are funded within the existing preconstruction authorization, while additional packages are currently being developed and are anticipated for authorization and execution beginning in Q4 2026.

Establishing the full Life-of-Project budget at this stage provides the fiscal capacity necessary to transition from preconstruction into successive construction activities as individual packages become ready for execution. This approach reduces the potential for administrative funding constraints to interrupt planned work and supports continuity of construction activities necessary to maintain the Project delivery schedule.

CM/GC Cost Development and Negotiations

Construction pricing is being progressively developed as individual design packages advance. The CM/GC has prepared successive Opinion of Probable Construction Cost (OPCC) estimates through a transparent, open-book process, and Metro is independently evaluating and reconciling those estimates using Independent Cost Estimates (ICE), quantity reviews, constructability analysis, and other cost-validation measures.

The cost estimate developed by Metro to support the Federal Transit Authority (FTA) grant process was subject to FTA review and formed the basis of the Project’s federalized project cost. As design has advanced, the CM/GC’s OPCC cost development has provided an additional market-based validation of that estimate. Current CM/GC cost information is generally aligned with the Project’s established cost framework and together with the Project’s contingency and ongoing cost validation process, provides staff confidence that the recommended Life-of-Project budget is sufficient to complete the Project.

Because CM/GC pricing is developed progressively, final negotiated construction pricing will occur as design packages achieve the appropriate level of maturity. Approval of the proposed LOP budget does not constitute approval or acceptance of the CM/GC's current estimates or final construction pricing. Construction pricing will continue to be independently validated and negotiated in accordance with Metro's established CM/GC processes prior to execution of the applicable construction agreements.

The Federal Transit Authority executed the Single Year Grant Agreement (SYGA) on September 2, 2026, the Project's Total Federalized Project Cost was established at $370.6 million. The recommended $413,786,609 Life-of-Project budget incorporates the $370.6 million federalized project framework together with concurrent non-SYGA project activities. These concurrent activities include the planning/environmental phase of the Project, real estate, certain community relation expenses, and public artwork which would be locally funded to support the Project's full delivery requirements.

The recommended Life-of-Project budget also includes appropriate contingency and management reserves to address identified and potential Project risks throughout final design and construction. These provisions provide sufficient fiscal capacity to manage uncertainty associated with construction, utilities, third-party requirements, market conditions, and other delivery risks without establishing an expectation that the full authorized amount will be expended.

Establishing the Life-of-Project budget at this stage creates an overall fiscal framework within which Metro can actively manage and advance the Project while CM/GC pricing continues to mature. The Life-of-Project budget establishes the Project's overall funding capacity and does not predetermine the value of the future CM/GC construction agreement. Metro will continue to independently validate and negotiate construction pricing prior to committing funds for subsequent construction packages.

This approach provides sufficient budget authority to maintain continuity of Project delivery while preserving cost discipline, continued FTA coordination, and Metro's ability to negotiate fair and reasonable construction pricing.

Metro Cost Benefit Analysis and Economic Impact

At its July 2025meeting, the Board approved a methodology framework for a Cost Benefit Analysis (CBA) to be conducted on Metro capital projects at key milestones to support investment and funding decisions, such as establishment of Life-of-Project budgets.

As part of the CBA, a Benefit-Cost Ratio (BCR) analysis was conducted to compare monetized costs of the Project, including the Life-of-Project capital cost, as well as anticipated maintenance and operating costs, to a set of monetizable benefits of the Project. While not all project benefits and costs are monetizable, the Metro BCR analysis does include monetized values of travel time savings, accident cost savings, safety benefits, emission cost savings, and active transportation health benefits over a 20-year operating period, through mid-2048.

Regional economic benefits are also included in the CBA, which consist of increased employment and economic output from spending on the capital and operating costs of the project and due to regional mobility improvements that provide greater access to jobs and allow for increased personal consumption.

Together, the CBA and evaluation of economic impact find that with the proposed Life-of-Project budget, the Project performs as follows:

- For every dollar invested, the Project is expected to return $26.60 in monetizable benefits over 20 years following the start of revenue service.
- Direct spending on the Project (including capital, operations and maintenance expenditures) is estimated to generate an annual average of 258 new jobs. The Project also is estimated to produce about $1.2 billion in economic output for the Los Angeles County economy through 2045 (in 2026 dollars) due to direct spending on construction and operations, indirect spending on supporting industries (materials and services), and induced spending by the workers that are supported by the Project.

- Regional mobility improvements from the Project, as reflected primarily by the 51,676 additional daily boardings systemwide in 2045, are expected to provide access to employment opportunities and create an annual average of 1,876 new jobs. The increased employment and mobility in turn will lead to additional sales and consumption of goods and services, increasing economic output in Los Angeles County. This total economic output is estimated to increase by $25.8 billion (in 2026 dollars) through 2045 because of the Project.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Approval of the recommendations will allow the Project to advance improvements to existing transit facilities, sidewalks, streets, traffic signals, lighting, signs, pavement markings, and related infrastructure along the Vermont Avenue corridor.

The Project will provide enhanced BRT stations and passenger amenities and improve accessibility, transit operations, lighting, visibility, pedestrian movements, and overall passenger safety.

Construction phasing, maintenance-of-traffic planning, utility coordination, and safety considerations are being incorporated during preconstruction to minimize disruption and manage safety risks during construction.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Impact to Budget

The current fiscal year's budget is allocated under Cost Center 8510, Project No. 471402 and 871402, across various accounts, including Professional and Technical Services. Upon approval of the Life-of-Project budget, staff will manage Project expenditures within the Board-approved fiscal year budgets. As this is a multiyear project, future fiscal year budgets will be the responsibility of the Project Manager, Cost Center Manager, and Chief Program Management Officer. Funding sources for FY27will be comprised of Proposition C, SB1 Local Partnership Program, Small Starts, Congestion Mitigation & Air Quality Program, and FTA Community Project Funding. These funding sources are not eligible to fund operations.

Multiyear Impact

The Project's Total Federalized Project Cost established in connection with the FTA Single Year Grant Agreement is $370.6 million. The proposed $413,786,609 Life-of-Project budget includes the $370.6 million FTA-eligible project cost and $43,186,609 in costs outside of the FTA-eligible project subtotal. These costs include $21,785,380 in pre-award authority costs incurred through FY26 and $21,401,230 in other non-FTA eligible costs required to support comprehensive Project delivery.

The Project funding is programmed from Measure M, Proposition C, SB 1 Local Partnership Program, Transit and Intercity Rail Capital Program, FTA Small Starts, Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Program, and FTA Community Project Funding.
The proposed $413,786,609 LOP budget is fully funded from a combination of federal, state, and local sources.

- Local - Measure M - $25,000,000
- Local - Proposition C - $44,485,609
- State - SB1 Local Partnership Program - $81,061,000
- State - Transit & Intercity Rail Capital Program - $5,000,000
- Federal - Small Starts - $149,900,000
- Federal - Congestion Mitigation & Air Quality Program - $106,340,000
- Federal - FTA Community Project Funding - $2,000,000

A detailed breakdown of the funding sources and anticipated expenditures by fiscal year is provided in Attachment A - Funding and Expenditure Plan.

Approval of the LOP budget establishes the overall fiscal framework for delivery of the Project and does not constitute authorization to expend the entire LOP amount in a single fiscal year. Project expenditures will be incorporated into and managed through Metro's annual budget process based on the anticipated expenditure schedule .

EQUITY PLATFORM

The Project area is comprised of Equity Focus Communities (EFCs) within the City of Los Angeles and County of Los Angeles and will provide the benefits of enhanced mobility and regional access for transit riders within those communities. The Project will allow people living in EFCs along the corridor to connect with the greater regional transportation network and key destinations via the 13 planned stations located in EFCs.

The outreach strategy for the Project (during the completed planning and environmental phase) was designed to engage with historically marginalized groups through the use of multilingual outreach materials (English, Spanish, Armenian, Korea, and Tagalog to name a few), live-translation during meetings, accessible meeting times and locations, regular updates via a mailing list, and transit intercept surveys to reach current riders who were otherwise unable to attend meetings.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro’s significant investment in rail and bus transit. * Metro’s Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California’s statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, the Vermont Transit Corridor Project is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT as it includes the implementation of a high-quality Bus Rapid Transit alternative along Vermont Avenue. This BRT service will enhance transit along the corridor by shortening passenger travel times and increasing service reliability and efficiency. This project is expected to encourage a shift from single-occupancy vehicles to public transit. Additionally, it will enhance access for cyclists and pedestrians to/from the stations.

To help characterize the VMT effects of the Project and provide a basis for comparing Project scenarios, the travel demand model estimated the Project's VMT benefit by multiplying the number of person-trips shifted from automobiles to transit because of the Project (as forecasted by the CBM18B model [Metro, 2019b]) by the associated station-to-station (or comparable zone-to-zone) trip distances. The estimated user benefit is a savings of about 85,000 VMT resulting in the removal of 37 metric tons of CO2 daily due to the implementation of the Project. A dedicated BRT lane can move 3 times the number of people per hour than a mixed traffic lane. This analysis was conducted as part of the Vermont Transit Corridor Planning and Environmental Study and aligns with the State statuary goals of reducing greenhouse gas emissions and increasing multimodal transportation networks.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Recommendation supports:

- Strategic Plan Goal 1: Provide high quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling;
- Strategic Plan Goal 2: Deliver outstanding trip experience for all users of the transportation system; and
- Strategic Plan Goal 3: Enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may elect not to approve the proposed LOP budget and direct staff to evaluate alternative procurement, scope, or project delivery strategies.

Staff does not recommend this alternative because it could require additional procurement, redesign, negotiation, or project-development activities and could result in schedule delays and increased costs.

The CM/GC delivery strategy was selected in part to support early construction, schedule flexibility, integrated preconstruction services, real-time cost and scope management, early utility-risk mitigation, and segment-by-segment construction advancement.

Delaying establishment of the LOP could affect the Project's ability to maintain its planned delivery schedule.

NEXT STEPS

Upon Board approval of the LOP budget, staff will proceed with the actions described in this report. Construction is anticipated to begin in Fall of 2026, with Revenue Service anticipated in June 2028 in advance of the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Metro

Vermont Transit Corridor BRT Project

RECOMMENDATION:

Consider

- ESTABLISH a Life-of-Project budget for the Vermont Transit Corridor Bus Rapid Transit Project in the amount of $413,786,609; and
- AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to negotiate and execute project-related agreements up to the authorized Life-of-Project budget.

Vermont Transit Corridor BRT Project

Project Overview

- 12.4-mile BRT corridor
- Sunset Boulevard to 120th Street
- 26 stations at 13 major locations
- Dedicated side-running bus lanes
- Connections to Metro B/D, E and C Lines
- Approximately 38,000 existing weekday boardings

Purpose & Need for Project

- Growing Travel Market: High level of transit trips on corridor projected to grow over time; transit use is higher than County average
- Deteriorating Traffic Conditions: Constrained right-of-way along segments of corridor results in increased operating conflicts, inefficient movement of people, decreased safety
- Degrading Transit Reliability: Transit travel times, service quality and reliability are significantly impacted by traffic congestion all day; causes unreliable travel times and decreases rider confidence in service
- Increasing Transit Dependency: Corridor has disproportionately high proportion of transit-dependent riders; communities along corridor more likely to depend on public transit as their only source of transportation
- Poor Safety and Customer Experience Conditions: Poor conditions around transit stops or discourage riders; facilities often absent, in poor condition or in disrepair contributing to unsafe or uncomfortable waiting conditions and negative experiences or interactions

FINANCE, BUDGET AND AUDIT COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: AMENDMENT TO LEASE AGREEMENT WITH DOWNTOWN PROPERTIES, LLC FOR THE OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL LOCATED AT 818 WEST 7TH STREET IN LOS ANGELES

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) or their designee to execute Amendment No. 9 to the Lease Agreement with Downtown Properties, LLC ("Lessor"), for the Office of the Inspector General ("OIG") located at 818 West 7th Street in Los Angeles (Attachment A - Location Map), extending the lease term for 65 months (5 years, 5 months), commencing August 1, 2027, at an initial rate of $39,274 per month with 3% annual escalations, for a total of $2,521,267.65 over the 65-month term.

ISSUE

The current lease term for the OIG office space at 818 West 7th Street in Los Angeles ("OIG Office") will expire on July 31, 2027, unless the term is extended. The window for Metro to exercise the option to extend the lease commences August 1, 2026, and closes October 31, 2026. Board approval is needed to allow Metro to timely execute the negotiated lease amendment, obtain favorable lease terms, and allow sufficient time for completion of tenant improvements prior to the commencement of the extended term. Both the term and the value of the proposed amendment exceed the delegated authority of the CEO; therefore Board approval is required.

BACKGROUND

The OIG has occupied office space at 818 West 7th Street in Los Angeles since 1998. The original lease was for 55,560 square feet (SF), but has been reduced by approximately 77% during the lease period to the current size of 12,912 SF. The space is used by OIG staff and OIG consultants and is strategically located directly across from the Metro 7th Street/Metro Center Station. The current lease term expires July 31, 2027..

Prior lease amendments include:

- First Amendment to memorialize the commencement date as March 1,1998 and expiration date of February 28, 2003.

- Second Amendment to reduce the footprint to 32,701 SF.
- Third Amendment to extend the term to February 28, 2005
- Fourth Amendment to extend the term to February 28, 2007
- Fifth Amendment to extend the term to February 29, 2012 and reduce the premises to 12,912 SF
- Sixth Amendment to extend the term to February 28, 2017
- Seventh Amendment to extend the term to February 28, 2022
- Eighth Amendment to extend the term through July 31, 2027

DISCUSSION

OIG has a continued need for the OIG Office to provide ongoing independent oversight duties. OIG requires office space separate from Metro Gateway Headquarters to maintain operational independence, confidentiality, and separation from other Metro departments and functions.

The current OIG Office location has adequately served the needs of OIG since 1998. Continuing operations at the existing OIG Office would provide the least disruption to OIG services and avoid relocation, build-out, furniture, fixtures, IT installation, communications, and service interruption costs that would be incurred if OIG relocated to another location.

Staff has negotiated new lease terms effective August 1, 2027, including an initial rental rate of $36.50 per SF, or approximately $39,274 per month, with 3% annual escalations (See Attachment B - Deal Points). After accounting for five months of free rent as negotiated by staff, the effective rental rate is approximately $33.45 per SF. Metro Real Estate conducted a survey of 12 comparable Downtown Los Angeles office buildings which showed rates ranging from $36 to $49 per SF, thereby validating the proposed rental rate.

The proposed Amendment represents approximately 20% savings from the current rental rate, including eliminating operating expense pass-throughs, five months of free rent and an increase in parking from two to six spaces. The table below shows the comparison between the current annual rent compared to the proposed rent:

Annual Rent	Current Rent	Proposed Rent
Base Rent	$523,172	$432,014
Operating Expense Estimate	$24,168	None
Operating Expense Reconciliation	$3,820	None
Total Annual Rent	$551,160	$432,014

The Lessor will provide tenant improvements for needed upgrades including adding a door for security and replacing the air conditioning unit in the computer room. Also included is an additional allowance of $96,840 for future needs. The existing space also provides access to other amenities in the 818 building that have served Metro management for off-site retreats and meetings at no additional charge.

The term of the Amendment is five years and five months, which was negotiated to incorporate additional rent concessions. The proposed Amendment also includes, at no additional charge, a 24-month first right of refusal for the remainder of the fifth-floor space. This additional space may be beneficial for future Metro security or operational needs due to its direct view of 7th Street and Figueroa station areas.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

This Board Action will not have an impact on safety standards for Metro operations.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The proposed Amendment would commence on August 1, 2027 (FY28) and will be included in Project 100002, Cost Center 0651 during the FY28 Annual budget preparation by the Real Estate staff for applicable fiscal years.

The total cost of the proposed lease amendment is $2,521,267.65 over the 65-month term. This amount reflects the negotiated rental rate, 3% annual escalations, and five months of free rent.

Impact to Budget

The funding for the proposed lease is the General Fund, Right of Way. The funding source is eligible for bus and rail operations and capital projects.

The five-year budget impact will be as follows:

Extended Term Rent:

Period		Rent SF*	Monthly Rent	Annual Rent
Year 1*	8/1/2027 - 7/31/2028	$36.50	$39,274.00	$ 432,014.00
Year 2*	8/1/2028 - 7/31/2029	$37.60	$40,452.22	$ 444,974.42
Year 3*	8/1/2029 - 7/31/2030	$38.72	$41,665.79	$ 458,323.65
Year 4*	8/1/2030 - 7/31/2031	$39.88	$42,915.76	$ 472,073.36
Year 5*	8/1/2031 - 7/31/2032	$41.08	$44,203.23	$ 486,235.56
Year 6	8/1/2032 - 12/31/2032	$42.31	$45,529.33	$ 227,646.65
Total Rent				$ 2,521,267.65

*Each year March is rent-free through 2032.

EQUITY PLATFORM

There are no anticipated equity impacts identified as a result of this action. The proposed lease amendment supports the continued operation of OIG, which provides independent oversight and accountability functions for Metro.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as the proposed lease amendment supports the continued operation of OIG, which provides oversight and accountability functions necessary to support Metro's agency-wide operations. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

This recommendation supports the Metro strategic plan goal # 5: Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the Metro organization.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could choose not to approve the proposed Ninth Amendment. However, the time and resources required to identify another downtown office location, negotiate a new lease, construct tenant improvements, install communications and IT facilities, and relocate OIG staff would far exceed the cost of remaining in the existing location. This alternative is not cost effective and is not recommended.

There is no available space at Gateway Headquarters that would provide comparable operational separation, confidentiality, and independence for OIG operations.

NEXT STEPS

Upon Board approval, staff will execute the Ninth Amendment to Lease Agreement with Downtown Properties, LLC for the Office of Inspector General located at 818 West 7th Street in Los Angeles, as reviewed and approved by County Counsel.

FINANCE, BUDGET, AND AUDIT COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: PHARMACY BENEFIT MANAGEMENT FOR THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION PROGRAM

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to award a firm fixed unit rate Contract No. PS134759000 to Matrix Healthcare Services, Inc., dba MyMatrixx, to administer and manage pharmacy benefits, and process and pass through prescription medications for Metro's Workers' Compensation Program (the "Program") in the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) amount of $9,672,000 for the initial three-year base term, $3,256,000 for the first, one-year option, and $3,320,000 for the second, one-year option, for a total NTE amount of $16,248,000, effective October 5, 2026, subject to the resolution of any properly submitted protest(s), if any; and

ISSUE

Metro does not have an established Pharmacy Benefit Management program to efficiently manage workers' compensation (WC) claims. A dedicated contract is an effective tool to control prescription costs, ensure injured employees receive safe, injury-related medication, and streamline the WC claims management process.

BACKGROUND

Metro's FTE workforce of 12,300 employees reports an average of 1,600 WC claims annually, with approximately 2,400 open claims currently managed. The WC division administers the following California mandated benefits:

- Medical Care - Treatment to help an employee recover from a work-related injury or illness, including physician visits, diagnostic tests, medications, medical equipment, and necessary travel costs.
- Temporary Disability Benefits - Wage-replacement payments for employees who are unable to perform their usual job duties during recovery.
- Permanent Disability Benefits - Payments for employees who do not fully recover from their work-related injury, providing compensation for a measurable permanent loss of physical or mental function.

- Death Benefits - Financial support provided to a deceased employee's spouse, children, or other dependents when a work-related injury or illness results in fatality.
- Supplemental Job Displacement Benefit - A voucher to assist with retraining or skill enhancement for eligible employees who do not return to work or receive permanent disability benefits.

The WC division, comprising of 35 FTEs, supports employees injured on the job and processes their benefits. The division also provides responsive customer service, processes medical bills promptly, and reviews all incoming legal and medical correspondence in strict compliance with the California Labor Code timelines.

The WC landscape in California continues to evolve, presenting increasing challenges for employers like Metro with large WC programs. These complexities are largely driven by rising costs of litigation, an increase in complex cumulative trauma claims, and significantly higher state regulatory assessments.

To address these challenges, the WC division is committed to enhancing the delivery of WC benefits by adopting industry best practices, such as implementing a PBM program to ensure employee safety, streamline claims management, and contain costs. Implementation of the PBM will improve the current process which lacks a centralized approach to pharmacy management. The existing process falls upon each individual adjuster to approve over the counter medication and submit all others through Utilization Review. Additionally, each adjuster must field pharmacy or injured employee inquiries regarding prescription dispensing.

DISCUSSION

Pharmacy Benefit Managers (PBMs) act as intermediaries between workers' compensation insurers or employers, pharmacies, and drug manufacturers. In California, they manage the prescription drug portion of injury claims by processing payments, enforcing clinical guidelines to ensure medications are tied to the workplace injury, and managing costs. PBMs perform several core functions, including:

- Claim Adjudication - They verify if an injured worker's claim is open and process and pass through real-time billing directly at the pharmacy counter, so the worker does not pay out-of-pocket.
- Clinical Management - They review prescriptions to prevent dangerous drug interactions, monitor against excessive opioid use, and ensure medications align with the diagnosis.
- Formulary Compliance - They enforce statutory rules (like the California Division of Workers' Compensation Formulary) that dictate which medications are preferred or require prior authorization.
- Network Contracting - They negotiate discounted pricing with a network of retail and mail-order pharmacies.

Staff continues to leverage best practices to enhance the WC program. In FY26, medical costs accounted for 27% of the overall Program costs, of which pharmacy costs are a component. The annual average pharmacy spend from FY22 to FY26 was $1,792,158. Industry benchmarks indicate that PBM partnerships can reduce pharmacy spending by 15% to 25% while improving compliance and safety. These savings are achieved by enforcing state fee schedules, utilizing customized formularies, and intercepting expensive, non-approved drugs before dispensing. Further, the recently signed California Senate Bill 41 requires that 100% of drug manufacturer rebates be passed directly to the payer.

In addition, PBM implementation will significantly streamline the claims management process for Metro's in-house claims staff. By automating real-time pharmacy-counter eligibility verification, managing the entire prior-authorization workflow for non-formulary drugs, and handling direct pharmacy dispute resolutions, the PBM removes highly technical, manual clerical tasks from Metro's internal team. This automation allows Metro's in-house adjusters to redirect their time toward core case management, accelerating overall claim closures.

The five-year NTE pass-through costs for the base term and option periods is estimated based on annual average projections plus claims experience inflation. Annually, Metro averages about 4,800 prescriptions.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Receiving timely medical care is critical to injured Metro employees. Approval of this item will support the WC division's ability to administer claims promptly.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The FY27 Budget includes $2.1 million for the contract and pass-through pharmacy payment in Cost Center 0531, Non-Departmental - Operations Risk Management, under Project 100004, PRMA - Workers' Compensation.

Since this is a multi-year contract, the cost center manager and the Chief Risk, Corporate Safety, and Asset Management Officer will be accountable for budgeting the cost in future years, including any options exercised.

Impact to Budget

The source of funding for this action will come from federal, state, and local funding sources that are eligible for bus and rail operations.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The proposed action supports Metro's ability to safely serve the communities and customers who rely on Metro's transportation services and assets by promoting the use of industry best practices to reduce costs associated with administering Metro's WC program.

The Diversity and Economic Opportunity Department (DEOD) did not recommend a Small Business Enterprise (SBE)/Disabled Veteran Business Enterprise (DVBE) goal for this procurement due to the lack of certified small businesses that perform the required services.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

Vehicle Miles Traveled (VMT) and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as it provides workers' compensation pharmacy services in accordance with State-approved fee schedules and helps reduce medical expenditures. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

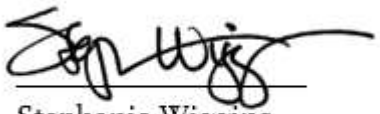
IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports strategic plan goals #1), "Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling," and #5), "Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the Metro organization." This Board action supports the use of industry best practices that reduce costs associated with the administration of the Program.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may elect not to approve the recommendation. This option is not recommended because relying on existing internal process limits Metro's efforts to contain rising Program costs, causes the agency to miss out on significant pharmacy savings through negotiated discounts and fee schedules, fails to capture 100% of drug manufacturer rebates mandated by California law, and results in longer claim closures and limited support for injured employees.

NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval, staff will execute Contract No. PS134759000, with Matrix Healthcare Services, Inc., dba MyMatrixx, to administer and manage pharmacy benefits for Metro's Workers' Compensation Program, effective October 5, 2026.

A. Procurement Background

This Board Action is to approve Contract No. PS134759000 to administer and manage pharmacy benefits for Metro's Workers' Compensation Program. Board approval of contract award is subject to the resolution of any properly submitted protest(s), if any.

On November 25, 2025, Request for Proposals (RFP) No. PS134759 was issued as a competitive procurement in accordance with Metro's Acquisition Policy and the contract type is a firm fixed unit rate. The Diversity & Economic Opportunity Department did not recommend a Small Business Enterprise/Disabled Veteran Business Enterprise (SBE/DVBE) participation goal for this procurement.

Five amendments were issued for this RFP:

- Amendment No. 1, issued on December 12, 2025, revised Exhibit 3, Phase 1 Evaluation, Minimum Qualification Requirements, by removing the required registration with the Department of Managed Health Care, updated LOI 01, Notice of Invitation, to clarify that the period of performance is five years, consisting of a three-year base term and two, one-year options, and revised Section 1.2, Proposal Content of the Submittal Requirements, to align with changes to Exhibit 3.
- Amendment No. 2, issued on December 17, 2025, provided clarification to Exhibit 3, Evaluation Criteria, sub-criteria for Management Plan/Approach, and Section 1.2, Proposal Content of the Submittal Requirements.

- Amendment No. 3, issued on December 19, 2025, corrected the numbering for the Exhibit A, Scope of Services, Deliverables section.
- Amendment No. 4, issued on December 29, 2025, extended the proposal due date from January 5, 2026, to January 12, 2026.
- Amendment No. 5, issued on June 2, 2026, revised Exhibit 2, Schedule of Quantities and Prices, to incorporate new regulatory requirements regarding PBM income and pharmacy reimbursements per Senate Bill 41 (SB 41).

A total of 21 downloads of the RFP were included in the planholders' list. A virtual pre-proposal conference was held on December 5, 2025, and was attended by five participants representing four firms. There were 42 questions received and responses were issued prior to the proposal due date.

A total of four proposals were received by the proposal due date of January 12, 2026, and are listed below in alphabetical order:

1. Enlyte
2. Matrix Healthcare Services, Inc., dba MyMatrixx
3. PMSI, LLC, dba Optum Workers Compensation Services of Florida
4. Prodigy Care Services, LLC

B. Evaluation of Proposals

A Proposal Evaluation Team (PET) consisting of staff from Metro's Risk Management, County Counsel, and Return to Work Departments was convened and conducted a comprehensive technical evaluation of the proposals received.

From January 26, 2026, through June 8, 2026, the PET independently evaluated the proposals based on the following evaluation criteria:

Phase I: Minimum Qualifications Requirements: Proposers must meet the following minimum qualifications requirements at the time of proposal submittal:

A. Proposer must have a minimum of five years of experience providing Pharmacy Benefits Management (PBM) services.

B. The proposed Account Manager must have a minimum of three (3) years of experience within the last five (5) years in implementing and managing Workers Compensation (WC) PBM programs for clients of similar type, size, scope, and complexity as those required in the Scope of Services.

C. Proposed key personnel (i.e. other than the Account Manager) must have three (3) years of direct experience working with California WC Insurers (i.e. insurance carriers), California Self-Administered and/or Self-Insured Employers, and/ or California Public Agencies (that administer their own WC programs).

D. Proposer's computerized systems must meet technology requirements to interface with Metro's Riskonnect iVOS system, including electronic data interchange (EDI) via file transfer protocol (FTP).

E. Must have a 24/7 Customer Help Desk to respond to questions from injured workers, pharmacies, and Metro Claim Representatives which includes outreach for prior authorizations (PAs).

The PET deemed all four proposals met the Phase I Minimum Qualifications Requirements and continued with the Phase II Technical Evaluation based on the following evaluation criteria:

- Qualifications of Proposed Key Personnel 10%
- Qualifications of the Proposer 40%
- Management Plan/Approach 20%
- Price 30%

Several factors were considered when developing these weights, giving the greatest importance to qualifications of the proposer.

On April 23, 2026, the PET determined that all four firms were within the competitive range and were invited to oral presentations to present their team's qualifications, discuss their technical approach, and respond to the PET's questions.

The procurement timeline was extended due to the March 2026 network outage and complex lengthy fact finding discussions with proposers regarding SB 41 pricing impacts and PBM income and pharmacy reimbursement regulations.

At the conclusion of the evaluation process, the PET determined MyMatrixx to be the highest ranked firm.

Metro

ISSUE

Metro does not have an established Pharmacy Benefit Management (PBM) program to efficiently manage workers' compensation (WC) claims. A dedicated PBM contract is essential to control prescription costs, ensure injured employees receive safe, injury-related medication, and streamline the WC claims management process.

Metro

DISCUSSION

- Pharmacy Benefit Managers (PBMs) act as intermediaries between workers' compensation insurers or employers, pharmacies, and drug manufacturers.
- PBMs perform several core functions, including claims adjudication, clinical management, formulary compliance, and network contracting.
- Metro's annual average pharmacy spending from FY22 to FY26 was $1,792,158. Industry benchmarks indicate that PBM partnerships can reduce pharmacy spending by 15% to 25% while improving compliance and safety.
- California Senate Bill 41 requires that 100% of drug manufacturer rebates be passed directly to the payer.

FINANCE, BUDGET AND AUDIT COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: MEASURE M INDEPENDENT TAXPAYER OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE SELECTION

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

APPROVE the following recommendations for the Measure M Independent Taxpayer Oversight Committee (MMITOC):

A. Jay Gandhi, the recommended nominee for the area of expertise A, a retired federal or state judge; and

B. Daniel Freeman, the recommended nominee for the area of expertise F, a licensed architect or engineer.

ISSUE

The MMITOC consists of seven members representing various areas of expertise (Attachment A). Currently, there are two open positions on the MMITOC. This action seeks to fill both vacancies

BACKGROUND

The Measure M Ordinance (Ordinance), approved by voters in November 2016, requires the establishment of a Taxpayer Oversight Committee to provide an enhanced level of accountability for expenditures of sales tax revenues made under the Expenditure Plan. The MMITOC carries out the responsibilities laid out in the Ordinance. It plays a valuable and constructive role in the ongoing improvement and enhancement of project delivery contemplated under the Measure M Ordinance. See Attachment A for committee requirements.

The MMITOC is comprised of seven members representing the following areas of expertise (Attachment A):

A. A retired federal or state judge;

B. A professional from the field of municipal/public finance and/or budgeting with a minimum of 10 years of relevant experience;

C. A transit professional with a minimum of 10 years of experience in senior-level decision making in transit operations and labor practices;

D. A professional with a minimum of 10 years of experience in management and administration of financial policies, performance measurements, and reviews;

E. A professional with demonstrated experience of 10 years or more in the management of large-scale construction projects;

F. A licensed architect or engineer with appropriate credentials in the field of transportation project design or construction and a minimum of 10 years of relevant experience; and

G. A regional association of business representative with at least 10 years of senior-level decision making experience in the private sector.

In October 2020, the member representing Expertise A - a retired federal or state judge, resigned. In March 2025, the member representing Expertise F - a licensed architect or engineer, notified staff of her intent to resign once a suitable replacement was identified.

The Ordinance states that the Selection Panel, consisting of Metro's Board Chair, Vice Chair, and Second Vice Chair or their designees, shall select the MMITOC Members for approval (Attachment B). On August 13, 2026, staff presented the eligible candidates for these areas of expertise on the MMITOC to the Selection Panel for their review. The Ethics Officer also conducted a screening of the candidates to ensure compliance with the conflict of interest provisions outlined in the Ordinance.

The Board approves recommended candidates by a simple majority in accordance with the Selection Panel guidelines (Attachment B).

DISCUSSION

There are currently two open positions on the MMITOC. This action aims to fill both of those vacancies: a retired federal or state judge and a licensed architect or engineer.

Metro conducted targeted outreach to fill MMITOC vacancies, including issuing a press release, launching an online application system, and engaging professional associations, judicial officers, and industry-specific professionals. An additional press release was issued in December 2025, and Metro continued to highlight the committee's work and impact through sustained communications and outreach. A promotional video was developed to support ongoing outreach and recruitment for current and future vacancies.

Following this outreach process, candidate applications were evaluated, and staff presented eligible candidates to the Selection Panel for review. The Selection Panel reviewed the candidates' qualifications and recommended the following candidates be approved for the MMITOC.

- Judge Jay Gandhi, the recommended nominee for Expertise A (retired federal or state judge). He is a former U.S. Magistrate Judge whose career in the federal judiciary and complex dispute resolution reflects a strong record of impartial oversight and sound judgment. (Attachment C)

- Daniel J. Freeman, the recommended nominee for Expertise F (licensed architect or engineer). He is a retired Caltrans Deputy Director with over 30 years of experience in design, engineering, construction, operation, and maintenance of large-scale highway projects. (Attachment D)

This recommendation reflects the Measure M Ordinance's requirement that members have specific professional backgrounds to ensure the Committee benefits from a range of relevant expertise when reviewing the expenditure of Measure M funds. The retired judicial expertise and licensed architect/engineer expertise represented by these positions provide valuable experience in impartial evaluation and technical review of construction and design matters, supporting compliance and integrity in oversight activities. Approval of the staff recommendation will result in a full committee.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Approval of this item promotes the safety of Metro's patrons or employees, as the MMITOC regularly reviews funds that support operations.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Approving the recommended action has no financial impact on the agency.

EQUITY PLATFORM

Responsible and transparent stewardship of taxpayer dollars is an important component of equitable governance. This action will fill vacancies on this oversight committee.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as it supports governance and oversight of Measure M investments that fund transit and mobility improvements. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from the highway performance monitoring system data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Approval of this item supports Metro Vision 2028 Goal #5: Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the Metro organization, as the MMITOC was established to ensure that Metro and local sub-recipients comply with the terms of the Ordinance.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could choose not to approve the recommended nominees for the MMITOC and direct staff to re-solicit applications. This alternative is not recommended, as it would prolong the current vacancies and may affect the Committee's ability to maintain consistent participation and quorum for meetings where important Measure M matters are reviewed.

NEXT STEPS

Upon approval, staff will schedule an orientation session for the selected members.

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to renew existing group insurance policies covering Non-Contract and American Federation of State, County and Municipal (AFSCME) employees, including long term disability coverage for Teamsters employees, and life insurance for all full-time Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) employees, for the one-year period beginning January 1, 2027 (Attachment A).

ISSUE

Existing group insurance policies covering Non-Contract and AFSCME employees, including long-term disability coverage for Teamsters and life insurance for all full-time Metro employees end on December 31, 2026, and must be renewed on an annual basis. Renewal of the existing group insurance plan coverage for a one-year period must be approved and in effect on January 1, 2027, to provide continuous seamless group insurance coverage for Metro employees.

BACKGROUND

The Non-Contract Group Insurance Plan, a flexible benefits program, was implemented in August 1994 with AFSCME joining in 1996. Metro's health insurance plans are part of the total compensation package that helps attract and retain qualified employees, as well as provide existing employees with a foundation to maintain or improve their health. The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority, including the Public Transportation Services Corporation (PTSC), seeks to offer benefit plans that promote efficient use of health resources and are cost-effective for the agency and employees. Approximately 98% of eligible employees are covered by Metro's benefit plans.

DISCUSSION

Employees who work 30 hours per week or more are eligible to enroll in a medical plan and other benefits. On an annual basis, employees are encouraged to review their enrollment and may choose medical, dental, vision, supplemental life, long-term disability, and accidental death and dismemberment plans that meet their needs. Alternatively, employees may opt to waive medical and/or dental coverage and receive a taxable cash benefit, provided proof of other medical coverage is submitted and the employee does not obtain subsidized coverage from an exchange. Employees may also participate in flexible spending accounts, a vehicle to pay for certain out-of-pocket healthcare and dependent care expenses on a pre-tax basis. New employees are provided with an orientation session and assistance in enrolling in their selected plan(s). Additionally, existing employees are also provided with information and outreach to assist them in making informed decisions or changes to their plan selections.

The overall group insurance premium cost will increase by 6.3% for calendar year 2027. Factors contributing to the additional premium costs include an increased number of high-dollar medical claims and the impact of inflation. The Delta Dental PPO/HMO, VSP and Long-Term Disability plans did not have a rate increase and will keep their current rates until January 1, 2028.

The recommended medical, dental, and vision premiums are shown on Attachment A. Non-Contract and AFSCME participants contribute 10% of the actual premium for each medical and dental plan selected. The monthly employee contributions are shown in Attachment B.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Approval of this item will positively impact the safety of our workforce. Metro's group insurance plans offer employees cost-effective and efficient access to health resources, ultimately contributing to their overall health and wellness.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Funding for the Non-Contract and AFSCME group insurance plans, along with life insurance for all full-time Metro employees and long-term disability plans for Teamsters employees, is included in each department's FY27 budget and on the balance sheet for accrued retiree medical liabilities. Based on current employee participation by plan, estimated group insurance of $45.6M are within the FY27 adopted budget. Remaining costs will be budgeted through the annual budget process, as group insurance expenses are incurred on a calendar-year basis. These costs are allocated to departments based on budgeted FTEs.

Impact to Budget

Sources of funds will parallel the projects charged by full-time equivalent staff agency wide and will include operating and capital eligible funds encompassing sales tax, fares, federal, state and local funds.

EQUITY PLATFORM

Approximately 98% of Metro employees receive benefits under Metro's health plans. The Pension and Benefits department is committed to ensuring that employees have access to information and resources regarding group insurance plans and alternative healthcare options available. References are provided in the Benefits Enrollment Guide for CoveredCA.com <http://coveredca.com/> and Healthcare.gov <http://healthcare.gov/> and staff provide additional guidance on an individual basis as requested. Additionally, annual open enrollment training sessions are offered both in-person and online to ensure employees have the information they need to make informed decisions for continuous healthcare coverage. Employees may also access informational materials and forms online and are welcome to call the Pension and Benefits Department directly to receive personalized assistance. These efforts help promote equity and inclusion by ensuring that employees have direct access to information, understand, and utilize their healthcare benefits effectively.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as Metro AFSCME and Non-Contract employees play an important role in the delivery of reliable, multi-modal transit service throughout Los Angeles County. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports strategic plan goal #5 "Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the LA Metro organization." The responsible administration of Metro's Group Insurance Policies promotes efficient use of health resources and are cost effective for the agency and its employees.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could decide to self-insure and self-administer health benefits. However, this is not recommended due to the resources required to establish the medical expertise and operational infrastructure required to review and process claims, as well as the liability that would be assumed.

NEXT STEPS

Metro will hold annual open enrollment for Non-Contract and AFSCME employees during November 2026 and implement benefit elections effective January 1, 2027.

EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: TRANSPORTATION BUSINESS ADVISORY COUNCIL MEMBER APPOINTMENT

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

APPROVE the appointment of the Chinese American Construction Professionals (CACP) to the Transportation Business Advisory Council (TBAC) membership.

ISSUE

The TBAC was created in 1992 by Assembly Bill 152 and codified into law as Public Utilities Code Section 130051.19(c). The purpose of TBAC is to advise the Metro on matters regarding small business enterprises.

Small business organizations interested in TBAC membership must submit applications to the TBAC membership committee. TBAC's membership committee evaluates applications to determine whether the organization's mission aligns with TBAC's purpose. Organizations recommended for TBAC membership are forwarded to Metro's Board of Directors for consideration and appointment.

BACKGROUND

Public Utilities Code section 130051.19(c), states: "The authority shall establish a Transportation Business Advisory Council to advise it on matters regarding the disadvantaged business enterprise program to enable the authority to meet or exceed small business enterprise participation goals. Members of the council shall be selected by the authority and shall include representatives of professional organizations and other groups that advocate on behalf of greater participation of women and minority business enterprises in public contracts. The chairperson of the authority or his or her designee shall meet with the council, and the authority shall provide adequate staff support for the council and shall consider all recommendations made by the council."

The TBAC meets monthly to provide recommendations on strategies, programs, and processes that enhance small business participation in Metro's procurement opportunities. TBAC also has standing committees including Construction, Professional Services, Commodities, Membership, and Legislative, which focus on issues relevant to their respective areas. Metro staff provides administrative support and attends all monthly TBAC general and committee meetings.

TBAC currently consists of 17 member organizations, excluding CACP, as listed below.

Public Utilities Code Section 130051.19(c) provides that “Members of the council shall be selected by the authority…” The term “authority,” although not expressly defined in the statute, has been generally interpreted to mean Metro’s Board of Directors. To comply with Section 130051.19(c), the Metro Board must select or appoint TBAC members.

DISCUSSION

CACP is a nonprofit professional organization that has served Southern California’s design and construction industry for more than four decades. CACP’s membership includes architects, engineers, contractors, and other professionals representing a broad range of design, construction, and development disciplines. CACP is committed to enhancing the competitiveness of its members, providing professional and business networking opportunities, serving the community and construction industry, and developing the next generation of design and construction professionals.

CACP previously served as a member of TBAC before withdrawing its membership on July 1, 2015. CACP has since expressed renewed interest in participating in TBAC and is seeking to rejoin the council. CACP submitted a TBAC membership application with the required supporting documentation to TBAC in June 2026 for review and approval. Staff confirmed that CACP’s application satisfied the membership criteria established in Section 3 (Membership Criteria) of the TBAC Bylaws. The TBAC membership criteria include the following:

- The organization must have a membership of at least 25 small business owners.
- The organization must advocate for the development and success of small businesses.
- The organization must support TBAC’s mission, purpose, and objectives.
- The organization’s principal business address must be located within Los Angeles County.
- The organization must submit a complete application with all required supporting documentation listed in the requirements section of the application.

Additionally, CACP’s mission and established presence within the construction industry and its representation of architects, engineers, contractors, and other design and construction professionals will bring valuable industry perspectives to TBAC and support the council’s efforts to promote the development, capacity, and participation of small businesses in Metro’s contracting and procurement opportunities.

TBAC reviewed and approved CACP’s membership application and forwarded it to Metro staff for review and approval per TBAC’s bylaws. In accordance with the defined statute, staff is advancing the CACP organization for approval to be appointed by Metro’s Board of Directors to the TBAC membership.

If appointed by the Metro Board, the CACP will be added to the current TBAC organization membership listed below:

1. American Indian Chamber of Commerce of California
2. Arab American Association of Engineers & Architects: California Chapter
3. Asian American Architects & Engineers Association
4. Black Business Association
5. Filipino American Society of Architects & Engineers
6. Latin Business Association
7. Los Angeles Chapter - Elite Service Disabled Veteran Owned Business Network
8. Los Angeles Chapter of National Organization of Minority Architects
9. Los Angeles Chapter of the Disabled Veteran Business Alliance
10. Los Angeles Latino Chamber of Commerce
11. National Association of Minority Contractors
12. National Association of Women Business Owners - Los Angeles
13. Regional Hispanic Chamber of Commerce
14. Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers - Los Angeles Chapter
15. US Veteran Business Alliance (USVBA)
16. Women's Business Enterprise National Council - West
17. Women's Transportation Seminar - Los Angeles Chapter

TBAC recruits member organizations through semi-annual or annual membership drives, supported by Metro staff. The most recent recruitment effort was conducted in conjunction with the Meet the Primes event on March 12, 2026. Over the past 10 years, TBAC has maintained a membership of approximately 15 to 20 organizations, providing broad representation of the small business community, including African American, Asian/Pacific Islander, Arab American, Native American, Hispanic American, women, disabled veteran, and small business organizations. TBAC is responsible for managing its membership and recruiting organizations that align with its mission. Should membership decline or representation gaps be identified, Metro staff may recommend additional organizations for TBAC's consideration.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

There is no safety impact related to this action.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

There is no financial impact related to this action.

EQUITY PLATFORM

TBAC plays a vital role in connecting Metro with the small business community throughout Los Angeles County. Representing hundreds of small businesses, TBAC supports firms that contribute to local job creation and economic activity, helping to ensure that transportation-related investments continue to circulate within the region. The Council's membership includes businesses that have historically faced barriers to participation in public contracting opportunities, including small, women-owned, and minority-owned firms.

Expanding TBAC membership will strengthen the council by broadening representation and increasing engagement from historically underrepresented businesses seeking to participate in Metro contracting opportunities. Increased membership will also enhance Metro's ability to support the small business community by expanding outreach, gathering valuable stakeholder feedback, and disseminating information regarding contracting opportunities, policies, and programs to a wider audience. Through continued relationship-building and a deeper understanding of the challenges facing small businesses, the Diversity and Economic Opportunity Department (DEOD) can further strengthen its support framework. A strong small business presence in Metro contracting contributes to regional economic growth, supports the long-term viability of small businesses, and promotes wealth-building opportunities in historically disadvantaged communities.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as it supports small, disadvantaged, minority-owned, and women-owned businesses by providing them with access to contracting opportunities and helping them grow their capacity to participate in Metro's large-scale infrastructure projects and day-to-day operations. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item generally supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

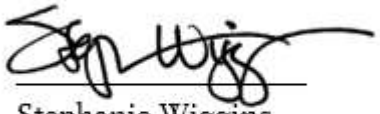
*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from the highway performance monitoring system data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

This recommendation supports the strategic plan Goal 5.5, "Expanding opportunities for businesses and external organizations to work with Metro" by increasing the number of small businesses engaged.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could elect not to approve CACP's appointment to TBAC. This alternative would limit TBAC's access to the perspectives and experiences of CACP's small business members, particularly those within the construction and professional services industries, when developing recommendations to Metro on strategies to increase small business participation in contracting opportunities. It would also limit the breadth and diversity of industry representation on TBAC.



NEXT STEPS

Upon the approval of this appointment by the Metro Board, the CACP will be added to the TBAC membership.

EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: OPEN AND SLOW STREETS PROGRAM UPDATE

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

CONSIDER:

A. APPROVING the use of $1 million of previously deobligated local Proposition C 25% Call for Projects funding set aside in reserve for capital projects to fund Open and Slow Streets Cycle 8 operational events between September 2026 and March 2028;

B. AMENDING the FY27 Budget by $1,000,000 to authorize expenditures for Recommendation A; and

C. AUTHORIZING the Chief Executive Officer or their designee to award eligible Cycle 8 events that meet the requirements and process outlined in Attachment A.

ISSUE

At its July 2026 meeting, the Board approved an amendment by Directors Horvath and Bass to the Open and Slow Streets directing the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to report back with the identification of $1 million in Metro-controlled funding for the Open and Slow Streets Program.

BACKGROUND

Metro's Open and Slow Streets grant program was created as a pilot in 2013 to help subsidize the operating expenses for civic events that help people experience public transportation, walking, and biking, potentially for the first time. The program aims to encourage the adoption of sustainable transportation modes and promote civic community engagement to develop policies and infrastructure for multiple modes of transportation with an emphasis on advancing equity. Since 2013, the Open and Slow Streets grant program has proceeded through seven funding cycles, committing funding to 113 events through a competitive process.

In June 2021, the Board authorized staff to update and release Open and Slow Streets program guidelines for future cycles. On August 11, 2025, criteria and goals for Cycles Six and Seven were released. One of the objectives of Cycles Six and Seven was to encourage active transportation and transit use both during and beyond Open and Slow Streets events, and to support connections to the 2026 FIFA World Cup and the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

At its December 2025 meeting, the Board approved <https://boardagendas.metro.net/board-report/2025-0854/> the award of $10 million of Metro funds under Cycles Six and Seven of the Open and Slow Streets Grant Program, and amended the report to direct the CEO to report back on a series of recommendations and analysis including obtaining input from community stakeholders to identify ways to make the program permanent, initiating an abbreviated cycle with identified funding for events occurring between September 2026 and March 2028, and offering technical assistance, including alternative sources of funding for events not funded through Cycles Six and Seven.

Staff provided a response to Board direction at the July 2026 meeting. The Board approved the recommendation to provide assistance to local jurisdictions to use Local Return and TDA Article 3 funding for Open and Slow Street events occurring between September 2026 and March 2028, and amended the report to direct the CEO to identify an additional $1 million of Metro-controlled funding for the Open and Slow Streets Program by September 2026. The amendment also referred a proposed program mission statement to the Planning and Programming Committee for review.

DISCUSSION

Funding

Local Proposition C 25% (PC25) is the only Metro-controlled, non-operations-eligible funding source available to fund Open and Slow Street events. Staff have identified $1 million of deobligated Call for Projects PC25 funding that can be applied towards the Open and Slow Streets Program. These PC25 funds previously funded bicycle and pedestrian capital improvement projects. The funds are eligible for transportation system/demand management (TSM/TDM) programs, such as open street events, and are not eligible for Metro bus and rail operations expenses.

While this funding can be used to fund Open and Slow Street events, PC25 funds, specifically set aside for reserves from deobligated Call for Projects, have been used for the Call process which prioritizes Metro's multi-modal programming priorities and the adopted Long Range Transportation Plan (LRTP).

Allocation Process

Pending Board direction, the additional $1 million of reserve funding will be made available to all Los Angeles County jurisdictions, including cities, the county, and Councils of Government.

In prior Open and Slow Street cycles, awards were generally capped at $500,000 per event. In order for the $1 million to support more events, staff propose that the maximum award for this funding will be $200,000 per event. This could add at least 5 more events to the 29 events awarded in December 2025 and planned to be held during the World Cup and the Games. Additionally, given the timeline to execute events by March 2028, staff propose awarding grants to events on a first-come, first served basis that meet the following criteria for Cycle 8 (also outlined in Attachment A):

- Submission of a Letter of Interest
- Submission of a Scope of Work

- Distance of 2 miles or greater
- Event date no later than March 2028
- Dollar-for-dollar match to supplement limited available Metro funding and to support the use of Local Return and TDA Article 3 funds

Of note, staff are proposing a minimum 2-mile event length. This is in consideration of a preliminary review of Open and Slow Street events that took place during the 2026 FIFA World Cup, noting that longer events were better attended and better supported the program goals of encouraging sustainable transportation modes. Additionally, staff are proposing that this additional funding be subject to a dollar-for-dollar match in light of broad availability of TDA Article 3 and Local Return funding, which are eligible to be used for Open and Slow Streets matching funds.

Engagement

Staff have contacted various cities to confirm interest in developing an event during this time frame. Staff have already had five favorable preliminary discussions with jurisdictions interested in supporting Open and Slow Street events during this time frame. If approved, staff will implement a robust outreach program.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The Open and Slow Streets Program will not have a direct safety impact on Metro or its employees as the events are held outside Metro-owned property.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The amount of $4,564,174 is currently included in the FY27 Adopted Budget for the Open and Slow Streets Program in Cost Center 0441 Project 410077. Upon Board approval of this action, $1,000,000 of PC25 funding will be taken out of the Call for Projects Reserve and added to the budget in that line item. Since these are likely to be multi-year projects, cost center managers and the Chief Planning Officer will be responsible for budgeting in future years.

Impact to Budget

The fund source for these activities is PC25 funding, which is not eligible for Metro bus and rail operations.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The recently awarded Cycles Six and Seven of the Open and Slow Streets Grant Program give residents of Los Angeles County, especially those in EFCs, the opportunity to walk, bike, or roll through their neighborhoods. Of the 29 proposed projects recommended for funding in Cycles Six and Seven, 25 (86%) are located in EFCs. By hosting Open and Slow Streets events in EFCs, community members from disadvantaged areas will also have the chance to enjoy car-free activities.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through investment activities that will benefit and further encourage transit ridership and active transportation. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

The Open and Slow Streets Program encourages and promotes taking transit and using active transportation. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

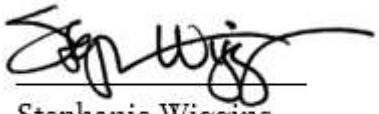
IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The Open and Slow Streets Grant Program supports the third goal of Metro's Strategic Plan. The Program seeks to promote car-free and car-light mobility options within local communities, giving them opportunities to experience these transportation modes in a safe environment. This helps Metro encourage sustainable transportation choices through open streets events. Additionally, these events enable Metro staff, through outreach activities such as staffing information booths at Open Streets events, to share the latest information and address any questions from the communities they serve.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board could choose not to approve the staff-recommended action to approve the use of $1 million of previously deobligated PC25 funds to support potentially five more events to the 29 events funded by the Open and Slow Streets Program approved by the Board in January 2026. The 29 events approved by the Board in December 2025 are not affected by this action.

NEXT STEPS



With the Board's approval, staff will solicit Letters of Interest from eligible applicants.. Staff will confirm eligible submissions by November 2026 and will allocate funding to events based on the criteria outlined in this Board Report. Staff will continue to meet with local jurisdictions to inform them of Local Return and TDA Article 3 balances that can be used toward open street events. Initial conversations with local jurisdictions have yielded positive responses.

Proposed Criteria and Requirements for Cycle 8

Program Objective:

Helping communities reimagine streets by funding events that make walking, biking, and rolling safer, more accessible, and more enjoyable across Los Angeles County.

Program Goals:

• Usage of, and access to, sustainable modes of transportation (bicycling, walking, and transit) and promoting mode shift from single-occupancy vehicles by encouraging transit use, experiencing streets that are safe for active transportation, providing opportunities for civic engagement that can foster support for multimodal policy and infrastructure change, and/or encouraging community members to rethink streets as shared car-free/car-light public spaces for community members to enjoy during the event and beyond.
• Access to safe and accessible streets, especially in communities lacking high-quality bike and pedestrian infrastructure, with higher severe and fatal traffic injury rates for bicyclists and pedestrians, with an emphasis on Equity Focus Communities (EFC).
• Creative approaches to access and integrate arts and culture activities, recreation opportunities, and venues by non-driving modes.
• High value to cost-per-mile of the proposed program.
• Repeat, multiple-day, or regularly recurring events to maximize the benefits of the above goals.
• Events that lead to permanent or semi-permanent safety improvements for people walking, biking, and rolling in Los Angeles County.

Eligibility:

All Los Angeles County jurisdictions, including cities, the county, and Councils of Government are eligible grantees.

Funding:

Total Funding Available: $1 million
Maximum Award Per Event: $200,000

SUBJECT: P2000 LIGHT RAIL VEHICLE (LRV) OVERHAUL PROGRAM CONSULTANT SUPPORT SERVICES

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to execute Contract Modification No. 34 to Contract No PS20113000, a cost plus fixed-fee contract with CH2M Hill, Inc. for the P2000 Light Rail Vehicle (LRV) Overhaul Program Consultant Support Services, increasing the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) contract price by $810,985.32, from $11,012,090.20 to $11,823,075.52, and extending the period of performance from September 30, 2026 through June 30, 2034. This requested increase to the NTE contract price is within the current P2000 LOP budget.

ISSUE

The current consulting service has provided Metro with program and technical support for the P2000 LRV Modernization Contract, originally awarded in March 2017. Technical consultant support is required throughout the P2000 LRV Modernization warranty period to track the performance of 52 post-modernization vehicles. From the latest project schedule update, it is projected that the final modernized LRV will complete its warranty approximately Q1 2034. A firm end date cannot be set at this time, as the conclusion of the warranty period is dependent on when all warranty issues are satisfactorily resolved. Based on current projections, technical consultant support is expected to be required through June 30, 2034.

In addition, the project has experienced several unforeseen technical challenges that required significant additional effort, investigation, testing, development, and coordination. These included multiple fleet defects and warranty-related issues across multiple systems, as well as software and communications upgrades required to support operational readiness for the P2000 fleet on the A and C Lines.

Lastly, there have been delays in achieving Conditional Acceptance of the final LRVs, primarily due to the need for parts replacement and ongoing fault-finding and troubleshooting, which have continued to extend the project schedule and shift the warranty period.

BACKGROUND

At its March 2017 meeting, the Board approved the award of Contract No. PS20113000, a cost-plus, fixed fee contract to CH2M Hill, Inc. in the amount of $5,829,626 (base contract) for technical and program management services in support of the P2000 LRV Modernization Project. The base contract duration was five years. A no-cost contract modification was issued in February 2022, extending the base contract from March 2022 through September 2022.

At its September 2022 meeting, the Board approved extending project support activities by an additional $1,231,187.71, from October 1, 2022, through June 30, 2023. This contract modification was issued through June 2023 to align with anticipated project activities and Metro's fiscal year for project budgeting purposes.

At its May 2023 meeting, the Board approved extending project support activities by an additional $1,861,372.68 through June 30, 2024, with subsequent contract modifications within staff authority to extend the period of performance to December 31, 2025.

At its July 2025 meeting, the Board approved extending the project support activities for an additional $1,448,394.00 through June 30, 2026, with subsequent contract modifications within staff authority per Attachment B.

CH2M Hill Inc. currently provides staff support in the following disciplines, as directed by Metro:

- Project Management
- Systems Engineering
- Systems Integration
- Inspection & Testing Activities at LRV Production/Modernization Site
- LRV Commissioning and acceptance Activities
- Quality Assurance
- Document Control

All work and assignments are on an as-needed basis and directed by the Metro P2000 Project Team through issued Task Orders using fixed labor rates. The Consulting staff is managed daily by Metro's P2000 Project Manager. This requested increase to the NTE contract price is within the current P2000 LOP budget.

DISCUSSION

Findings

Since the subject contract was awarded in March 2017, CH2M Hill, Inc. has been providing Metro's Project Team with technical and program management support, including review of all technical documents, oversight of system and combined-system level integration efforts, witness of verification and validation tests, as well as inspection of workmanship at the corresponding Metro Divisions. The Project is now concluding the Conditional Acceptance phase, which enables the Modernized LRVs to enter revenue service (only two of the 52 total LRVs remain pending Conditionally Accepted).

The identification and resolution of fleet defects provide added value by improving fleet reliability, safety, maintainability, and long-term system performance, while ensuring the contractor addresses issues within their contractual responsibilities. The software updates will also ensure the P2000 fleet is ready for operations on the C and K Lines, supporting future fleet relocation plans aligned with Metro Management and Operations objectives.

The next phase includes the LRV's Reliability Demonstration, which measures the performance of the Conditionally Accepted LRVs in revenue service against contractual reliability targets. Also, the project will soon complete the LRV Final Acceptance and enter the warranty period.

Considerations

Approval of the recommendation modifies Contract No. PS20113000 to allow for continuation of technical and program management support on the P2000 LRV Modernization Project. Staff requires this project support to navigate and mitigate the remaining technical issues to achieve final acceptance and completion of the warranty period for 52 modernized P2000 LRVs, which is projected to end by June 2034.

This is an existing professional services support contract required to ensure continuity, seamless project execution, and completion of the LRV Modernization project. Approving the recommendation ensures the successful completion of the Overhaul/Midlife Modernization Project and ensures that technical issues are properly solved during the next project stages. This will help to provide accessible and affordable transportation for all who ride Metro's light rail system.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The approval of the additional NTE funds for the consultant services will ensure team continuity and maintain overall system safety, service quality, system reliability, maintainability, and customer satisfaction.

The P2000 LRV Modernization Project permits Metro to maintain the P2000 LRV fleet in a State of Good Repair (SGR).

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The requested new NTE contract price of $11,823,075.52is within the overall Board-approved project LOP budget of $180,853,926.

The Contract Price increase of $810,985.32 is included in Cost Center 3043, Rail Vehicle Acquisition, Account 50316, under project number CP 206044, P2000 LRV Overhaul Program.

Since this is a multi-year contract, the Cost Center Manager, Sr. Project Manager, and Sr. Executive Officer of Vehicle Acquisitions will be responsible for future fiscal-year budgeting.

Impact to Budget

The current budget for this action includes Proposition A 35% and Federal 5337. These funds are eligible for rail operating and capital projects.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The P2000 LRV Modernization Project enables the successful delivery of these vehicles on Metro's existing LRV lines. These lines serve many Equity Focus Communities (EFCs), including those in Downtown LA, Chinatown, Long Beach, LAX (including the Crenshaw and Aviation areas), Santa Monica, Foothills, etc., as these cars are modernized to run on all of Metro's existing LRV Lines. Having safe, reliable LRVs provides residents of EFCs with options, who are more likely to use public transit to commute seamlessly to work, school, and other opportunities.

CH2M Hill, Inc. (Jacobs Engineering Group) (CH2M) made a 24.81% Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) commitment on this task-order-based contract. However, the U.S. Department of Transportation has issued an Interim Final Rule that makes changes to the DBE Program, including the suspension of goals, counting participation, and enforcement effective October 3, 2025. While the DBE commitment is not a factor in the staff recommendation, three certified small businesses are participating in this contract.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through investment activities that will improve and further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, and active transportation. Metro's Board -adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

The recommendation supports strategic plan Goal #1.2 - Optimize the speed, reliability, and performance of the existing system by revitalizing and upgrading Metro's transit assets. The completion and rollout of the P2000 LRVs are state-of-the-art assets that will significantly improve the integrity of Metro's overall transit network.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may choose not to approve the recommendation for increasing the contract amount. This is not recommended, as critical project activities currently supported by consulting staff will be interrupted, directly impacting the overall project. These activities include, but are not limited to, witnessing commissioning tests for the last two LRVs, reviewing test reports, reviewing the Project Schedule, providing LRV commissioning acceptance, LRV reliability, and LRV warranty support. The Metro Project Team does not have the in-house resources to undertake all the necessary Project tasks as described.

Not approving the recommendation will also adversely affect the completion of the P2000 LRV Modernization Project due to the loss of the required resources provided under this Consulting Services contract. The potential adverse impacts may include compromised quality and SGR of the Modernized LRVs, and a reduction in the number of LRVs available for rollout to meet current passenger demand.

NEXT STEPS

Upon Board approval, staff will execute Contract Modification No. 34 to increase the contract NTE amount by $810,985.32 with CH2M Hill, Inc. to continue services.

A. Procurement Background

This Board Action is to approve Contract Modification No. 34 to increase the total authorized funding for Contract No. PS20113000, to CH2M Hill, Inc. for technical and program management support to Metro's P2000 Project Team on the P2000 LRV Midlife Modernization Project, in the Not-to-Exceed (NTE) amount of $810,985.32, increasing the Contract total from an NTE amount of $11,012,090.20, to an NTE amount of $11,823,075.52.

This Contract Modification will be processed in accordance with Metro's Acquisition Policy and the contract type is a cost plus fixed-fee.

On April 17, 2017, the Board awarded Contract No. PS20113000 to CH2M Hill, Inc.

for technical and program management support to Metro's P2000 Project Team on the P2000 LRV Midlife Modernization Project, in the total NTE amount of $5,829,626.00.

Contract Modification Nos. 1 through 33 were issued with staff delegated authority.

(Refer to Attachment B – Contract Modification/Change Order Log)

B. Cost/Price Analysis

The recommended cost plus fixed-fee price has been determined to be fair and reasonable based upon an Independent Cost Estimate (ICE), negotiations, and a technical evaluation. The negotiation of the NTE amount comprised of validation of CH2M and its subcontractor's current labor rates, audited labor overhead, travel and other direct costs, and a negotiated fixed fee. The approved labor rate for each consultant is based on a cost analysis, which has resulted in a fair and reasonable price determination.

Proposal Amount	Metro ICE	Negotiated Amount
$997,812.98	$819,249.00	$810,985.32

C. Contractor Information

CH2M is an engineering company that provides consulting, design, construction, and operation services for corporations and governments across the world. In 2017, it was acquired by Jacobs Engineering Group but kept its name for existing contracts. Under this Contract, they requested to keep CH2M. For Systems and Rolling Stock, they support bus and rail system projects with a focus on requirements definition, procurement, technical advisory services, modification designs, performance simulations, testing and commissioning efforts, condition assessments, manufacturer audits, maintenance optimization, and major overhaul and modification programs.

In addition to providing technical and program management support for the P2000 LRV Modernization Project, CH2M currently provides program management support for the P3010 LRV Project and is also one of the qualified consulting firms on Metro's Rail Vehicle Bench.

ISSUE & DISCUSSION

ISSUE

P2000 Midlife Modernization Project has experienced several unforeseen technical challenges that required significant additional effort, investigation, testing, development and coordination; technical challenges were notified to the P2000 Overhaul Contractor via multiple Fleet Defects and Warranty related issues involving multiple systems as well as software and communication upgrades. Therefore, key milestones have been delayed, such as: Conditional Acceptance of the last two LRV's, Final Acceptance and End of Warranty Period.

Consulting services are required through the listed key milestones to support readiness on the A and C Line.

Approval of the recommendation modifies Contract No. PS20113000 to allow continuation of technical and program management supports for the P2000 LRV Midlife Modernization Project. Metro staff requires these professional supports to navigate and mitigate the remaining technical issues to achieve final acceptance of P2000 LRVs and a successful warranty period. The Metro Project Team does not have the in-house resources to undertake the described support.

Based on current projections, consultant support is anticipated through June 30, 2034 (estimated date based on end of extended warranty on final LRV).

SUBJECT: HI RAIL SWING LOADERS

ACTION: AWARD CONTRACT

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to award a firm fixed price contract, Contract No. DR135489 for six swing loaders with hi-rail gears to SWNG Inc. (DBA Swingmaster), the lowest responsive and responsible bidder, for a total contract amount of $2,573,400, plus applicable California's use tax, subject to the resolution of any properly submitted protest(s), if any.

ISSUE

This procurement is for the replacement and expansion of Metro-owned and operated swing loaders utilized by the Maintenance of Way (MOW) department to support Rail revenue services. This specialized equipment ensures that track maintenance personnel have the reliable tools necessary to perform daily track maintenance and respond to emergencies throughout Los Angeles County.

Given ongoing rail expansion, this equipment is vital to meet system integration milestones, adhering to project timelines, and supporting future maintenance demands. Additionally, the equipment will be used to maintain Metro's rail tracks, ensuring full compliance with California Public Utility Commissions (CPUC) rules and regulations.

BACKGROUND

Swing loaders equipped with hi-rail gearing are highly versatile, specialized vehicles designed to operate both on highway roads and directly on rail tracks. They are the primary workhorses for MOW track crews, used to lift and replace heavy rail ties, clear track debris, distribute ballast, and perform critical rail welding and maintenance operations.

Currently, Metro's MOW department operates an aging fleet of swing loaders that have exceeded their useful life cycle, leading to increased maintenance downtime and higher repair costs. Replacing three of these legacy units is critical to avoiding service delays. Furthermore, with the ongoing expansion of Metro's rail network, including recent and upcoming extensions, three additional units are required to support the increased track mileage and keep pace with system integration milestones. MOW oversees 250 miles of main tracks and seven rail yards, with approximately 67 miles of tracks slated to be added in the near future.

DISCUSSION

Findings

Metro issued an Invitation for Bids (IFB) to secure heavy-duty, utility-grade track maintenance vehicles. Bids were evaluated based on technical compliance, delivery timelines, and cost. SWNG Inc. was determined to be the lowest responsive and responsible bidder meeting all of Metro's technical specifications. The procured units will feature updated emissions-compliant engines, improved cabin safety structures, and advanced hi-rail guidance systems to optimize crew safety and operational efficiency.

Considerations

Without these replacement and expansion units, Metro faces a high risk of operational bottlenecks. Legacy equipment failures directly lead to extended maintenance windows, which can delay morning rail rollouts and disrupt passenger service. Additionally, expanding the fleet by three units is the minimum operational threshold required to properly service the newly added track miles across the expanding system.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

Approval of this contract will have a direct, positive impact on safety standards across Metro’s rail network. Track geometry, rail wear, and track bed stability require daily monitoring and remediation. Providing MOW crews with reliable swing loaders ensures that track defects are repaired swiftly, reducing the risk of slow zones, rail damage, or derailments. Maintaining this equipment is essential to ensuring full compliance with the CPUC General Orders governing track safety.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

The recommended award of $2,573,400, plus applicable California’s use tax, is budgeted within the Life of Project (LOP) limits for Capital Project 205668, 208613, and 208614, under Cost Center 3960 and 3790, Account 53102, Acquisition of Equipment.

Impact to Budget

The current source of funds for this action is funding from the Transportation Development Act. These funds are eligible for use on Capital and Operating expenses. Allocating these funds to this effort maximizes project funding use given approved provisions and guidelines.

EQUITY PLATFORM

This action will provide the support equipment to ensure the system remains in a state of good repair. By deploying these assets throughout the rail service area (A, C, E, B/D, K Lines, and Monrovia Yard), MOW departments can enhance maintenance efficiency and improve service reliability as the system expands. Ensuring a state of good repair is crucial to the system’s safety and directly impacts our riders, particularly those in Equity Focus Communities who primarily rely on public transit to meet their daily needs.

The Diversity and Economic Opportunity Department did not establish a Small Business Enterprise) / Disabled Veteran Business Enterprise goal for this solicitation due to the lack of subcontracting opportunities.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through equipment purchase activities that will provide the essential maintenance machinery required to keep our rail lines safe, reliable, and operational. Metro's Board adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

This recommendation supports Strategic Plan Goal #1: Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling. By modernizing and expanding Metro's maintenance fleet, MOW can conduct track repairs faster and more reliably, directly minimizing transit delays, reducing unplanned system disruptions, and improving overall passenger ride quality.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

An alternative considered but not recommended is to lease the equipment. However, leasing introduces potential end-of-contract costs for wear and tear, body damage, and other liabilities, resulting in total expenses that exceed direct vehicle ownership. Furthermore, Metro would be unable to easily modify and reassign these highly specialized vehicles between different rail departments to meet distinct operational demands. This alternative would also lock Metro into a recurring contract cycle with the vendor, reducing long-term fleet flexibility. Therefore, leasing is not recommended.

NEXT STEPS

Following the execution of the contract, the vendor will place an order for the equipment and commence delivery upon receipt from the manufacturer. The delivery of all six swing loaders is scheduled for mid-year 2027.

OPERATIONS, SAFETY, AND CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: UNIFORM RENTAL SERVICES

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to execute Modification No. 2 to Contract No. OP44851-20008370 with Prudential Overall Supply for uniform rental services, to exercise the one, three-year option in the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) amount of $3,575,446, increasing the total contract NTE amount from $3,256,271 to $6,831,717, and extending the period of performance from December 1, 2026 to November 30, 2029.

ISSUE

The existing three-year base contract term expires on November 30, 2026. To avoid uniform rental services interruption, a contract modification is required to exercise the one, three-year option term, increasing the total contract NTE amount and extending the period of performance effective December 1, 2026.

BACKGROUND

At its October 2023 meeting, the Board awarded a firm fixed unit rate Contract No. OP44851-20008370 to Prudential Overall Supply to provide uniform rental and laundry services, vehicle seat covers and laundry services for hand towels and floor mats.

Timely uniform rental, delivery, and laundry services are necessary to ensure compliance with the collective bargaining agreements between Metro and Amalgamated Transit Union (ATU) labor unit, satisfy garment safety requirements for employees in safety-sensitive positions, and provide clear identification of Metro-represented labor employees across their respective trades. ATU represents the agencies mechanics, maintenance workers, and custodians. Pursuant to the applicable ATU collective bargaining agreements, Metro is required to provide each eligible employee with a standard issuance of 11 uniform sets, additional garments as necessary to meet safety requirements, and ongoing laundry services. Uniforms are issued based on job classification and/or safety requirements and include, but are not limited to, short and long sleeve shirts, coveralls, and flame-resistant garments.

Under the existing contract, the contractor has been providing satisfactory uniform rental services.

DISCUSSION

During the base term of the contract, uniform rental services were expanded to support an additional 417 employees hired to maintain the K Line (C/LAX), Regional Connector, Rail to Rail, LAX/MTC, and A Line (Blue) Extension to Pomona projects. As a result, the total number of employees receiving uniform rental services increased from 2,546 to 2,963, reflecting the growth of Metro's transit system and the associated workforce.

Staff continues to work closely with the ATU representatives and employees to ensure delivery of timely and quality services. Under this contract, continued enhancements include but are not limited to, replacing damaged lockers, posting signs throughout Metro facilities to improve employee awareness of the scheduled uniform pick-up dates, along with ongoing oversight of the contractor's performance and service delivery, and maintaining effective communications among all parties to ensure quality and timely service delivery.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The approval of this item will ensure the supply of uniforms that clearly identify Metro represented labor employees and continued delivery of safe, quality, on-time and reliable services system-wide.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Funding of $747,950 for uniform rental services for the remainder of FY27 is allocated under cost center 8370 - Facilities Contracted Maintenance Services, account 50308, Service Contract Maintenance, under various projects.

Since this is a multi-year contract, the cost center manager and Deputy Chief Operations Officer, Shared Mobility, will be accountable for budgeting the cost in FY27 and future years.

Impact to Budget

The current sources of funds for this action are local funds, which are eligible for rail and bus operations and capital projects.

EQUITY PLATFORM

Contracted uniform rental and laundry services will continue to be applied across all Metro divisions, facilities, and locations, ensuring that all represented labor employees are issued uniforms based on their job classification and the type of work they perform.

The contract provides all eligible employees with access to clean, properly fitted, and job-compliant uniforms that support their health, safety, and professional appearance, particularly for those working in safety-sensitive positions. By maintaining a diverse inventory that includes flame-resistant garments, female-cut uniforms, and pregnancy stretch pants, the contract ensures that Metro's diverse workforce is provided with the specialized, high-quality protective apparel required for each employee's job classifications. This approach promotes equitable access to required uniforms while maintaining consistent safety standards and compliance with applicable collective bargaining agreements.

At the time of award of this contract, Prudential Overall Supply did not make a Small Business Enterprise /Disabled Veteran Business Enterprise commitment due to the lack of certified firms that perform the required services. It is expected that Prudential Overall Supply will continue to perform the services with its own workforce.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as it provides reliable uniform rental and laundry services for employees performing operational and maintenance functions supporting workforce readiness, safety, and the continued delivery of reliable bus and rail services. Maintaining a safe and dependable transit system encourages continued transit use and supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

This Board action supports Strategic Goal 5: Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the Metro organization. By providing uniforms to represented employees, Metro is in compliance with the Collective Bargaining Unit agreements.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may elect not to approve this recommendation. This option is not recommended as it would result in a gap in service, impacting Metro's agreements with collective bargaining units, employee safety, cleanliness, operations, and customer experience.

With the completion of financial based insourcing/outsourcing study based on quantitative and qualitative assessment, staff has analyzed insourcing/outsourcing options for uniform rental services, and considered purchasing uniforms, hand towels, mats, and vehicle seat covers, along with providing in-house laundry services. Based on the findings uniform rental services were not recommended for insourcing as it would require Metro to renegotiate the existing agreements between Metro and the collective bargaining units, remove the requirement for uniform rental services, along with the purchase of a large quantity of garments, additional equipment, vehicles, and supplies to provide uniforms.

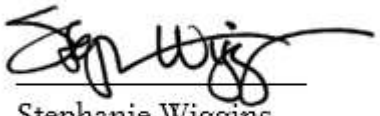
NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval, staff will execute Modification No. 2 to Contract No. OP44851-20008370 to exercise the one, three-year option for uniform rental and laundry services.

A. Procurement Background

This Board Action is to approve Contract Modification No. 2 to exercise the one, three-year option in the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) amount of $3,575,446, increasing the total contract NTE amount from $3,256,271 to $6,831,717, and extending the period of performance from December 1, 2026 to November 30, 2029.

This contract modification will be processed in accordance with Metro's Acquisition Policy and the contract type is a firm fixed unit rate.

On October 26, 2023, the Metro Board of Directors authorized the award of a firm fixed unit rate Contract No. OP44851-20008370 to Prudential Overall Supply to provide uniform rental and laundry services, vehicle seat covers and laundry services for hand towels and floor mats.

Refer to Attachment B – Contract Modification/Change Order Log.

B. Cost/Price Analysis

The recommended price of the option has been determined to be fair and reasonable based upon firm fixed unit rates that were established as part of the original contract and a subsequent assessment of current market pricing. The option pricing is more favorable as there have been increases in the labor rates and the cost of materials to perform the services. Therefore, exercising the option is in the best interest of Metro. The contract was a result of a competitive IFB in which the option pricing was evaluated.

OPERATIONS, SAFETY, AND CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: STAINLESS STEEL ANTI-GRAFFITI FILM INSTALLATION AND REPLACEMENT SERVICES REGIONS 1 THROUGH 3

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to execute Modification No. 4 to Contract No. OP964830008370 with Graffiti Shield, Inc. for stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services for Regions 1, 2, and 3, to exercise the first one-year option in the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) amount of $5,737,859, increasing the total NTE contract amount from $15,722,845 to $21,460,704, and extending the period of performance from December 1, 2026, to November 30, 2027.

ISSUE

The existing three-year base contract term expires on November 30, 2026. To avoid stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services interruption, a contract modification is required to exercise option year one and extend the period of performance effective December 1, 2026.

BACKGROUND

At its September 2023 meeting, the Board awarded a firm fixed unit rate contract, Contract No. OP964830008370, for Regions 1, 2, and 3 combined, to Graffiti Shield, Inc. to provide monthly and as-needed stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services systemwide.

The stainless steel anti-graffiti film was developed in 2012 exclusively for Metro's use to improve the overall condition of Metro facilities and mitigate vandalism on stainless steel surfaces. Under the existing contract, the contractor performs required inspections at bus and rail facilities systemwide and has replaced an average of 900,000 square feet of vandalized stainless steel film annually. These services have helped ensure that Metro facilities remained clean, well maintained, and free of graffiti and vandalism.

Under the existing contract, the contractor has provided satisfactory stainless steel film installation and replacement services.

DISCUSSION

During the base term of the contract, stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services were expanded to include the A-Line Foothill Extension Phase 2, D-Line (Purple) Extension Phase I, and K-Line Crenshaw/LAX, including the LAX/Metro Transit Center (MTC), increasing stainless-steel panel surfaces from approximately 200,000 sq. ft. to 285,929 sq. ft. systemwide. During option year one, the existing contract scope of services will further expand to include D-Line (Purple) Extension Phase II.

Under this contract, the contractor will continue to perform routine monthly and as-needed inspections of the stainless steel anti-graffiti film installed systemwide, ensuring 100% replacement of all vandalized stainless steel anti-graffiti film. Continuity of these services is critical to protect Metro's assets and mitigate extended elevator downtime due to vandalized stainless steel surfaces that compromise their integrity with repeated severe etching and engraving requiring costly repair and replacement, and to ensure compliance with ADA requirements and accessibility to Metro's transit system.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

The approval of this item will ensure the delivery of timely and reliable stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services, while improving Metro bus and rail stations' overall appearance and cleanliness, and enhancing customers' experience.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

Funding of $2,537,500 for stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services for the remainder of FY27 is allocated under cost center 8370 - Facilities Contracted Maintenance Services, account 50308, Service Contract Maintenance, under various projects.

Since this is a multi-year contract, the cost center manager and Deputy Chief Operations Officer, Shared Mobility, will be accountable for budgeting the cost in FY27 and future years.

Impact to Budget

The current source of funds for this action are local funds, which are eligible for rail operations and capital projects.

EQUITY PLATFORM

This contracted stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and maintenance service supports equity by helping ensure that all Metro Rail and Bus stations remain clean, safe, and welcoming for all riders. Timely removal and replacement of anti-graffiti film on stainless-steel panel surfaces also preserve the appearance and functionality of station infrastructure while minimizing service disruptions allowing elevators to remain operational, reliable, and accessible for people with disabilities, older adults, and other riders who depend on them, contributing to a safe and dependable transit environment for all patrons. Prolonged elevator outages resulting from vandalized stainless-steel surfaces can delay trips, disrupt travel, and create accessibility challenges for customers who rely on elevators to complete their journeys. During these outages, Rail Operations must arrange alternate transportation through Access Services, which increases travel times, limits convenient access to Metro's transit system, and negatively affects the overall customer experience.

Graffiti Shield, Inc., an SBE, made a 97% SBE commitment and 3% Disabled Veterans Business Enterprise (DVBE) commitment as the prime contractor for Regions 1, 2, and 3 combined. The current level of SBE and DVBE participation is 97% SBE and 3% DVBE, meeting the SBE/DVBE commitment.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. While this item does not directly encourage taking transit, sharing a ride, or using active transportation, it is a vital part of Metro operations, as it will maintain and protect Metro assets from vandalism and service disruption. Because the Metro Board has adopted an agency-wide VMT Reduction Target, and this item supports the overall function of the agency, this item is consistent with the goals of reducing VMT.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

This Board action supports Strategic Goal 5: Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the Metro organization. Performing on-going stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services contributes to facilities' overall cleanliness and will ensure providing a safe, clean environment for our patrons, service reliability, and enhancing customers' overall experience.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may elect not to approve this recommendation. This option is not recommended as it would result in a gap in service impacting Metro's system safety, cleanliness, and customer experience.

With the completion of financial based insourcing/outsourcing study based on quantitative and qualitative assessment, staff has analyzed insourcing/outsourcing options for stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services among other services. Based on the preliminary findings, stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services may be considered for insourcing. Based on further evaluation, if the detailed assessment and planning phase reveals that continued outsourcing offers greater long-term cost-effectiveness, staff will re-evaluate the recommendation before final implementation.

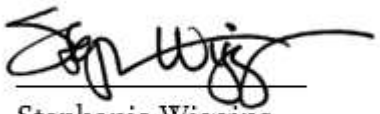
NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval, staff will execute Modification No. 4 to Contract No. OP964830008370 to exercise the first one-year option for continued stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services for Regions 1, 2, and 3.

A. Procurement Background

This Board Action is to approve Contract Modification No. 4 to exercise a one-year option, in an amount Not-To-Exceed (NTE) $5,737,859 increasing the total NTE amount from $15,722,845 to $21,460,704.

This contract modification will be processed in accordance with Metro's Acquisition Policy and the contract type is a firm fixed unit rate.

On September 28, 2023, the Metro Board of Directors authorized the award of a firm fixed unit rate Contract No. OP964830008370 to Graffiti Shield, Inc., to provide stainless steel anti-graffiti film installation and replacement services systemwide inclusive of a three-year base period and two one-year options.

Refer to Attachment B – Contract Modification/Change Order Log.

B. Cost/Price Analysis

The recommended price of the option has been determined to be fair and reasonable based upon firm fixed unit rates that were established as part of the original contract and a subsequent assessment of current market pricing. The option pricing is more favorable as there have been increases in the labor rates and the cost of materials that would be required to perform the services. Therefore, exercising the option is in the best interest of Metro. The contract was a result of a competitive IFB in which the option year pricing was evaluated.

ISSUE

The existing three-year base contract term expires on November 30, 2026. To avoid stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services interruption, a contract modification is required to exercise option year one and extend the period of performance effective December 1, 2026.

DISCUSSION

During the base term of the contract, stainless steel anti-graffiti film replacement and maintenance services were expanded to include the A-Line Foothill Extension Phase 2, D-Line (Purple) Extension Phase I, and K-Line Crenshaw/LAX, including the LAX/Metro Transit Center (MTC), increasing stainless-steel panel surfaces from approximately 200,000 sq. ft. to 285,929 sq. ft. systemwide. During option year one, the existing contract scope of services will further expand to include D-Line (Purple) Extension Phase II.

ISSUE & DISCUSSION

DISCUSSION (Continued…)

Under this contract, the contractor will continue to perform routine monthly and as-needed inspections of the stainless steel anti-graffiti film installed systemwide, ensuring 100% replacement of all vandalized stainless steel anti-graffiti film. Continuity of these services is critical to protect Metro's assets and mitigate extended elevator downtime due to vandalized stainless steel surfaces that compromise their integrity with repeated severe etching and engraving requiring costly repair and replacement, and to ensure compliance with ADA requirements and accessibility to Metro's transit system.

OPERATIONS, SAFETY, AND CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: METRO C-LINE TRACTION POWER SUBSTATION (TPSS) REPLACEMENT PROJECT

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer to increase the Life of Project Budget (LOP) for the Project 205670 - Metro C Line Traction Power Substations Replacement by $63,000,000 increasing the Life of Project from $98,500,000 to $161,500,000.

ISSUE

The original C Line Traction Power Substations (TPSS) are approximately 31 years old and are nearing the end of useful lives. Although the TPSS remain operational, they require increasing maintenance and repairs, and critical spare parts that are no longer manufactured or readily available in the commercial market. Due to the age of the TPSS, growing maintenance needs, and limited availability of replacement parts, the TPSS must be replaced. In addition, the scope was expanded to include additional requirements critical to the TPSS installation. As a result, the existing LOP budget is insufficient to award the TPSS replacement contract; therefore, an LOP increase is required for project delivery.

BACKGROUND

The original C Line TPSS provides electrical power to trains operating on 18 miles of railroad along the I-105 freeway corridor between Redondo Beach Station and Norwalk Station. The TPSS were constructed in 1990 and began revenue service in 1995. As the equipment ages, its efficiency declines, increasing electrical energy usage and reduces reliability.

Many TPSS parts are no longer manufactured and require custom fabrication to maintain TPSS in service. In addition, the Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM), Siemens, no longer provides technical maintenance support for the existing TPSS because of their age. The project is to replace aging substations with new energy-efficient TPSS to improve reliability and efficiency of electrical power for train operations.

The original engineering independent cost estimate, developed in 2024, was based on a Scope of Work (SOW) limited to replacing 18 TPSS units using 2024 market prices for materials, labor, and manufacturing. A procurement package was initially prepared in 2024 for a design-build contract delivery method. However, the project scope of work was reassessed to address additional changes needed. The changes applied to the high voltage electrical cables, OCS electrical isolation switches, and substations electrical isolation switches. As a result, the TPSS design and specifications were brought in-house to develop in 2025 to incorporate those changes and transition the procurement to a design-bid-build delivery method. Since the original procurement package was developed, material, labor, and manufacturing costs have increased. The upgrades are intended to improve energy efficiency and reliability by providing remote monitoring alarms for predictive maintenance and are expected to have a service life of 31 years.

DISCUSSION

The original Metro C-Line TPSS are existing facilities and provide traction power to trains operating on the original C-Line. The project involves design, manufacture, construction, removal, and installation of new TPSS equipment that provides traction power to the Metro C Line train operations. These substations are critical to the operation of the rail line and include the installation of the latest TPSS technology to improve efficiency and energy usage. The project is scheduled to begin construction in 2026 and continue through 2030.

A $161,500,000.00 budget need has been determined based on the project scope. The increase in the Life of Project (LOP) budget reflects both market escalation and additional project scope requirements. The additional project scope was identified through continued design development and a more detailed assessment of the existing system conditions. These requirements were not fully known when the original LOP and cost estimate were developed. As the design progressed, additional requirement needs were identified as necessary to support the reliability of TPSS system. The additional project scope is expanded to include, (1) necessary replacement of the more than 69,000 feet of positive and negative feeder cables due to the age and poor condition of the existing cable system and associated connections; (2) the installation of new Traction Power Positive Isolation Switches to improve electrical safety for maintenance workers and (3) the replacement Overhead Catenary System (OCS) isolation switches to improve single tracking operations.

Inclusion of this additional scope now also minimizes interruption of train operations so that train operations will not be impacted twice (once for TPSS replacement and another time for high voltage cables and high voltage switches). The trend for labor and raw materials had been increasing every year and possible it would cost more if we replace in near future. In addition, substations are only part of the electrification system, and it is more beneficial to replace all electrification systems at once so the agency can save labor cost, bus bridges cost and minimize interruption to customers.

The increase in the LOP budget is attributable to the three additional scope requirements mentioned above, as well as significant increases in construction labor, materials, electrical and traction power equipment costs, supply chain constraints, extended manufacturer lead times, and increased contractor pricing driven by a competitive infrastructure market.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

In accordance with Metro's State of Good Repair (SGR) requirements and Transit Asset Management (TAM) Plan, the original C-Line TPSS equipment is reaching the end of its useful life and must be replaced promptly to comply with safety and reliability standards. Replacement of the TPSS equipment will enhance safety, improve electricity usage, and ensure reliable power delivery to Light Rail Vehicles (LRVs) on the Metro C Line.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

This action will increase the LOP budget for capital project 205670 - Metro C Line Traction Power Substation Replacement, adjusting it from $98,500,000.00 to $161,500,000.00. $4,168,061.00 is included in the FY27 budget.

Since this is a multi-year project, the Project Manager will ensure that the balance of the funds is budgeted in future fiscal years.

Impact to Budget

The current source of funds for this action is Proposition A 35%, which is eligible for rail operations and Capital Projects. Use of Federal, State, and other local funding sources currently maximizes funding allocations given approved funding provisions and guidelines.

EQUITY PLATFORM

The C Line TPSS units are located along the I-105 freeway throughout Los Angeles County, including within Equity Focus Communities (EFCs) in Norwalk, Downey, Paramount, Lynwood, Rancho Dominguez, Willowbrook, Athens, Westmont, Lennox, and Hawthorne. The primary users of the C Line originate from very low-income households and lack access to personal vehicles. The C Line also serves as a vital transfer point to multiple bus and rail lines, supporting the mobility of workers, students, and residents. Replacing the TPSS units will enhance transportation reliability and efficiency, directly benefiting these riders.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit. * Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. This item supports Metro's systemwide strategy to reduce VMT through capital improvement investments to replace the Metro C Line Traction Power Substations. These capital improvement investments further encourage transit ridership, ridesharing, and active transportation. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

*Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

Approval of this Board Action supports the following Metro Strategic Plan Goals:

Goal # 1 Provide high-quality mobility options that enable people to spend less time traveling.

Goal # 2 Deliver outstanding trip experiences for all users of the transportation system.

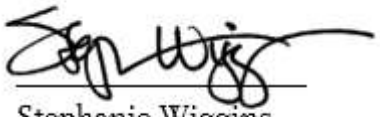
Goal # 3 Enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.

This project helps maintain system service, reliability and safety standards to provide a world-class transportation system that enhances the quality of life for all who live, work, and play within Los Angeles County.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

Staff considered not replacing the original C Line TPSS's, but this is not recommended. The existing TPSS equipment was installed during the construction of the original C Line, which began revenue service in 1995. The TPSS equipment is 31 years old and is reaching the end of its useful life and must be replaced to comply with reliability standards. Not replacing this equipment would negatively impact rail operations and result in reliability service interruptions. If this LOP increase is not approved a contract cannot complete all enhancements for the replacement of the original C Line TPSS, which would result in increased risk of service disruptions. Metro would continue to rely on aging TPSS and that would become challenging to maintain for proper operation.

NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval of the requested LOP increase, Operations - Infrastructure Maintenance and Engineering will proceed with the project scope and delivery.

OPERATIONS, SAFETY, AND CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE COMMITTEE
SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

SUBJECT: METRO BIKE SHARE

ACTION: APPROVE RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDATION

AUTHORIZE the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to execute Modification No. 25 to Contract No. PS272680011357 with Bicycle Transit Systems, Inc., DBA Revolution, to implement and support the grant funded expansion of the Metro Bike Share (MBS) system in the Not-To-Exceed (NTE) amount of $7,550,000, increasing the total contract value from $139,830,029 to $147,380,029.

ISSUE

MBS was awarded a State funded Regional Early Action Planning Grant (REAP 2.0) in the amount of $7,550,000, and the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG), who administers the grant program within their region, has set a September 30, 2026, deadline for Metro to take action or risk the rescinding of the funds. To ensure Metro meets the deadline and retains the REAP grant funds, contract action is needed to authorize the expansion of MBS.

BACKGROUND

MBS launched in July 2016 in partnership with the City of Los Angeles. MBS is currently comprised of 225 stations located in Downtown/Central Los Angeles, Hollywood, Westside, and North Hollywood. MBS operates up to 1,800 on-street bikes (actual numbers vary depending upon inventory, equipment maintenance and bike availability) of which approximately 10% - 15% are Class 1 pedal assist e-bikes. In 2025, over 430,000 trips were taken, representing 1.5 million miles traveled, and 1.5 million pounds of CO2 averted.

SCAG oversees REAP 2.0 grants under the County Transportation Commission (CTC) Partnership Program. REAP 2.0 grants are funds from the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) administered by the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) to reduce vehicle miles traveled (VMT) and advance equity in Southern California.

DISCUSSION

Metro is the recipient of a REAP 2.0 grant for the MBS program in the amount of $7,550,000. This recommendation is to ensure that Metro retains the REAP funds and expands MBS to provide contiguous service between the Downtown/Central Los Angeles service area and two other service areas. The REAP funds will enable MBS to expand coverage to address two service area gaps:

1) Service gap between the Downtown/Central and the Westside service areas. This gap is approximately 8 miles wide from Wilshire Bl. & Western Ave. to Wilshire Bl. & Westwood Bl. MBS has taken initial steps to address this gap by relocating existing stations to the three new D-Line stations; however, additional stations are needed to adequately cover this area.

2) Service gap between Downtown and MBS stations located along the Rail-to-Rail active transportation corridor on Slauson Ave. in South Los Angeles. This gap is approximately 1.5 miles from Figueroa St. & Martin Luther King Jr. Bl. to Figueroa St. & Slauson Ave. MBS currently has 5 stations along the Rail-to-Rail corridor from Compton Ave. to Denker Ave. and this expansion will improve the connectivity of these five stations to Exposition Park, USC and the rest of the Downtown/Central service area.

The expansion will consist of 60 stations and between 600 and 650 on-street Class 1 pedal-assisted e-bikes. It is anticipated that 40 stations will be deployed to support the Downtown/Central and Westside service area gap and 20 stations will be used to cover the Downtown to Rail-to-Rail Slauson Ave. service gap.

DETERMINATION OF SAFETY IMPACT

There is no adverse safety impact by approving this recommendation.

FINANCIAL IMPACT

REAP grant funding in the amount of $7,550,000 will fully cover the cost of this action.

Funding for MBS is included in the FY27 budget in cost center 4540, project number 210186 and project name “4540 MBS Equipment and Expansion”.

Impact to Budget

Funding for this action is REAP 2.0 grant funds that are not eligible for bus and rail operations.

EQUITY PLATFORM

In support of this action, Metro along with four community-based organizations, BikeLA, Los Angeles Walks, Walk n’ Rollers and CicLAvia, conducted a variety of outreach events to introduce and support the potential expansion. Events included participation at various CicLAvia and other open street events, project meetings and other community-based events. Activities included bike rides, bike safety and education, general MBS information distribution, and the ability of community members to suggest possible MBS station locations. Overall community engagement was positive. More than 50 events were held in different neighborhoods including West Adams, Koreatown, Pico-Union, Westwood and South LA resulting in more than 3,500 engagements. One of the main barriers to using MBS expressed during the events was not having nearby stations. Expanding in these areas will address this barrier and provide the community with access to MBS.

This modification will allow Metro to provide service to those who live and work in Equity Focus Communities (EFCs) in the new expansion areas and will enhance MBS connectivity between the Downtown/Central LA and South LA as well as the Westside service areas. Currently, 48% of existing MBS stations are located in EFCs, and generate approximately 41% of all trips. The geographic footprint of this expansion area is estimated to be comprised of 52% EFC.

VEHICLE MILES TRAVELED OUTCOME

VMT and VMT per capita in Los Angeles County are lower than national averages, the lowest in the SCAG region, and on the lower end of VMT per capita statewide, with these declining VMT trends due in part to Metro's significant investment in rail and bus transit.* Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets align with California's statewide climate goals, including achieving carbon neutrality by 2045. To ensure continued progress, all Board items are assessed for their potential impact on VMT.

As part of these ongoing efforts, this item is expected to contribute to further reductions in VMT. Metro conducted a preliminary analysis to show that the net effect of this item is to decrease VMT through investment activities that will improve and further encourage active transportation. To date, more than 10.0 million miles have been traveled by MBS users, which represents a minimum reduction of approximately 2.4 million Vehicle Miles Traveled since the 2025 MBS survey results show that approximately 24% of users would have driven their personal vehicles or used a taxi or equivalent vehicle to complete their travel if not for Metro Bike Share. Enabling MBS to expand service will constitute further decreases in VMT. Metro's Board-adopted VMT reduction targets were designed to build on the success of existing investments, and this item aligns with those objectives.

* Based on population estimates from the United States Census and VMT estimates from Caltrans' Highway Performance Monitoring System (HPMS) data between 2001-2019.

IMPLEMENTATION OF STRATEGIC PLAN GOALS

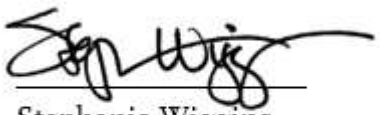
MBS program supports the following Vision 2028 Strategic Plan Goals:

1. Provide a high-quality mobility option that enables people to spend less time traveling.
2. Deliver an outstanding trip experience for all users of the transportation system.
3. Enhance communities and lives through mobility and access to opportunity.
4. Transform LA County through regional collaboration and national leadership.
5. Provide responsive, accountable, and trustworthy governance within the organization.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

The Board may choose not to authorize the requested action. This alternative is not recommended, as it would result in the loss of $7.55M in REAP 2.0 funds.

NEXT STEPS



Upon Board approval, staff will execute Modification No. 25 to Contract No. PS272680011357 with Bicycle Transit Systems, Inc., DBA Revolution.

The Living Wage and Service Contract Worker Retention Policy is not applicable to this modification.

C. Prevailing Wage Applicability

Prevailing wage is not applicable to this modification.
